Sister Gary Will Run For Council If Citizens Demand

"Gruesome Twosome" Held

CHARLOTTE — A local duo has been termed the "gruesome twosome" following an altercation here recently.

Facing charges in Mecklenburg County Superior Court on assault charges are Miss Ola E. Fuller and Willie Douglas. The two are charged with the brutal beating of one Robert Aikens, also a local resident.

Aikens told a lower court here this week that Miss Fuller and Daniels came to his home recently and together hit him a total of three times upon the head with a beer bottle.

When he was almost unconscious, Aikens continued, the Fuller woman poured upon him with a pick hammer, breaking his leg in three places.

A&T College Students Face Charge

A. & T. STUDENTS CHARGED IN MEAL TICKET THEFTS

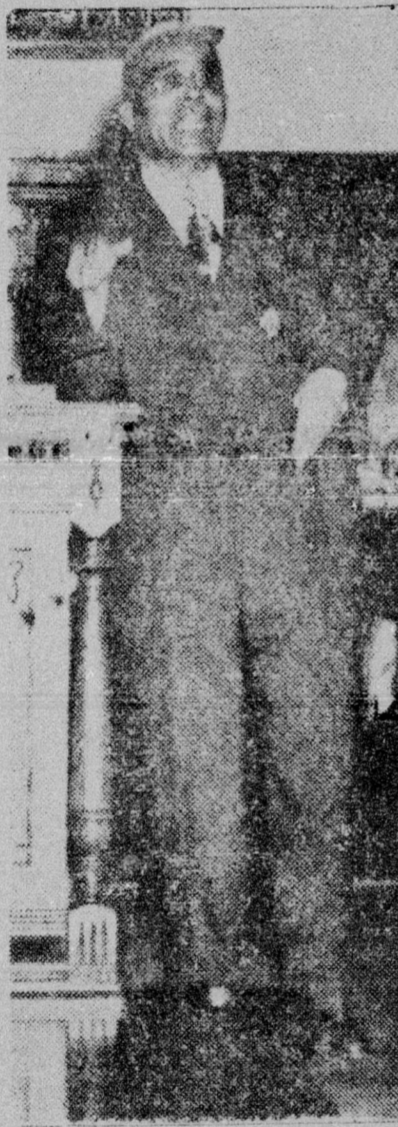

Seven Of Group Said To Have Received Goods From 2 Others

GREENSBORO — A&T College students face charges here this week in a case growing out of the theft of college meal ticket books valued at $220.

Of the nine, seven are charged with receiving stolen property. Scheduled to face trial in Municipal Court here Friday on charges of theft of the tickets are Winston Childs and Matthew Henry.

Students scheduled to face trial on charges of receiving stolen property are David Venable, Charles Griffin, John H. Banks, Elsie Pate, Morris J. Jones, James Farmer and William R. Edwards.

College officials have termed the entire circumstances a "regrettable affair."

RALEIGH CAPTAIN RECEIVES HONOR

RALEIGH — According to information received here this week, local U. S. Army Captain Leonard L. Jackson has received military honors.

Third Army Headquarters at Fort McPherson, Ga., announced that Capt. Jackson has been (Continued on page 8, this section)

PLANTS APATHY — G. W. Cox, N. C. Mutual Life Insurance Company vice president, is pictured addressing the annual meeting of the Raleigh Citizens Association last Sunday. Mr. Cox decried the apparent lack of interest shown by Raleigh residents in the Association. (See "My Opinion," page four).

N.C. Fire Victims Total 15

SANFORD MAN DIES AS FLAMES DESTROY HOME

Victims 14 and 15 Listed; Morganton's "Torch" Succumbs

RALEIGH — Fire claimed two more victims in North Carolina during the past week period, a CAROLINIAN survey reveals.

This week's deaths bring to 15 the total of deaths caused during a fire or its aftermath during the past three months among Negroes in the State, the survey reveals.

Dead of injuries sustained when fire destroyed his home near Jonesboro last Sunday afternoon is Willie Douglas, 23, a farmer.

The young farmer's badly charred body was found in the debris which marked the spot where the 2-room home once stood. His wife and two children missed the holocaust, being away from home visiting relatives. (Continued on page 8, this section)

NOTED PASTOR MAY SEEK CITY COUNCIL POST

Survey Shows Public Would Rally Behind Woman Leader's Bid

RALEIGH — A CAROLINIAN survey this week reveals that the Rev. Mabel Gary, known to thousands of persons as "Sister Gary" and pastor of Grace A.M.E. Zion Church here, is the sole local citizen in public domain who will consider seeking a seat on the Raleigh City Council.

The survey further reveals that Rev. Mrs. Gary stands a "very favorable" chance of being elected if she enters the local councilmanic race. Numerous persons, speaking for themselves and for various local organizations, indicate that their groups and that they, themselves, would be "willing to aid" in Mrs. Gary's quest for the post if she were to run.

A forceful leader who has continually championed local civic and charity campaigns, Rev. Gary has been pastor of the Grace Church congregation for some 14 years, being repeatedly sent back to that charge by her church conference group.

As leader of the local church group, Rev. Gary has organized youth groups to aid in the decrease of juvenile delinquency. Her weekly Sunday night broadcast boasts one of the highest listener quotas (Continued on page 8, this section)

It Happened In Carolina

Wins By Talking

GOLDSBORO — Because she had the greatest oratorical ability, Miss Marilyn Herring is a "winner."

Miss Herring, a sophomore at Carver High School, Mount Olive, won first sectional honors at an elimination oratorical contest sponsored here last Sunday by Bryant Best Post No. 214, American Legion, preparatory to admittance to the state-wide contest to be staged soon.

Miss Herring's winning oration was on the subject "The Constitution in a Changing World." Ten students from four schools took part in the contest.

In The Pokey

GREENVILLE — At last report early this week, Roy Teel, 45, was in the local pokey — that's the jail-house.

Teel became a guest of the county on charges of slugging Randolph Parker, 56, to death with a knife (Continued on page 8, this section)

CHAMPS, AGAIN — Boasting the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association Basketball championship again this year is the North Carolina College Eagles floor squad. The Durham team closed its visitation season last Tuesday night with a 67 to 61 win over Lincoln (Pa.) University to farther top honors. The Eagles this week-end are taking part in the annual CIAA tournament at Washington, D.C. Members of the squad are front row, left to right, Tom Ramsey, Belmar, N. C.; George Green, Washington, D. C.; Arthur Jordan, Nashville, Tenn.; Ernest Warlick, Hickory, N.C.; and Rudy Robinson, New York City. Second row, left to right, are Troy Weaver, Durham, N.C.; (co-captain), Benjie Dix, E. Chicago, Ind.; Chas. Harrison, Houston, Texas; Jay Peterson, Washington, D.C.; (co-captain); and Willie Travis, Newport News, Va.

RETURN TO SPRING TO N. C. — Miss Velma Hooper, a Bennett College student of interpretative dance, gives her interpretation of the Return of Spring to the Bennett Campus and to the State of North Carolina. Miss Hooper is one of the dancers who will be featured when the Bennett interpretative dance group appears at the state Teachers' Association meeting at Shaw University's splendid gymnasium on March 16.

Medical School Suit May Be Filed Friday

GREENSBORO — It is highly possible that a suit in which a Negro seeks admission to the Medical School at the University of North Carolina will be filed here Friday, it was learned this week.

It is expected that attorneys for the State and National Chapters of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will file the suit noting discrimination against Negro students wishing to pursue medical education in Federal District Court here on the above date.

The suit is to be filed in behalf of James Edward Thomas, a native of Wilmington, who has achieved brilliant records in many fields.

An honor graduate of Wilmington's Williston's High School, Thomas maintained a "dean's list" record at Shaw University, Raleigh, where his graduation into the United States Navy was a result of the grade of ensign by virtue of successful completion of courses at Cornell University under Naval auspices.

A "scientist" and "pre-med" major in high school and college, Thomas gained position as an instructor in chemistry at Shaw University following graduation.

The case scheduled to be filed here Friday has been some three years in preparation, it was learned.

It has been noted that while the state of North Carolina grants "out-of-state" aid to students seeking education in the field of medicine, there is no institution utilized by Negro students in the State that is prepared to offer any courses in actual medical education.

Miracle Drug Fund Grows; More Sought

Citizens, Organizations Rally To Call For Funds For Drug To Save Hospital Patient; More Needed

RALEIGH — Contributions to a fund formed here to financially aid a woman victim of a rare skin disease have been "highly encouraging" the CAROLINIAN was told this week, yet more contributions are an immediate need and will be a future need, it was learned.

Mrs. Ada Ellis, middle-aged mother of three children and resident of Roseville near here, was organized by a resident staff doctor of the local Saint Agnes Hospital, has gained a new lease on life by virtue of support of appeals made in her behalf by various means.

Victim of a malady for which a highly-expensive "miracle drug" is the only known cure and repellent, Mrs. Ellis has been a patient at the local hospital for some few weeks, and is soon to be discharged from the institution. Four years of treatment by specialists, hospitalization and other circumstances depleted the mother of three's holdings, making her personal purchase of cortisone valued at roughly $30 per period's treatment an impossibility.

In addition to personal appeals for financial aid made by Dr. Catherine Madrilson of the Saint Agnes Hospital resident staff and this newspaper, other persons and institutions have acted in the woman's behalf.

CHURCHES HELP

Notable among these are Raleigh churches, many of which have contributed to the fund. Following an appeal in her weekly Sunday night broadcast, the Rev. Mable Gary, pastor of Grace A.M.E. Zion Church (Continued on page 8, this section)
