Hoover Favors Bias Ban In School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (ANP) — Ex-President Herbert Hoover came out in favor of an anti-discrimination clause in the federal aid to education bill, last week.

In naming the three things that such a bill should have Hoover listed non-discrimination on the basis of race or religion, second as a must.

He also said the bill should require specific standards for education and education appropriations should be put ahead of things like highway improvements.

MAPLE TEMPLE

Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from Heaven; but My Father giveth you the true bread from Heaven. I am that bread of life. St. John 6:32-48.

Holy communion was observed at Maple Temple Congregational Christian Church Sunday. The altar and pulpit were draped in white. Beautiful white flowers were also used on the altar.

Music for the day was supplied by the senior choir. They sang lovely songs suitable for communion services.

The Rev. Mr. Booker delivered the communion sermon. His text was Jesus is the bread of life. St. John 6:32-48.

While we commended the choir singing a beautiful spiritual, "Bread of Heaven Feed Me, Till I Want No More." Indeed, we had a glorious time.

The Sunday School was well attended by members and visitors. We all enjoyed the interesting lesson taught from the main topic, "The song book of the Bible," dealing with the first Psalm.

Memory Selection: Come before his presence with singing. Psalm 100:2. We were happy to have the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McClamb worship with us. They and also other visitors were welcomed by the pastor.

Before the evening service we attended a nice prayer service. Then the Rev. Mr. Booker preached a brief soul-stirring sermon which made our hearts rejoice.

Spaulding High Scene For Burial Ass'n Meet

SPRING HOPE — An estimated 5,000 residents of Franklin, Nash, Wake and Edgecombe counties attended the fifteenth annual celebration and reunion of the Spring Hope Mutual Association, which was held at the Spaulding High School last Sunday.

Several hours before the scheduled start of the day's activities thousands of persons began arriving at the scene of the festivities in every sort of conveyance from busses to jeeps and farm work trailers.

A parade which included floats representing many of the area's businesses and organizations wound its way from the school and through the city shortly before the scheduled beginning of the formal program, which was held in the Spaulding High School auditorium.

The formal program was divided into two sections which heard speeches and musical numbers by many of the state's outstanding leaders and singing groups. The visitors were welcomed to the city and to the school by Mayor Theodore Easton of Spring Hope.

The annual message to the members of the association was delivered by the Rev. J. G. Strickland, president of the association.

Other speakers on the program included: Charles G. Irving of Raleigh; the Rev. D. S. Suber of Rocky Mount; and the Rev. Mabel Gary of Raleigh.

Music for the occasion was provided by the House of Prayer Band of Durham, Handel's Chorus of Wilson, N. C.; the Wakefield Baptist Church Choir and Sister Mabel Gary's All Girl Choir.

One of the high spots of the afternoon program was a battle of songs between choirs, quartets and singing groups from the eastern part of the state. Jasper Wilkins of Roanoke Rapids served as master of ceremonies.

Special guests of the association were served dinner at the home of J. D. Toney, secretary-treasurer of the association. Refreshment booths and stands were set up for the convenience of the thousands of persons who were present for the affair.

Officers of the Spring Hope Mutual Burial Association include: the Rev. J. G. Strickland, president; Mrs. Mary Battle, vice-president; and J. D. Toney, secretary-treasurer.

Sweet potatoes are becoming an important cash crop to many farmers in the Sandhills area of the State.

Beggartweed, a plant heretofore looked upon as just a weed, has proved to be an excellent protein supplement in poultry feeding in experiments conducted by United States and Guatemalan scientists.

Peak movement of the 1949 cotton crop in North Carolina is expected about the second week in July.

CROCHET HINTS

GOOD grooming is as important to the beauty and complexion of your home as it is to your own morale. It takes infinite care in little details to give your home that sleek, finished look. If your home is beautifully furnished it's even more important that you keep everything in tip-top condition — for what room is it to have cherished belongings and keep them haphazardly. Get in the habit of regularly performing the little tasks that mean so much to the appearance of your rooms. As you make your daily rounds, check up on these good grooming extras.

After emptying the ashtrays, take a minute to wash them in order to bring out their true gleam. Venetian blinds ask little in return for what they add to a room but they do need regular dusting, washing and straightening. For inviting-looking cushions plump them up so as to erase the weight marks of the last occupant. Pick up scattered papers and magazines and stack them in an interesting arrangement. Be sure to discard all back numbers. If you have plants in your home run a damp cloth over the leaves once a week to bring out their full color.

Now for two chores that take a little more time, but are well worth the added effort. Have you ever wondered how your woodwork gets so soiled around doors and staircases? In all probability you can't find the culprit, so the only thing to do is to keep after those fingermarks. Wash painted woodwork with mild soap and water, with a few drops of ammonia if it's especially greasy. Then wipe dry. To top off this cleaning apply a light coat of wax or furniture oil.

If your lampshades are of silk, rayon or cotton, and are sewed, not glued, they can be washed at home. Pleats do not interfere with washing, but do not wash a fabric that will shrink. First, wipe the shade clean as possible. Then dip entire shade up and down in a deep container of sudsy solution of gentle flakes. Whisk the shade through the suds until they are forced through the fabric. Rinse several times in clear warm water and then dry quickly so that the wire frame cannot rust. Keep tuning the shade so that it will dry evenly. While drying keep the shade out of the sun and away from heat.

That's just a short list of the little things that make a home so much more than just a house. Remember that fresh, honey touches add sparkle and gaiety to your rooms and speak of your originality. With that thought in mind we've selected this fillet-crochet dolly which offers protection as well as beauty to a table top. Deep scalloped edges and a lovely shaded leaf pattern give this dolly its delicate air. Measuring 18 inches in diameter, it is just right for your drum table. The three tone effect of the pattern is achieved by blocks, spaces and shadow spaces. Size 50 mercerized crochet cotton was used to make this piece, but with the same chart and heavier cotton, larger sizes may be made. If you would like directions for making GRAPE ARBOR, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Home Sewing Dept. of this paper, asking for Leaflet No. 7620.

AMEZ BISHOP, DR. MAYS AT WORLD CHURCH MEETING

CHESTER, England (ANP) — Bishop W. J. Walls of the AME Zion Church and Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College are among 90 members of the central committee of the World Council of Churches meeting here July 9-15.

Cooperating in this world wide church movement are 141 Protestant and Orthodox church denominations in 44 nations. More than 30,000,000 Americans are represented in the council.

One of the aims of this meeting is to discover a common basis for "The Responsible Society," as the status of religion behind the iron curtain and outside, too, will be discussed.

MOTHER OF 2 LOSES $970 IN SWINDLE

TOLEDO, O. (ANP) — The old con game with a new twist found another victim here last week. This time it was Mrs. Pearl Watson, mother of two children, who learned her lesson at a cost of $70.

While on a shopping tour with her two children Mrs. Watson was approached by two women who showed her a purse they had found containing $2,100. To prove their sincerity they counted out the money in cash, but told her she could not split with her until she put up some money of her own as security.

Immediately she rushed to the Toledo Trust company and withdrew $970 from her account. Upon her return she reported to her friends and gave them her money. They then counted her out her third of the money they found. $700 gave her back her $970 making a total of $1,670.

Mrs. Watson was highly elated until a few minutes later one of the women snatched her pocketbook and ran away.
