HUNTER-KILLER TEAM TO DESTROY SUBMARINES — With the advent of post-war improvements, such as the snorkel underwater breathing device, the submarine has become an increasingly difficult target. In recognizing the seriousness of this problem the U. S. Navy is improving anti-submarine warfare weapons and tactics. Aircraft, including blimps, may operate from carriers of an anti-submarine task force. Aircraft fly around the clock, landing on deck of the carrier twice daily to shift combat crews, refuel and replenish stores. (Official Department of Defense Photo)

THE GRAY LADIES OF MERCY HOSPITAL — St. Petersburg, Fla.

(AN) — There are few places where the Red Cross is more prominent than in Mercy hospital in St. Petersburg, Fla. Dominating the scene are the eight present Gray Ladies who started volunteer work at the hospital about two years ago.

In the upper left corner are two Red Cross nurses at work viewing the results of their work in refurbishing and redecorating the nursery at the hospital. Both of the women give an average of 20 hours of volunteer work a month.

Pioneers in their field are these Red Cross Gray Ladies, upper center, who were trained by the St. Petersburg Red Cross chapter. They are the first Negroes to undertake Gray Lady work in a civilian hospital in the South-east. Third from left in the front row is the first chairman of the Mercy Unit of Red Cross Gray Ladies, Mrs. Maggie White.

Mrs. White (right inset) is seen carrying a basket of eggs to her patient's customer. The Gray Lady, who has given approximately 400 hours of volunteer service during her two years at the hospital, went "beyond the call of duty" in taking over the patient's regular egg delivery route while he was hospitalized for two weeks.

As in every hospital, Mercy has those who love to bring cheer to patients who have no visitors. In lower center, two Gray Ladies happily perform that duty. (ANP)
