FAIRMONT NOTES

Richard Thompson, well known citizen of this town, departed this life very quietly on Sunday, May 1, 1949. He died at his home, 124 Phillips Street, about four o'clock p.m.

Mr. Thompson was born in Roland, N. C. on January 26, 1869. He came to Fairmont in 1921 where he has lived since that time. Mr. Thompson, who was known to everyone as "Mr. Rich" was liked by everyone for he was always kind and broadminded and was interested in the welfare of others.

In 1910, Mr. Thompson joined the Masons' Lodge and remained an active member until the date of his death. For ten years he has served as Tiler of Gaza No. 427. In all probabilities Mr. Thompson was the oldest member in his branch of the organization.

During the earlier part of this year Mr. Thompson was stricken with a serious attack of pneumonia which he overcame after a prolonged illness. He was affected somewhat by this attack but he was up and about and pruned all the trees as if to put the finishing touch on all that was his. He held a steady job until November, 1948 and was always on the job at the proper time.

Surviving the deceased are: his wife, S. Caroline Thompson; four sons, Frank, Vernie, Earnest, Wilbert; five daughters: Lila, Annie, Irene, Mary Kate and Sara Eva; forty-two grand children, eight grand-grandchildren, a host of relatives and friends.

Thompson was a member of the Hazel Grove Baptist Church in Roland and the funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church here in Fairmont on Thursday, May 5 at two o'clock p.m.

The Fairmont Greys were again defeated when they lost a game to the Roland Baseball team last Wednesday, April 27. The game was played in Roland and the score was 6-5. A return game will be played here on Wednesday, May 4.

Walter Howell and Miss Elfrotine Smith were week end and Junior-Senior prom guests in Beaufort, N. C. Howell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howell and Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Smith all of Madison St.

A Tom Thumb wedding with a double ceremony was presented by the seventh grade class on Wednesday, April 27, in the Roseveld Gymnasium. The setting was one of the country and the affair proved to be a success. Immediately before the ceremony, the ushers and "I Love You Truly" and the Flower Girls Sang "The Dance of Your Wedding." The "brides" were Gloria Ford and Joan Blondell Lewis, "Grooms" were James E. Malloy, Jr. and T. J. Livingston. Minister, Macio Smith.

Ushers were; Crosby Inman, Thomas McCormick, Luther Thompson, Chadbey Smith, Richard Granger, Croxton Gerald, Franklin Gerald, James Small, Daniel Worley, Archie Thompson, Sylvester Rowland, Albert Worley, Gerald Hizer, Roosevelt Dortch, John Fuller, Wilmer Hill, Grady Jones and French Lennon. The Seventh Grade teacher is Mrs. Huston Ford.

Garden Club To Beautify Library Yard

The Flower Garden Club has as one of its projects the beautification of the Richard B. Harrison Public Library yard.

Last week the following green plants were planted on the north side of the library, baptisia, ophiopogon, siberian iris, hairy balsam, feverfew, rudbeckia, salvia royal blue, spirea, tritoma, and funkia subcordata.

These perennials will begin blooming in August and will bloom throughout the fall. Thus, providing the library with flowers for many years to come. Louis Davis of the Tuners Florist Co. secured and planted the flowers without charge or profit.

It is the desire of the club that the library will have blooming flowers so that the patrons of the library may enjoy their beauty in the reading rooms.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Gladys Sherrill, president; Mrs. Ada White, vice president and Mrs. Sarah Massenburg, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Mabel Young was chairman of the library project.

LOTS OF HUSH HUSH ABOUT COMMITTEE ON EQUAITY IN ARMY

BY ALICE A. DUNNIGAN

WASHINGTON (ANP) — "It's a military secret," that is an expression used so frequently during the war years that it became a byword in the lips of most Americans. To the everyday civilian it became a slang, but to the soldier it became a part and parcel of his army existence. It became such an integral part of the war department, that even now during peace time, the army still moves very secretly.

Although it is reported that the President's Committee on Equality of Treatment and Opportunity in the Army services is constantly holding hearings, these meetings are being held behind closed doors and it is very difficult, if not impossible, to find out who is testifying and what is being said.

It was learned by the grapevine, however, that Grant Reynolds, chairman of the National Committee to End Jim Crow in Military Service and Training, and Elmer Henderson, director of the American Council on Human Rights, aired their grieves before the committee this week.

Because these proceedings are closed hearings it is not definitely known what these two witnesses said, but it was later learned that Reynolds discussed with Sen. William Langer (R., N. D.) the possibility of introducing an amendment to the army appropriations bill requesting the withholding of army funds from states which excludes Negroes from their National Guards.

Reynolds told Langer that the National Guard in many states is sort of a "silk-stocking" outfit, run like a country club. Therefore, he felt that federal funds should be withheld from such states which maintain "social club" national guards including only the social elite and excluding Negroes.

It is likely that Reynolds made the same statement before the President's committee. He has related his army experience in many open hearings before the house and senate committees and in the private hearings which have been held in various cities by his organization. It is probable that he related some experience in the hearings held at the Pentagon last week because of the President's executive order and the recent executive edict by the Secretary of Defense Johnson. It is not likely that Reynolds made any mention of the civil disobedience movement.

It is expected that he urged the committee to demand equality of treatment in all branches of the service, including the marines, who are now reportedly suffering from the greatest amount of discrimination.

It has been reported that in Washington the Negro U. S. Marines are placed in the homes of officers where they serve as domestic servants, taking order from the officers' wives, rather than from a officer's inferiors or from the U. S. Government which they are supposed to be serving.

Being aware that the top people in the army, navy and airforce have shown little realization of the importance of correcting their policies the ries about race, and making the national military establishment a democratic institution Henderson probably reminded the committee that it should get the source of its information from the soldiers themselves who suffered the pangs of discrimination and segregation, rather than rely upon reports from top army brass.

Henderson knows, and must have reminded the committee, that generals and admirals are experts in camouflage, barbed wire entanglements and smoke screens. They have proven this ability by making the organization of the army forces so complicated and the science of warfare so esoteric that a civilian is at a distinct disadvantage who seeks to gain full knowledge of even the most uncomplicated operation. That is why it is so necessary to hear the testimony of the "Joes" themselves.

It is general knowledge that the top military people, anxiously seek the services of the President's Committee, in Chief of the Army would not have been necessary if the secretary of defense, to have issued the recent directive.

It is likely that Henderson spoke of racial tactics, as well as Negro barracks problems in the Pacific, as he was familiar with the very end the spirit of the Nisei soldiers. He probably talked to the committee about the severe handicap which a Negro student must overcome in the South in the form of discriminatory education.

INSTRUCTOR — Mis Dorothy Floyd, Fairmont, N. C., graduate of Shaw in the class of '46, is now employed at Fairmont with Veterans Training program, as instructor, at Rosenwald High School.
