"EASTERN CAROLINA'S LARGEST"

TARHEEL ROUNDUP

HAM

RALEIGH. Now Calvin Elliott can eat his ham. Elliott left Central Prison Friday with the blessings of the governor. After he had decided that the 45-year-old prisoner had served enough time for his crime. He was committed to Central Prison last January for assault with a deadly weapon on Howard Broadway for 18 months.

The trouble was done. Broadway had made himself a guest in Elliott's quarters and the incident. Then one evening, Elliott was trying a piece of ham and Broadway came in and announced that he could eat the ham himself.

This was too much for the hand-dyman whose earnings were hardly enough to sustain himself, and he objected to the generosity of Broadway. After Broadway threatened him with a stove lid, Elliott went for his shotgun. He was later sent to Central Prison for a month.

In testimony last week, Perles Commissioner said that recent changes now have occurred in his own life and it is felt that he may be released under supervision.

KILLED

GRAHAM. James Edward Elliott, three years old, was killed instantly when struck by an automobile in front of his home last Saturday.

Witnesses told police that the child was attempting to cross the highway to his home from the opposite side and darted from behind a northbound car which had already passed into the path of an automobile driven by Mrs. Fannie B. Hendon, which was traveling toward Burlington.

Technical charges of manslaughter have been preferred against Mrs. Hendon. The accident happened just north of the Burlington city limits less than a hundred yards from the spot in which a woman was killed a week ago.

NEEDED INSTRUCTION

RALEIGH. Nineteen bright, intelligent young women are enthusiastic and apt students in a ten weeks course of training for all types of household duties now being conducted by competent instructors with the hearty approval of civic organizations in the City of Rocky Mount.

Certificates of graduation will be awarded graduates and special did jobs will be awaiting for all not already employed at the end of the course.

Moreover similar courses are to be continued indefinitely, and another type of course of training in the making. This course would give office girls the bare fundamentals in ways to handle office work—a sort of elementary business course—for which a preliminary survey shows a great need.

This course in household work was prompted by the Rocky Mount office of the Employment Service, Division of the State Employment Security Commission. It all started when Mrs. Helen Gay, interviewer in the Rocky Mount Division office discovered a provision by which Federal-State funds are available for employing instructors in courses of this type.

She proposed a school of this nature for Rocky Mount to Manager William J. Eckler of the Rocky Mount employment office. He approved and they set about a lot of preliminary work. Manager Eckler presented it to the Rocky Mount Community Council, which approved and named a committee which made a survey to determine the need, availability of pupils, placing them in jobs when they had finished, an instructor, and a sponsor. All results were favorable. The City Forum agreed to sponsor the school and a suitable building was found in Mrs. Evelyn Deane's home economic teacher in the Douglas T. Washington High School. Meanwhile, George W. Coe, supervisor of Trades and Industries of the Division of Vocational Education, State Department of

Dr. M. A. Tally, pastor of the North Side Episcopal Church, Indianapolis, Indiana, and former director of Christian Education of the Sunday School Publishing Board of Nashville, Tenn., will be guest minister at the First Baptist Church, Sunday morning, July 31. The Rev. Mr. Tally will come to Raleigh to attend the All Baptist Assembly August 1-5.

Public Instruction

Public Instruction was contacted approved the plan and through office furnished funds for the instructor and study material for the course.

The employment office was contacted to select pupils, all graduates of graduates, and were placed Mrs. Gay on the team. The course started June 15, continues to August 1, two hours on two nights each week for 10 weeks. Most of the teachers in the YWCA but housewives have asked that women be held in their homes.

Electrical appliances have been provided and students be held in their home show rooms. This will be done by Mrs. Gay will present results of a production exhibition.

All interested are hereby pleased with results and especially Mrs. Gay who has employed for all her former employees now on the staff of the Rocky Mount Division office. And, interested persons are invited to attend.

235 PROGENY LEFT BY HIGH POINT WOMAN

HIGH POINT. After being into the first decade of her second century of life Mrs. Amanda Kade Anthony died here Sunday morning, July 24, at 4 a.m. at the age of 116 years, 9 months and 6 days.

She was born in Elberton, Ga., October 18, 1838. The final few years of her life were passed here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Johnson, 221 Reed Street, where she died.

Immediate survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Johnson, age 76, Augusta, Ga., and two sons, Lawrence Anthony, age 78, Atlanta, Ga., eldest of the living children, and Walter Anthony, age 74, High Point, N. C.

Mrs. Anthony outlived four husbands and 21 of her 27 children. She outlived 21 of her boys and 2 of her girls. There are said to be 139 grandchildren and 92 great-grandchildren. One of the grandsons, who is over 50 years of age lives in Washington, Ga.

The family long lives seem to know their family history quite well in that they state that the father of the deceased was West Boase, and the maiden name of her mother was Louisa Everhart, both of Elberton, Ga.

With the passing of Mrs. Anthon, High Point loses its eldest citizen and possibly the oldest member of the North Carolina population. She went through life with a silver plate in her front a few years ago and she refused to have youth in later years but still, it was said, she was known to be found at most all her home.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. from All Saints Baptist church where she had membership since she was brought here from Georgia by her son in 1897. The Rev. P. O. Hester, will officiate at the rites. The bodies will remain in Hazell's Chapel until the hour of the funeral, interment will be made in Greenhill Cemetery.

Posse Kills Rape Suspect

GREENVILLE, Fla. — Ernest Thomas, identified as the fourth man in a recent Greenville posse, was shot and killed by a posse of this community Tuesday. Bill Towles, sheriff of Taylor County, said that the fugitive was definitely identified as one of the four men who faced the 17-year-old housewife on July 16 after beating and robbing her husband. Thomas, he said, had been tracked by a posse made up of citizens since Sunday night and was shot when he fled into a run-down building and hid in a dense wooded area.

The attack, police officials said, resulted in a death of a man, while 15 others in the Taylor County community for several days. The governor was ordered to call out 1,000 troops to deal the violence. The three other Negroes named at the time and in custody, and have been indicted by a special county grand jury, they are being held in jail and the whereabouts of which have been lost a search.

I am young enough to remember when I thought sleep was a waste of time.
