CAB-ROBBING KILLER STRIKES AGAIN IN NC

RACE IN JOB ISSUE

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD—It was recently predicted by the CAROLINIAN that Lena Horne would announce her marriage publicly. Now that she has, the MGM star has been secretly mar-

Leaders At Urgent Meet

RALEIGH — At least thirteen Negroes, including leaders from all fields of endeavor in North Carolina, were in attendance at a conference called by Governor Scott to discuss the problem of highway safety held here in a State building Tuesday morning.

The initial meeting of the group called the Governor's Advisory Committee on Highway Safety was held in the Textiles Building at State College with some 19 sub-committees being formed during the morning and afternoon sessions.

Speakers at the conference included Attorney Hosea Price, of Winston-Salem; A. R. Morrissey, Winston-Salem Sentinel; Dr. Harold Trigg, member State Board of Carolina's growing traffic accident census. In March, Gov. Scott has formed a 15-man safety committee headed by Raleigh publisher John A. Park, to study the situation when a sudden upsurge in highway accidents was noted.

Mr. Park in turn set about making plans for the Monday conference, gathering some of the state's most noted thinkers and leaders of both races for a session on what was to be done and how.

He said: "There is no greater service you can render your community, State, and nation than to start and keep going a continuing program to save human life and prevent human suffering through accident prevention on the highways."

Negroes attending the meetings included Attorney Hosea Price, of Winston-Salem; A. R. Morrissey, Winston-Salem Sentinel; Dr. Harold Trigg, member State Board of Bellevue was expressed here this week that the Taxicab Killer who slew one man and shot another in Greensboro last week during the course of a robbery is on the loose in the eastern section of the state.

The belief was given ground when it was reported Monday that a gun-totin' man had relieved a local taxi cab driver of the fare between $20 and $25 after luring the cabbie into the country.

Victim of the local robbery was James Briley who reported he picked up a passenger about 3 a.m. Sunday and was told to drive across Tar River into the lowlands.

When the cab arrived at the appointed place, the driver reported, the passenger drew a pistol and took all the money the driver had in sight. The man then forced the driver to carry him into town where, after wiping the doorknobs and other parts of the cab with a towel, the robber fled into the darkness.

Descriptions given of the robber tally with those given by Greensboro taxi driver Odis Hawkins, driver of the car in which another passenger was shot and killed last week.

Hawkins had also been lured into the rural districts when he was robbed. A passenger in Hawkins' cab, Alfred Brewer, was shot down in coldblood by the robber.

Taxi cab drivers all over the state have been alerted to be on the look out for passengers seeking to make trips into rural areas without legitimate reasons.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER — Dr. H. B. Shaw, secretary of the General Department of the A.M.E. Zion Conference of America who addressed the graduating class of Payne's Business and Secretarial School, Raleigh, Monday June 26.

No Question Then or Now

(AN EDITORIAL)

The heavy Negro vote for Dr. Frank P. Graham left no question in the minds of North Carolinians as to whom they wanted to represent them in the Congress of the United States. . . . And there is no question as to their preference now.

The winner may acquit himself well in Washington on questions pertaining to North Carolina's 1,000,000 Negroes, nonetheless, the campaign presented to all the people by Dr. Graham was the type in keeping with statesmanship, character and the integrity so much needed to fulfill the democratic principles for all the people.

Possibly the Graham defeat is a blessing in disguise. There are many capacities of far more importance at this time for a man of Dr. Graham's abilities, although the presence of his genius would strengthen the halls of Congress. But North Carolina loses its chance for great representation.

CALL MEETING TO DISCUSS RACE PLIGHT

RALEIGH—The beginning of a concerted effort to gain more jobs, establish more varied businesses and to generally better the plight of the Negro in Raleigh and throughout North Carolina takes place on Sunday when a public meeting will be held at the local Martin Street Baptist Church for the purpose of discussing possibilities of opening more avenues of employment.

The meeting, being staged under the auspices of the East Raleigh Civic Forum will deal directly with the possibility of establishing a plumbing firm in the city, and with the possibility of establishing clothing firms, a construction company and other enterprises so as to strengthen the economic background of the Negro population.

Special discussions will deal with the ways and means of opening up jobs in all phases of work, clerical, labor, et al.

The assurance that hundreds of different types of jobs will soon be available all over the local area and into other areas of the state is seen as impetus for the organization of a system of representation for qualified persons.

PLANTS MOVE SOUTH

Many of the North's leading firms are building plants in North Carolina and in some cases are removing their entire resources to the state and the immediate area.

Typical of these removals is the projected construction of a $3,500,000 plant by the Cranston Print Works of Rhode Island between Asheville and Hendersonville.

College Women's Group Holds Annual Meeting

The National Association of College Women, organized in 1923, has twenty-one branches in fourteen states and the District of Columbia.

It has published fourteen annual Journals, the ten-year report of activities of the Standards Committee, a Monograph on Library in Colleges for Negro Youth besides periodic circulation of mimeographed bulletins of the findings of quarterly meetings of the Executive Committee.

Fourteen annual conventions since the temporary organization in 1923 have been held. Five regional conferences have also been called by sectional directors.

The general educational aims of the organization are (1) to be acquainted with educational trends and experiments (2) to study their implications and evaluate their potential force and practicability (3) to make contributions to the philosophy of education (4) to make scientific investigations whenever possible, assembling and analyzing data on educational subjects (5) to keep constantly in touch with and collaborate with national and local educational agencies.

In regards to problems of secondary and college education, the organization keeps informed of conditions affecting Negro students in (Continued on page 8, this section)

Quints Born; All Five Die

NEW ORLEANS—It was a happy moment for Alberta Allen, but sadness soon overcame it when she gave birth to quintuplets at Charity Hospital June 27. Four hours later, they were dead.

Weighing from nine and a half to 12 ounces, Dr. A. L. Cotton, pediatrician stated "They were too small. There was no possible way to keep them alive." Dr. Cotton hesitated to classify the babies as sex, although Dr. Alvin Wexler, head physician at Charity Hospital thought there were three boys and two girls.

The babies were born three months prematurely. Their mother, 26 year old field hand, living on (Continued on page 8, this section)

DURHAM SUIT IN TOP COURT SEEKS ONE RULE

By CAROLINIAN Staff Writer — DURHAM, N. C.—To be or not to be . . . that is the question concerning the legality of equality of school facilities offered white and Negro children in North Carolina.

The Durham School suit was filed in Middle District Federal Court about 13 months ago by a group of Negroes, including school children, parents, or guardians. This suit developed into a trial, which opened Monday, June 26 in Durham with Judge Johnson J. Hayes presiding.

This, not being a jury trial, will (Continued on page 8, this section)
