CIVIL LIBERTIES BODY OPPOSES COMMUNIST BAN

NEW YORK (ANP) — Declaring that the proposed Mundt-Ferguson-Johnson anti-Communist bill is an attack on America's freedom of thought, the American Civil Liberties union has come out against the proposal. Also against the measure is the staid New York Times, one of the nation's most respected newspapers.

The Times said in part in an August 24 editorial:

"The basic difficulty in this bill, as in others of the type, lies in the fact that it does not require an overt act in the usual sense of the words, to bring its sanctions into effect. No matter how carefully drawn it may be, any bill that endeavors to strike at a political philosophy will almost inevitably be so broad in its terms as to infringe the basic liberty of freedom of thought that is and, we hope, always will be the American birthright."

The ACLU pointed out that "our whole constitutional development shows that actions, not beliefs or ultimate goals, must be the sole test of legality."

The new bill, both claim is similar to the Mundt-Nixon bill which failed to pass the 80th Congress. It imposes severe penalties on persons belonging to Communist and so-called Communist-front groups.

Home Economics; James H. Sayles, Jr. M.S., Michigan State, chairman, biological and physical sciences; and Chauncey C. Winston, M.S., Indiana University, chairman, social sciences.

Meat production under Federal inspection for the week ending August 27 totaled 290 million lbs.

The number of persons living on terms January 1, 1949, was 27,776, an increase of 336,000 over the previous year.
