SILER CITY

The Round Dozen Club gave an all widows program at Evans Church Sunday afternoon. It was enjoyed by all present. The fund was donated to the church.

The rally which has been in progress for some months, closed at the First Baptist Church Sunday. All captivities reported Mrs. Cora Woodcock exceeding her goal and after Edna Harten reaching her goal of one hundred dollars. The Community Singers rendered a program for the closing of the rally.

Friends of Mrs. Almata Boone and Rev. George Farrow are glad to hear that they are better. Mrs. Maud McClain has returned from spending some time with her sister in Washington, D. C. She reported having a delightful time.

Mrs. Carrie Glover is spending some time with her daughters, Mrs. Cassie Meredith and Mrs. Ruth Stubbs at Norfolk, Va.

The Junior Class of Chatham County Training School entertained the Senior Class, faculties, alumnae and guests with a delightful program Friday night, April 27, with Ike Oze's orchestra furnishing the music. During the intermission the Junior and Senior Class entertained the guests with a grand march which was very impressive. The president made a short speech to the senior class, and faculties and friends. The seniors responded to the speech in union after the president of the senior class gave a word of thanks.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Clinton Bag Dark, age 34, who died Monday morning after several months illness.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Pearl Davis; four children, the sister Mrs. Cora Alton, two brothers, Charles Dark and Sam Dark all of Siler City.

Mrs. Cora Alton of A. and T. College spent the week end at home with her parents.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM SUCCESS

Bedecked in all the tulle and bows and formality that goes with a elaborate occasion the Juniors and Seniors of CCTS and their guests came on at the annual prom here Thursday.

The stage and auditorium were a profusion of multicolored flowers, the stage was decorated as a flowery garden with lattice front. The selected program at the appointed hour all dither with excitement and festivities set under way promptly with the first strains of music by the Jordan Strains Rhythmets featuring vocalist, June Richmond and directed by W. C. Cornwell.

The mistress of ceremony was Thelma Ingram, who introduced Maude Baynes who gave the welcome remarks for the Junior class, while Swain responded for the seniors.

Junior Clarie Lee, Thelma Ingram and Laura Lee tried "My Happiness" which was followed by a Buckle-Buck Chorus routine by "The Junettes" Effie Walker, Inez Brandon, Laura Lee, Pearl Barnett, Agnes Swain, Bettie Lipscomb, Joyce Chandler, Zelma Slade, Robert Willis obliged with a piano solo and Inez Brandon followed with an effort tonorially "It Always Be In Love With You."

Senior class officers are: president, Emmett Lee; vice president, Lillie Stadler; secretary, Annie Frazier; (salutatorian); treasurer, Willie Lowmick. The class colors are blue and gold. The class flower is a red rose. The class motto is "For Those Who Labor... the Harvest."

GOVERNOR PRAISES RURAL HOMEMAKERS

North Carolina's 59,835 home demonstration club members were congratulated this week by Governor Scott upon the remarkable development they have brought about in rural life of the State through improved home and community living.

Greeting the club women as they began their observance of National Home Demonstration Week, May 1-7, Governor Scott said: "In your home, 'Today's Home Builders Tomorrow's World' you have founded a ringing challenge, because upon the home rests the primary responsibility for developing the citizens of tomorrow."

Scott's statement follows: "The 59,835 Home Demonstration Club Members in North Carolina.

"It is a privilege to greet you as you observe National Home Demonstration Week, May 1-7. In your home, 'Today's Home Builders Tomorrow's World' you have founded a ringing challenge, because upon the home rests the primary responsibility for developing the citizens of tomorrow."

"As Home Demonstration Club Members, you have already brought back a remarkable development in the rural life of our State through improved home and community living.

"During this week you will not only participate in programs calling attention to the progress made in family living, but you will discuss problems facing today's homes. Some of these problems are in the field of health, housing, nutrition; others will concern the community such as roads, telephones, education, electrification. The solution of these problems requires concerted action.

"I am sure the observance of National Home Demonstration Week will prove of great value in carrying out your program for better living and a greater North Carolina."

Farmers To Observe Farm Safety Week

North Carolina farmers are asked to join thousands of others throughout the Nation this year in observance of National Farm Safety Week, July 24-30. The theme of the week, according to H. M. Ellis, in charge of extension agricultural engineering at State College, will be the elimination of unsafe practices.

Recent studies, Mr. Ellis says, reveal that unsafe practices continue to be the leading cause of accidents to farm people. A special survey conducted by the National

Timely Farm Hints For The Homemakers

RUTH CURRENT

State Home Demonstration Agent No. 75 if you are seeking information on how to measure hardwoods

Please give prevention and treatment measures for coecidiosis.

A great deal of coecidiosis occurs in poultry flocks during May because there is usually much damp weather at that time of year.

To prevent this disease, avoid crowding. Clean house often and keep litter dry. Place water and feed containers on wire platforms. Keep young stock on clean range not inhabited by other birds; move shelters and clean area once a month. An early diagnosis and prompt action are essential to a successful control program. Medication should be used only as an aid to sanitary measures and good management.

Shoes with high heels and flip-flopped slippers may "tip" the morning's hoar frost but may also tip you down. Avoid the stairs and quick way. And the increase in nerve strain and fatigue on the wear of shoes with little support and a proportion of unusable and unclean shoes.

To hold the sweetness, the gear must be kept in a cool place after picking until carried or put in a freezer maker.

Since nearly half of the home fatalities are due to falls, safe shoes should be essential in every wardrobe. Shoes needing sole repair, heels built up, or new shoes placed by apt to cause falls. Wedges provide less sure grip on rugs and stairs than do shoes designed with low heel, a good arch, and non-skid soles.

Safety pins that might open under the touch of a youngster's fingers were never intended for dress fasteners. Regular care of your clothes will prevent the need for pins.

STATE COLLEGE ANSWERS TIMELY QUESTIONS

Where can I get information on how to estimate my timber?
The State College Extension Service has just published two small booklets, "Hardy Tables for Measuring Farm Timber." Either of these will be of valuable help to a farmer in determining how much timber he has before selling. Each folder contains tables which can be used for measuring either standing trees, sawlogs, or pulpwood. Copies of these publications may be obtained from the local county agent or by writing to the Agricultural Editor, State College Station, Raleigh. Ask for Extension Folder No. 74 if you plan to measure.
