Playtime With Mitchell

By CARL L. EASTERLING
Guest for George Mitchell

For the second consecutive week I am writing "Play Time" for Mitchell. Since I am doing this I shall take full responsibility for any statement made at this time.

In the last sentence of my remarks last week, I stated that George Mitchell would be glad to discuss recreation problems with any one for the benefit of all. I meant just that.

Listen folk, let's get the right slan on this business of recreation. I have been active in recreation circles of Raleigh since the mid thirties. During this time I have met knockers and supporters of Latham, Pullen, Weatherford and now Mitchell. One thing stands out. We place too much responsibility on the shoulders of the administrators.

Too often when we make any worthwhile contribution to recreation we feel that we are doing something for the leader only. This point of view is detrimental to the service. Furthermore, when we fail to help for the benefit of the leaders, we contribute to Cure delinquency in youth. This point of view is also narrow. Recreation is

ST. AMBROSE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"The Spontaneity of God" will be the Reverend George A. Fisher's subject Sunday August 27 from the text, "So he got up and went off to his father. But when he was still far off, his father saw him and felt pity for him and ran to him to fall upon his neck and kiss him." St. Luke 15:20 (Moffatt Translation.)

A basis of his sermon, the minister summarizes it that "to be god like, we must enter into the full life of Jesus Christ. We must go beyond our family, friends, and nation in the exercise of affection and the display of friendliness; we must outru our churches, societies, and organized life. By allowing room for the play of the Spontaneous, we shall make this larger life possible."

The minister further emphasizes that "the present spontaneity of young men and women who are offering themselves for services in the armed forces of the United States and United Nations afford an example of the spirit we should emulate in the Christian Church."

The Reverend Fisher concludes his message showing "what a contrast these young people are to our (mechanical) exaltation of prudential motives, for example saving money, becoming rich, making friends fearing the make enemies obtaining place, marrying with caution, rearing children with a purpose having an eye on the main chance, avoiding controversy, be cease eating not for dying rich, successful and popular and going to hell."

TUPPER MEMORIAL BAPTIST

From the text, "And seeing the multitude He went up into the mountain and when He was set His disciples came unto Him . . . Matt. 5:1," the Rev. C. C. Jones will open the first Sunday in September with the sermon topic, "SETTING."

The Tupper Memorial Church minister highlights his sermon saying that "the purpose of Jesus going to the mountain was to have his disciples come unto Him so that they could better understand man's relationship to God and with man."

"Jesus wanted the multitude of people helped spiritually, morally, socially, and mentaly. To do this was the task of his disciples. They had to be set spiritually, morally, socially, and mentally."

Rev. Jones will conclude his message in saying that "we must live on the mountain with Jesus so that He can set us in His way to do our work."

The morning worship begins at 11:a.m.
