PERSON ST. USO CLUB EXPANDS PROGRAM

Increased services for members of the armed forces and their families and greater volunteer participation in the program has been shown by the reactivated USO services at the Person St. NCCS club according to the semi-annual report by Dr. Watson Fowler, Chairman of the USO-NCCS operating committee.

The report shows that a total of 26,176 persons were benefited during the past six months by the wide variety of personal services and program activities that the USO offers.

More than 622 men and women volunteers have assisted with the various phases of the club program, contributing more than 4463 hours of service. Dr. Watson Fowler said, Churches, schools and fraternal organizations have volunteered their services.

HIGHEST ATTENDANCE

Highest attendance recorded at large group activities including dances, movies, parties, picnics, shows, and other social events.

New trends indicate that there has been an adjustment of services to meet the new needs of the increased number of young service personnel.

Special programs have been planned for the detachments of ROTC, who arrived at Fort Bragg, N. C. in June, from various colleges for a six weeks' training period in military tactics. A joint USO - NCCS - Fayetteville State Teachers College lawn party was

Lions' Queen

Wearable, washable Glosheen is in the swim again as shown above by Janice Harvell, 17-year-old blonde from Carolina Beach, N. C., chosen "Queen of the Lions" by 30,000 Lions International delegates at New York. This Waverly fabric, used for draperies and slipcovers, keeps its crisp beauty through countless washings. It was made into a swim suit by Claire McCordell, celebrated designer. Quaint provincial pattern is called "Daisy Mae."

FSTC PREPARES FOR FALL TERM

FAYETTEVILLE — With the closing of the summer just a week away and with the details incident to opening the fall session being rapidly whipped into shape, the outlook for a "big year" at the Fayetteville State Teachers College is bright.

Already an extended program of renovation is in progress, and before long one of the institution's largest building programs which was made possible by appropriations from the State legislature will get under way. Beginning with the ensuing fall session the curriculum will be expanded by the inclusion of several new courses.

MANY INSTRUCTORS STUDY

During the present summer quarter, fourteen of the institution's instructors are pursuing advanced study as follows: Helen T. Chick, Columbia University; Marion L. Fleming, University of Michigan; Beulah W. Jones, North Carolina College at Durham; Werner L. Jordan, University of Pittsburgh; E. Louise Murphy, New York University; Lafayette Parker, New York University; Andrew L. Scott, Columbia University; H. L. Scott, University of Pittsburgh; Lois P. Turner, Columbia University; Addie O. Williams, Columbia University; Clara C. Barnes, New York University; T. M. Calender, Virginia State College; Milder Miller, University of Pennsylvania and Loretta J. Taylor, Columbia University.

EIGHT-GAME FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

One of the busiest men on the campus these days is head Coach William (Gus) Gaines who positively won't discuss the incoming football season, but who plans with the aid of "new blood" to field a strong Broncho team when the opening whistle blows. The 1949 Broncho schedule reads: October 1, St. Paul at Fayetteville; October 8, Winston-Salem at Fayetteville; October 15, St. Augustine's at Raleigh; October 22, Morristown College at Morristown, Tennessee; November 5, Norfolk Unit at Norfolk; November 12, Livingstone College at Fayetteville; November 19, Elizabeth City at Fayetteville and November 26, Maryland State at Princess Anne, Maryland.
