

BOND SAYS THAT GOODWILL FLAME IS NEEDED NOW

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY, Pa. — "American educators have largely lost sight of the great traditions upon which their college and universities were founded" Dr. Horace Mann Bond, President of Lincoln University, declared last Monday night to the members of the Institute on Racial and Cultural Relations being held on the Lincoln University Campus this week.

Dr. Bond pointed out that the founders of institutions knew exactly what tasks confronted them and had an exact prescription with which to meet them. That prescription was "Universal reliance on God and love and goodwill for man" as the chief objective of an educational institution.

"The state of education today," he continued, "leads one to believe that those entrusted with the future of civilization had never heard of the traditions of universal goodwill, of love of God, and love for one's fellow man. Educators, in ignoring the great founding principles, indeed, the very reason for the existence of any educational institution, substitute football, ephemeral ideas, social activities and the like and call it 'progressive'."

LINCOLN FANS FLAME

"The real function of Lincoln University —" said Dr. Bond — "is to fan the flame of goodwill. It is significant that we usually use the opposite phrase; we say that men are 'fanning the flame of discord or hatred.' To mean anything, good will must be a flame in our hearts, as it was in the hearts of the great souls who laid the foundation for our spiritual culture; and we must vigorously fan that flame, in our hearts, and in the hearts of other men."

The Institute is being held under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church in the USA, and is under the leadership of Rev. William H. McConaghy, Philadelphia, assisted by Dr. Jesse B. Barber, Dean of the Lincoln Theological Seminary.

SHERIFF SAVES NEGRO FROM MOB

NASHVILLE, Ga. (ANP) — An innocent Negro was saved from an angry mob of more than 1,500 whites last week when a sheriff defended him. Sheriff N. N. Hughes took the victim from the rioters after they had snatched him from his home.

Mobsters, the sheriff said, believed that the captive could lead them to the guilty person who allegedly attacked a 40-year-old farm woman while her husband took their children to Sunday school.

The law officer called in the state troopers to save the mob victim.
