FLYER SAVES TOTS BY BUZZING TOWN

FRANKLIN, Va. (ANP) — The lives of three tots were saved in a burning house at Joyner, a village a few miles west of this county seat, Saturday through the thoughtfulness and swift action of a navy flyer. It was revealed here last week.

The flyer, presumably stationed in the Norfolk area, noticed that a house on the outskirts of the city was on fire and returned and circled low over the village to attract attention and then led a group of men to the burning house, according to Stanley D. Williams, station agent for the Virginia Railway in Southampton County.

"His action helped save the lives of the three children because there was no one living near the house and none of us had seen it burning. I wish to salute him for his very thoughtful and human deed," Williams said.

C. B. Edwards, Jr., a merchant and one of the men who went to the fire, said the house was totally destroyed. It was perhaps a hundred years old.

Edwards and Floyd Barnes went into the house and brought the children to safety. After attracting the attention of several men in Joyner, the Navy pilot flew off in the direction of Norfolk. He was flying a Grumann fighter. Williams related.

Fighting Flies by the Factory-Full

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Dressed to kill in her own conception of work clothes (bead pushers and sport shirt), Shirley Cullon demonstrates the newest scientific weapon for wholesale attack on insects. Using electrically-compressed air, the power sprayer she sprays treats 250,000 cu. ft. against flying insects in less than half an hour. Developed by Gulf Oil research, it adapts the principle originated by the aerosol bomb to large-scale use in food in dustries. Its mist is non-toxic to humans, imparting no odor, leaving no residue.

Don't Burn

Spade work for summer begins with skin protection—against burning rays while letting in tanning rays. Use cream if you burn easily, lotion if you tan easily. Pack Sutra cream or lotion in your kit—it's approved by the American Medical Association as protection against burns, and a speed-up for tanning.

Parades will be the Sunday School congress band from Nashville, Tenn.

Boy Scouts and war veterans are also expected to march in the parades. Sunday school messengers from various states will wear colorful pennants.

Participating in this year's summer school will be Sunday School teachers, Sunday School workers, musicians, instructors, BYPU representatives, Cradle roll and primary department workers, and others. Departmental heads will work out their departmental programs here. New methods of religious education will be stressed and demonstrated.

McLain heroism took place when McLain, Greenlee and a third man were checking cabbage in a cooler room and escaping natural gas caught fire and exploded. McLain and the third man broke out of the room without injury.

Churches To Blame For Lag In Interest Claims Evangelist

A crippled evangelist who has spent one-half of his lifetime traveling up and down the eastern seaboard to preach the gospel feels that much of today's lack of interest in the church is due to the church's own lack of interest in people.

The evangelist, 30-year old Zack C. Mackey of Tampa, Fla., entered the ministry 15 years ago after having had a vision which convinced him that his mission in life was the saving of souls.

Born in Albany, Ga., the Rev. Mr. Mackey fell into a fire while still an infant. As a result of severe burns to his left arm and leg, the arm is withered and all but useless and he walks with a severe limp.

These physical handicaps, however, have not prevented his winning a roving and determined fight against the evil which would cripple men's souls.

Now in Raleigh for the next two weeks where he plans to make appearances at several of the city's

Bright Negro Future In America Seen By Bunche

Hope for full and equal participation by the American Negro in the mainstream of American life lies in three facts, said Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, head of the United Nations Division of Trusteeship, at his Commencement address at Fisk University last week.

These facts are the great democratic concepts of the founders of the country, expressed in the Constitution, the conscience of Americans, white and Negro alike, and the sympathy of the world.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was awarded to Dr. Bunche at the Commencement Exercises. This was the second L. D. degree and the seventh honorary degree awarded in the history of Fisk. Other recipients of honorary degrees are Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, Dr. Roland Hayes, Dr. Percy Julian, Dr. Charles H. Houston, Dr. Gunnar Myrdal, and Dr. Robert Redfield.

"I am an American and I like the American way of life," said Dr. Bunche. "I believe these graduates like them too. There is a certain irony in the situation with which we are faced here. These Negro graduates of Fisk University today are better Americans than they are Negroes. They are Negroes primarily in a negative sense—they reject that sort of treatment that deprives them of their brightness as Americans.

"Remove that treatment and their identification as Negroes in the American society would become meaningless—at least as meaning less as it is to be of English, or French, or German or Italian ancestry. I am sure that the aspiration of every one of you is to be an American in full, not a semi-American, not a Negro-American with a fair and equal opportunity as an individual to make or break his future on the basis of individual ability without the un-American handicap of race."

Dr. Bunche told the graduating seniors that they are as entitled as the next man to negotiate the waters of the mainstream of American life, but that the course is not charted and the shoals of racialism are still dangerous.

PROMOTED — In April, 1948, Mrs. Nora E. Bailey was commissioned by the grand commander-in-chief of the Antlered Guard Department, Dr. J. Finley Wilson, as major of the State of North Carolina Women's Auxiliary of Elks for her service during the past twelve months in this department. She was promoted to Lt. Col. State of North Carolina by the Grand Major General Emerson H. Gray, in Wilmington, N. C. recently.

Mrs. Bailey is trustee, clerk and assistant superintendent of Faith Presbyterian Church, is secretary-treasurer of the Atlantic Credit Union and has been for 17 years, is a member of the executive board and a member of the education committee of the Rocky Mount Civic Forum, is treasurer of the Elk Choral Club, is blue ribbon secretary Mizpah Temple No. 265 with a grand national button for her efficiency; as financial secretary, Sadie B. Davis P. D. Council, is treasurer of the Civil Liberty Club, recording secretary North Carolina State Association, was elected alternate delegate by the State association to the Grand National Convention to be held in San Francisco, California August, 1949 and is owner and manager of La-Monia Beauty Shoppe, and a notable public with offices at 206 East Thomas St., Rocky Mount.

In a competitive society, the Negro must have firm resolve, persistence, tenacity. He must realize that he and his group haven't attained the goal until it is no longer necessary to refer to the fact that "X" was the "First Negro" to do this or that, and until accomplishment by a Negro is taken by the public — both white and Negro — as a matter of fact.

"The need of Negro progress is no need for workings. Those who cannot swim upon the courage, the resolve and the stamina to travel along it can find refuge in a handy alibi, the disadvantages of race. And they can find ample compensation to support their plea. But a community of people cannot adopt an alibi, however credible, as its philosophy of life.

"My own philosophy on such matters is quite simple: whatever is worthwhile is worth working, striving, sacrificing, and struggling for. There is no substitute for hard work as the key to success in the American society. This is true for white Americans. It is even more true for black Americans.

"But while nothing is easy for the Negro in America, neither is anything impossible. The barriers of race are formidable, but they can be surmounted. Indeed, the entire history of the Negro in this country has been a history of continuous, relentless progress over these barriers. Like 'Old Man River' the Negro keeps on moving resolutely along until his goal of complete and unequivocal equality is attained."

"I have great faith that the kind of world we all long for can and will be achieved. It is the kind of world the United Nations is working incessantly to bring about: a world at peace, a world in which people practice tolerance and live together in peace with one another as good neighbors; a world in which there is full respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language, or religion; a world in which all men shall walk together as equals and with dignity."

In a resolution submitted by the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice and voted unanimously by delegates representing the denomination as a whole, the Unitarian Association congratulated the N. A. A. C. P. upon its "fortieth anniversary of service to the American people" and suggested that its constituents "aid the program of the NAACP by urging participation of individual and group membership within its ranks." SECOND SUNDAY, CHILDREN'S DAY — Its observance began in the middle of the last century. The first record of observance was by the Rev. Charles H. Like most American customs it had its roots in the Old World. May Day was the day which children were confirmed in the Roman and Lutheran Churches.
