SALES EXPANSION EFFORT URGED

A word of caution which is felt to be of special interest to the progressive Negro businessman is that of a noted advertising executive. In remarks to a Toledo, Ohio group, Leonard W. Trester, spokesman for advertising, declared that if present business conditions are to be met there must be renewed sales activity.

RAIL WORKERS HONORED

A Negro station hand from Columbia, South Carolina, drew national attention recently for his unselfish work during the "March of Dimes" campaign. James Jones, Southern railroad worker, collected over $2500 during the drive, for which he was honored by the citizenry.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

It is reported that a package of cigarettes, after tax, costs about 70 cents in Britain. Despite the high price it is said to be common for 100 or more Britnizers to line up before a tobacco shop. And cur is more healthful, too!

Timely Farm Hints For The Homemakers

RUTH CURRENT

State Home Demonstration Agent Everett is pointing out how well we know. One way to guard this precious freedom is to have adequate light when we read, sew, or do other class-room jobs. One should be illuminated by a good lamp with the proper size bulb. By arranging the study table by the lamp and the sewing machine are placed that need plenty of light.

INSIDE INDUSTRY

BY N.I.P.S.

Industrial circles expressed keen interest in the recent clinics conducted at the North Carolina College at Durham and Lincoln University at Missouri. Both institutions laid emphasis on job opportunities for graduates although the latter devoted considerable time to business and industrial opportunities.

STEEL USE AIDS JOB LEVEL

According to spokesmen for the steel industry, the high level of employment during the post-war period was appreciably influenced by the half-billion dollars spent by steel producers for new plants and equipment. It was also indicated that the planned spending of $627 billion by the industry in 1949 should provide an even larger volume of purchasing power to workers.

PUSH-BUTTON FEEDING

You can sleep a little longer, down on the farm, if feeding the chickens is an early-morning chore. A newly developed automatic poultry feeder operated by an electric motor and controlled by a time clock now does the work, it is claimed. A supply of feed is carried from a storage bin on a conveyor, which runs along the bottom of a trough. If chicken no like, it is returned to the bin for another trip.

AND WE QUOTE

"It ought to be completely unnecessary to think that the Negro's stake in American industry should be any different from that of any of his fellow American citizens."—Willard S. Townsend, labor leader.

Eye-Cue

It's a wise precaution after plucking your eyebrows to moisten a sterile absorbent cotton ball with rubbing alcohol and apply to the area where you have plucked out hairs. This helps avoid any risk of infection.

GATES FARMERS AID IN CORN WAR

Gates County Negro farmers are showing more interest in corn production this year than ever before, says H. V. Mitchell, Negro county agent for the State College Extension Service.

Growers are interested not only in the county corn contest but also in helping North Carolina win its "corn war" with Virginia. Mitchell states: "A large number of farmers are using hybrid varieties and following recommended practices in fertilization and cultivation."

The Extension Service educational film, "More Corn For Acre" was shown in several communities. The picture aroused quite a bit of interest, particularly among members of veterans' farm training classes.

Some of the veterans who feel they will give other growers a hand are in the county contest are Lawrence Haddock of Drum Hill, Wardell Knight and Thurman Brinson of Gates, Douglas and Edwin Jones of Sumner, and Aaron Parler of Gatesville.

Leading adult growers include J. P. Twine of Hobbesville, J. Z. Booker and E. H. Griffin of Corapeake, W. C. Goodman of Eure, Walter Nevell and Raymond Britt of Gates.

Chester and Wells Goodman and Vivian Saunders of Middle Swamp community, Harold Nowell of Hobbesville and Thomas Knight of Gatesville are among the 4-H Club boys who are conducting good corn projects.

Indications are that soybeans will be a relatively profitable crop in 1949.

This year's national wheat acreage will be by far the largest on record.

Only chickens are jealous of eagles. Maybe that's why the communists would like us to put salt on the tail of the American Eagle... by winging out profits.
