

KINSTON

Mrs. Mona R. Daniels Buried At La Grange

DOVER DOINGS

Sunday was regular church services day at the St. John Baptist Church with the Rev. D. C. Artis at the post as pastor. He shared with the subject "Various Hindrances" taken from Galatians 5:7.

Sunday afternoon the Rev. M. E. Artis and his choir and congregation motored to Sand Hill to render service. The Rev. E. L. Lundy was host pastor.

The fourth Sunday will be quarterly meeting at the First Baptist Church. The morning's message will be delivered at eleven o'clock by the pastor the Rev. R. J. Johnston. A visiting church is expected that afternoon. All patrons of Dover and neighboring towns are invited to attend.

On the fourth Sunday night a Seven Seals Rally will be held at First Baptist Church. All are invited to attend.

Mrs. Lizziana Henderson who left last Monday afternoon to visit relatives and friends in Newark, N. J. was accompanied on her trip by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Annie Mae Rouse, the wife of Deacon Larry Rouse.

Miss Ida Gladys Hines, known to the patrons of Dover as "Baby Doll", spent Sunday afternoon with her aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Canady.

SPORTS

The Dover Blue Sox will play five more games this season. Winner of the best three out of five will be given a barbecue dinner by the losing team.

The players who make up the Dover Blue Sox team are: Alonzo Rouse, catching; William White, pitching; Eddie Johnson, first base; Aven Dove, second base; James Simmons, third base; George D. Rouse, left field; Jeremiah Beckwith, center field; Vance Duke, right field; M. M. Berton, relief pitcher; R. A. (Chief) Barns, substitute catcher; Willie (Jackie) Adams, short stop; with Ned White, Eliza Henderson, Matthew Henderson and M. Johnson as extras.

MOVIE SCHEDULED

"The Wind Bears" a religious picture will be shown at Queen's Chapel A.M.E. Zion Church, Dover.

LA GRANGE

Funeral services for Mrs. Mona Rouse Daniels, prominent La Grange woman, who died Friday, September 2 at her home were held at Ebenezer Baptist Church, Tuesday, September 5.

The pastor, The Rev. C. C. Sharpe, conducted the services and the senior choir furnished music.

Remarks in behalf of The Bear Creek Association were made by The Rev. J. E. Bowden, resolutions from the church were read by Henry A. Wooten. Hymns, "He Will Hold Me Fast" was sung by Mrs. Henrietta Gardner and the car of thanks from the family and the eulogy were read by Miss Winnie E. Joyner.

Mrs. Daniels had been in ill health a number of years but her death came as a shock to everyone. She was a member of Ebenezer Baptist Church, the Lincoln County Home Demonstration Club, Rousehold Ruth and Eastern Star. She was also president of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Convention of the Bear Creek association.

She is survived by her husband, Milford P. Daniels, four daughters, Mrs. Dollie D. Hammond, Wadesboro, N. C., Miss Sylvia Daniels, Wilson, Mrs. Gladys D. Simmons, Devereaux, Ga., Miss Dora D. Daniels of the home, and two sons, Milford, Jr., of La Grange and Willis E. of Laurinburg.

Also two grand children, Thelma W. Daniels of La Grange and Cheryl Deveta Hammond, Wadesboro, and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Adella Faushee, La Grange; James G. Rouse, Elizabeth, N. J.; William A. Rouse, La Grange; Mrs. Nancy Frazier, Wilmington and John H. Rouse, New York, N. Y.

Pierce's Funeral Home, Kinston, N. C., was in charge of the funeral.

On September 23 at 7:30 p. m. Pastor, The Rev. C. A. Small, secretary, J. A. Beckwith, chairman, J. L. Smith.

PURSE SNATCHING SUSPECT SUICIDE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A few hours after he was taken to the police station for allegedly having snatched a pocketbook, Paul Ford, 22, was found hanging by his belt in his cell by turnkey Joseph Porcetto.

The dead youth was arrested last Wednesday night in a downtown department store when a policeman thought he was acting suspiciously. When searched by city police he was said to have had a charge plate for the store which belonged to a West Philadelphia woman whose pocketbook was snatched earlier and who suffered a frightful beating in the process.

Ford was questioned by detectives and pulled, after being slated on a highway robbery charge. He was to have had a magistrate's hearing on the morning of his death.

WOMAN SUES CHI. HOSPITAL FOR $15,000

CHICAGO (AP) — Charging negligence in the administration of an athletic test causing the death of her daughter, Mrs. Katie Bradshaw filed suit asking damages of $15,000 against Provident hospital last week in Circuit court.

According to Mrs. Bradshaw's complaint her daughter, Fannie Clay, died while being operated upon on July 26 when Dr. M. M. Dillard gave her an overdose of anesthetic. The plaintiff also accused two surgeons, Dr. L. C. Nesbitt and Dr. William Tate, Jr., of tampering by and refusing or neglecting to come to the aid of her daughter.

Pointing out that her daughter was her only means of support, Mrs. Bradshaw asked damages of $15,000. Her attorney is William Henry Huff.

Flue-cured tobacco usually brings lower average prices on Old Belt markets than on markets in the Middle East and Border Belts, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

43rd Anniversary Of Negro Extension Work Observed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 43rd anniversary of the establishment of Extension work with rural colored people in the upper South was observed last week at Gloucester, Va.

The observance was sponsored by the State Advisory Board of Virginia, a rural organization promoting better living on the farm. Principal speaker for the occasion was Dr. L. B. Dietrick, director of the Virginia Agricultural Extension Service.

Other speakers on the program were: Field Agent John W. Mitchell, Atty. T. C. Walker, Farmer Floyd H. Stokes, County Agent F. B. Goode, Dr. John L. Lockhart, director of agriculture at Virginia

State college, J. A. Oliver of Maryland State college, William Carter, retired treasurer of Tuskegee Institute, H. D. Lenoir, second farm demonstrator at Virginia, and Ross W. N. of the State Extension agent.

Advisory Board members from 43 Virginia counties were in attendance at the observance which was held in connection with the annual meeting of the board. Director Dietrick congratulated the board for its work and paid tribute to the late John B. Pierce, field agent who founded the organization in 1906 in the South from the Negro Extension program which he headed in the upper South from 1906 until his death in 1942.

Director Dietrick cited the progress which farmers have made partly as a result of Extension work. Said he to the farmers and women: "You must continue to translate your increased income into better living — better housing, better furniture and better educational opportunities for your children."

He listed five goals toward which the farmers of Virginia should work: (1) the achievement of the highest possible yield of the main cash crop and of sideline crops; (2) production of most of the home food supply; (3) use of capital farm land to fuller capacity; (4) percentage of more feed crops for livestock and on maintenance of farm records.

During a farm tour, the delegates visited the home of Floyd H. Stokes, one of the first colored farmers in the state to adopt practices recommended by Mr. Pierce, first farm demonstration agent appointed in the upper South. Also, the delegates saw on Attorney Walker's farm the acre on which Mr. Pierce conducted his first demonstration project. Mr. Walker, who is now 85, described how the Extension program got underway. The tour ended at Capashote at the home of the late R. R. Moton, former president of Tuskegee Institute.

During Mr. Pierce's lifetime, the number of colored farm and home demonstration agents increased from two — himself and T. M. Campbell, in the lower South, to 560. Today there are nearly 800 colored agents in the 17 Southern and Border states.

WRITES OF CHILDREN'S HEALTH — Dr. O. M. Whittier of San Antonio, Tex., is the author of the ANP's column "The Road to Health," this week. In discussing "A Healthful Start to School," Dr. Whittier points out most children who have handicaps were either born with them or developed them within the first five years of their lives.

MAN FACES 2ND MURDER TRIAL

COLUMBIA S. C. (AP) — L. D. Harris, freed from the shadow of the electric chair for the murder of a white Aiken county storekeeper and filling station operator, is still in the state penitentiary here, facing trial for the murder of the victim's wife. He won his freedom through an appeal to the U. S. Supreme court, but instead of being released, was kept in the penitentiary on a second indictment.

Harris was tried in January, '37, for the murder of Edward L. Bennett, an April 28, 1949. Found guilty and sentenced to death by electrocution Harris appealed to the state supreme court. This court stayed execution but later in a 2-2 decision, affirmed the action of the lower court. The dissenting opinion held that Harris' confession had not been freely given.

The case went to the U. S. Supreme court which reversed last August the state court ruling on the ground that the confession used in the trial was "wrong from the defendant."

However, Harris was still held in prison on an indictment charging him with the murder of Bennett's wife. According to the clerk of the state supreme court, the indictment had been transferred to the Aiken county docket and the case is still pending.

ARE YOU READY FOR SCHOOL? SEE OUR SCHOOL SUPPLIES AND MAGAZINES
Hoob's Rexall Center
Cor. Tower Hill & Front Sts.
DEALERS
KINSTON, N. C.

LOW COST RADIANT HEAT!

The DUO-THERM Radiant Circulator
HEILIG-LEVINE
OF KINSTON

RIGHT IN STYLE...AND TIME

We are now featuring the exquisite CHASE line of Men's and Women's watches that really sing out with value.

For beauty in design and dependable performance see these CHASE watches at...

Horne Jewelers
MANY STYLES AND PRICES
130 W. North St. Kinston, N. C.

B. F. Clarke & Son
EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING
315 N. HERITAGE STREET
DIAL 2765
KINSTON, N. C.

Dove's Auto Service
General Repair Service on All Make of Cars
Pleasing You Pleases Us
265 E. South Street, Kinston

DEL-MO SHOE SHINE PARLOR
is Under New Management of DANIEL E. DOUGHERTY
Candies, Cigarettes, Cigars, and Cold Drinks — Shoes shined
423 South Queen St., Kinston

BLUE BIRD INN
Located on South Queen Street
ICE COLD BEER
The Coolest Spot in Town!
COLD DRINKS
Mrs. Thelma Ingram, Prop
302 1-2 So. Queen St., Kinston

Quinn & Miller COMPANY
Furniture of Quality
KINSTON, N. C.