Bob: "What's that new gadget, Dad?"
Dad: "It's a new idea I'm working on, son."
Bob: "Don't you have to work in a factory, Dad, to make things like that?"
Dad: "No, Bob, I'm developing this idea right here at home. It's a new type mechanism operated by a small motor in the handle which I may develop into a electric toothbrush. There's a guard to protect the check and the rotary brush can be refiled. I may patent it and then perhaps license it to a manufacturer. The inventor doesn't have to own his own factory."

JOURNALISTS TO HOLD MEET AT FAMCEE

The third annual Journalism Seminar will be held at the Florida A. and M. College July 27, 28, and 29. Dr. William H. Gray, Jr., president of the college, has extended sincere appreciation to the crowd of interested journalists and newsmen for their splendid cooperation during the past two years and hopes that he looks forward to a large number to participate this year.

The three day seminar will have some of the nation's top field newsmen as consultants to discuss modern trends in news coverage, reporting, feature writing, layout, circulation, advertising and the news papers' responsibility in spreading the gospel of democracy.

FAMCEE TO AID MINISTERS WITH RELIGIOUS INST.

The ministers and church workers of Florida and neighboring states are expected to attend three weeks' ministerial institute at the Florida A. and M. College July 27-August 6. The general purpose of the institute is to provide a broad background for study of problems basic to the ministry and to the church workers.

Dr. William H. Gray, Jr., president of the college, stated he hopes the ministers and religious workers of Florida will take advantage of these offerings this summer. The Religious Education Department of the college under the direction of Dr. James Huddleston, chaplain, maximum effort has been put forth to have a well qualified staff for the three weeks.

In the achievement of this and a variety of activities will be engaged in during the period of the work. There will be lectures, seminars, construction, church music, recreation, church administration, individual aids, Bible study, individual efforts, problems of the church, problems of the city church, church history, practical theology. Members of college staff will assist in lectures related to these special fields.

The institute will include the work reviews designed to bring before the ministers some literature of outstanding importance. As a part of this plan for work, there will be significant opportunities with significant books. Many with contributions by local ministers.

An observation trip is planned to look over the physical equipment and to learn about the religious education program of the church of Tallahassee.

Some of the institute program to be organized on the basis of a workshop. By this type of program it is hoped that the ministers, other church workers will get concrete help in the solution of various problems.

V. I. AGRICULTURE AIDE IN FINAL PRE-TRIP PARLEY

The Virgin Islands' new agricultural extension agent, R. L. Hannon, conferred last week with Extension Service Director M. Wilson prior to taking a plane to the islands.

During his conference with Director Wilson, the new appointee who was named recently by C. William H. Hastie, was assured full cooperation of Extension Service in the matter of technical information, new equipment, and of informational materials applied to tropical agriculture.

Mr. Hannon is a former county agricultural extension agent of North Carolina. In the Virgin Islands, Mr. Hannon says his duties will include the development of an extension program designed to help the islands' 800 farmers to increase their production of vegetable, field crops, livestock, and of agricultural products.

Also, he says he will be expected to introduce new crops, increase soil and water conservation, handle homestead projects, supervise the operation and maintenance of Government farm tractors and trucks.

Mr. Hannon is a 1937 graduate of A. and T. College, Greensboro, N. C.

He received his master's degree from the same institution a few weeks ago. His M. A. thesis related to extension farm demonstration work in North Carolina. Mr. Hannon is married and has a 4-year old son.

START NATIONAL V.D. DRIVE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—A national drive against venereal disease will begin speedily here in Chicago with the opening of a three-day air show at the Municipal Airport beginning July 10.

Special emphasis is being given to the display of the new "V.D. Herald" N. P. Anderson, president of the Chicago Board of Health, said. "We want every citizen to know that venereal disease is a dangerous and curable disease. It is a disease which can be cured by the use of modern medicine."

The drive will be a national effort to educate the public about venereal disease and its prevention. It will include the use of posters, pamphlets, and other educational materials. The drive is being organized by the National Venereal Disease Association.

Chicago is the first city to start the drive. It will be followed by other cities across the country. The drive is being organized by the National Venereal Disease Association.
