Pre-Game 'Dope' Gives C. I. A. A. To N. C. C. Team

DURHAM — Durham's Athletic Park is the site and Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 23, 1950, is the date that two North Carolina College teams — the N. C. College Eagles and the A. and T. College Aggies engage in a football game the outcome of which will determine the football champions of the Colored Intercollegiate Athletic Association. The N. C. College team is favored to win the game and accompanying title. The clash will mark the first time in the 32-year history of the CIAA that a North Carolina College team has won the laurels, depending on the outcome. A. and T. College already has a single conference championship on its record. PERSONALITIES CLASH At CAROLINIAN presstime some 32 hours before the title clash, observers both here and all over the area being covered by a bevy of reporters opined that the game will mark the clash between leading stars for both teams in the persons of Butler "Blaujaice" Taylor, N. C. College's star back and William "Red" Jackson, leading

Project Named For McDougald

DURHAM — A new multi-unit Negro housing development to be constructed here will be named in honor of the late Robert L. Mc-

Dougald it was announced here this week.

The area in which the project, to be called McDougald Terrace will be constructed, is in a sector that Mr. McDougald helped to develop during his many years as a leader in land promotion and development here, it was pointed out. The project, being built under the auspices of the local Housing Authority, is scheduled to consist of 200 units to be occupied by low-income family groups.

WAS NOTED LEADER A noted leader in many phases of business, Mr. McDougald now deceased some four years, was a graduate of North Carolina College here and did much to foster the improvement of his alma mater.

He was executive vice-president of the Mechanics and Farmers Bank, vice-president of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, vice-president of the Bankers Fire Insurance Company, one of the organizers and vice-president of the Mutual Building and Loan Association and was director of the Regal Holding Company.

Upon being advised this week (Continued on page 8, this section)

Man Who Broke Up Church Meet Fined

(By Staff Correspondent) WINTON — The "sisters" who usually sit on the "mourners' bench" are not yet over their fright, and at least one member of the choir has yet to regain her high soprano voice. The reason for their shortcomings, however, has been fathomed and some solution made. Luther Manning has paid for his deed.

Yes, Luther Manning, who invaded a service at Newsome Grove Baptist Church here in an intoxicated condition on November 5, and "broke it up" drew a $100 fine and paid the costs of court here last week. Manning was found to have been guilty of being intoxicated, disturbing a religious service, and using profanity in public by Recorder's Court Judge W. Dare Boone.

HOW IT HAPPENED Manning became involved in the toils of litigation when he entered the church on the morning mentioned above and sat attendants at the Sunday School services scampering for cover as he spent 15 or 20 minutes trying to persuade his grown daughter to leave the services with him.

Persons in attendance at the services declare that Manning's "carrying-on" were atrocious. They report that he used profanity in a never-ending flow and promised to make it possible for each and every person at the service to meet "Saint Peter" sooner. (Continued on page 8, this section) council, Tuesday morning was found guilty in Recorder's Court, with Judge George L. Peschau presiding, of violating a city ordinance which makes it unlawful to make improper proposals to a female, as a near-capacity courtroom listened intently as venerable and profound Judge Peschau told Allen that "there are some decent colored people here as there are white people," and that they must not be molested nor must efforts be made to break up their homes. Allen was fined $50 and the costs.

He was first charged with assaulting a female, in the person of Mrs. Ernestine Peyton, wife of William H. Peyton, of 1123 South 7th street, by forcing her against her will into his car at the corner of 5th and Marstella streets. Judge Peschau found Allen not guilty on this count, citing the recent decision of the Supreme Court against pre-arrested evidence. Allen was allegedly "trapped" by Mrs. Peyton and city police who told the plaintiff to arrange the meeting after her complaints (Continued on page 8, this section)

GOVERNOR SCOTT TO ADDRESS N. C. C. CONFAB

DURHAM — Governor W. Kerr Scott will address the Fourth Annual Piedmont Resource-Use Education Conference and colleg community in B. N. Duke Auditorium, North Carolina College, on December 8th at 8:00 P. M. according to an announcement made this week by Dr. Theodore R. Speigner, director, Bureau of Resource-Use, Education at NCC and Area Chairman of the Piedmont Resource-Use Education Conference.

The Area Work Conference is designed primarily to help supervisors, principals, teachers, parents, and students explore techniques for "using our State's resources to enrich learning and to improve the levels of living for all citizens." The general theme of the conference is "Using Our State's Resources to Improve Learning and Living." The conference program will get underway at 10:00 A. M. in B. N. Duke Auditorium, December 8. Delegates from seventeen counties will be given the opportunity in each clinic during the afternoon session to describe practical projects in resource-use which have been concluded and those that are being carried on now.

Opponent Sought For Maryland 11 In Raleigh Game

RALEIGH — A "Best" football game is to be played in Raleigh on December 8, giving the state a replacement event for the now-defunct Tobacco Bowl Classic formerly staged annually at Durham. The game, for which a team to oppose the undefeated Maryland State College Hawks still must be selected, will probably be played between the visiting Maryland team and one of North Carolina's leading colleges. (Continued on page 8, this section)

Washington High Cops State Title

RALEIGH — A crowd of some 2,000 chilled spectators was on hand at Chavis Park Field here last Friday as the Little Blues football team from the local Washington High School racked up a 14 to 0 win over the Red Devils of Price High School, Salisbury, to clinch the 1950 football championship of the North Carolina Negro High School Athletic Association. The Friday twilight win gave the Raleigh team its eighth state championship in two and a half decades. The local team was already in possession of the championship (Continued on page 8, this section)

TB Workers Map Drive

INSPECT EFFORTS' RESULTS — Members of a committee of volunteers organized to raise funds to further the activities of the Wake County Tuberculosis Association here inspect some of the equipment being used to fight the disease in the county. Pictured are A. E. Brown, chairman of the committee and members Mrs. Olessa Roberts, Mrs.

Nelson Perry, the Rev. P. H. Johnson and Mrs. Leonidas Frazier, looking over X-Ray equipment at the Raleigh office of the Association.
