ABOUT TOWN

BY SARAH VIRGO

Cupid scored another target when the Cooke-Poe Nuptial Vows were solemnized Sunday, February 11, 1951.

In a candlelight home ceremony Sunday afternoon 5:30 o'clock, Miss Olive Mae Poe daughter of William Lulu Poe, and the late E. P. Poe, became the bride of Albert Cooke, Jr., of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cooke, 314 West Lenox Street, Raleigh.

The Rev. O. S. Bullock officiated at the double ring ceremony with piano music being furnished by the bride's niece, Miss Mildred Dunston of Richmond, Va. Mrs. Mary Carter was the officiant.

Given in marriage by her brother the bride wore a blue all-occasion dress with matching hat and bouquet accessories. She carried a bouquet of orchids with sweet peas and streamers of red roses. Johnnie Hawkins was best man.

The mother of the bride wore a black crepe dress. Her corsage was of red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a grey dress. Her corsage was also of red roses.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The dining room table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with candles on each side of the three tier wedding cake.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Lulu Poe, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cooke, parents of the groom, Mrs. A. R. Hamilton and Mrs. Jessie Cooke of Washington, D. C., and the bride's father, Mr. B. F. Montague, were served by the bride's sister and brother-in-law.

Immediately following the reception, the couple left for Washington, D. C. where they will make their home.

For traveling the bride wore a navy suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Miss Cooke is a student of Washington High School, Raleigh. She received her A. B. degree in elementary education in February from Shaw University. While attending Shaw she was a member of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority.

The bride's father is a graduate of Washington High School and attended Shaw University. He is now employed in the United States Post Office in Washington, D. C.

Among out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Battle, South Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Nancy C. Brown, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. William Battle, South Orange, N. J.; and Mr. and Mrs. William Dunston of Richmond, Va. Many friends and relatives were present also.

Party
Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Dehnam were honored at a dinner party, Saturday evening, February 10 at their home in celebration of their anniversary.

Guests were members of Beta Lambda Sigma Chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho sorority. Gifts included a set of silver in their pattern from the hostess. They also received numerous presents from sorority members and friends. Guests included Mesdames A. W. West, G. H. Manly, Mary G. Carter, Romaine S. Lambert and Miss Willie Howell.

CLUBS
The Raleigh Junior Community Club under the supervision of Mesdames: Minnie McNeil, Rosella Womack and Dollie Rowland met Sunday, February 11, 1951 at the home of Miss Melba Byrd, Miss Jean Poole presiding. After the business session, where many ideas were given to aid in the Fayetteville Street Church building fund, a dainty repast was served by the hostess.

CHURCH NEWS

On the evening of February 11, 1951, the Young People's Department of the Providence Holy Church sponsored a musical in support of the Founders Day of the Bible Training Institute in Goldsboro, N. C.

Participants on the program were students from Washington High School along with talents from the city and the church. Remarks were given by Rev. James A. Forbes, pastor and president of the Bible Training school.

The members of the Young People's No. 4 Sunday School class of Fayetteville Street Baptist Church are more than happy to report that their teacher, Mrs. Ardelia Smith is improving very nicely from an illness. In her absence, Miss Jean Poole has done a great job in conducting the classes.

Mrs. George Mays spent the week end in the city visiting relatives and friends. She returned to her home in Norfolk, Virginia.

Mrs. L. E. Wood Williams of 19 Lincoln Terrace spent the weekend with her mother in Norfolk, Va.

Before the war, Mr. Nicholaszanski, an attorney from Eastern Europe, will appear as guest speaker at St. Augustine's college February 14.

Miss Pearl Wortham, instructor of the eighth grade at Washington School has a new job, teaching remedial reading to those students classified as slow readers.

Miss Wortham will work with the three schools, teaching those students who need additional instruction. She began her instruction last week following several weeks of preparation including attendance at a reading clinic held at Temple University by Dr. E. A. Betts, one of the nation's foremost authorities on reading.

Opened on Sunday, February 11, 1951, was the Washington Terrace branch of the Richard E. Harrison Public Library, Mrs. B. L. Davis, librarian, has volunteered to serve as librarian without compensation. The new library is the latest addition to the 267-unit housing development recently completed in Raleigh.
