DURHAM (Special)-The presipresent to lend their sup- dency of the State Teachers' Assocontested post in the coming elecions in Raleigh this weekend. As thousands of the State's Ne gro teachers prepared to meet in Raleigh March 30-April 1 to elect officers for the coming year, two opposing forces marshalled their strength to support their respec tive candidates. Fireworks for the coming campaign were set off last week in a frontal blast from W. R. Collins, RALLIGH - According to the principal of the Johnson County snington High School Chapter of Training School, Smithfields and New Homemakers of America, chairman of the Northeastern Dis-
