

Rosalie Williams' CAROLINIAN SOCIETY

The Weatherman smiled with favor upon Milady as she paraded in her Easter finery last Sunday on her way to the Church of her choice. In ideal spring weather (only a teeny bit nippy) record crowds turned out to celebrate the arising from the dead of the Prince of Peace. As the fashion experts had predicted, navy blue was the favorite color in the ladies' Easter wardrobes. You were lovely, ladies. Let's keep before us all through the year the more serious purpose of the Easter Holiday.

On Easter Monday at 1 p. m., the home of Mrs. Mildred Orey Taylor was the scene of a most enjoyable bridge club luncheon. Mrs. Taylor, assisted by her lovely daughter-in-law, Maria, was hostess to the Capital City Bridge Club and some of her other friends on this occasion. An exceptionally tasty menu consisting of turkey, tossed salad, green lima beans, home made rolls, ice cream and coffee was served in the gay atmosphere of the home decorated in keeping with the season.

Guests had just settled down to a session of griddle when they had a delightful surprise: Mrs. Pearl Byrd Larsen, formerly of Raleigh and now of the Virgin Islands, "dropped in". Bridge was suspended for a while for everyone to say hello etc., etc. I have it from reliable sources that even when bidding was resumed, it was none too efficient. In all the excitement, one lady is said to have made a bid with only two cards in her hand (that, ha!) But they had a good time anyway.

First prize was won by Mrs. Garnell Watts and second prize by Mrs. Chloe Orey Laws. First guest prize was won by Mrs. Julia Delany and second guest prize went to Mrs. Catherine Winters. Members of the Capital Bridge Club present were Mesdames Chloe Laws, Mabel Wortham, Sadie Swain, Garnell Watts, C. B. Ligon, Sophronia Townes, and Thelma Keck.

Guests present were Mesdames Dora Orey, Marguerite White, Julia Delany, Catherine Winters, Audia Handlin, Mamie McCauley, Louise Perrin, Gertrude Harris, Ruby Fisher, Lucille Vass, Willie Kay, Gertrude Trigg, Louise McClellan, and Lizzie Constant.

After a most enjoyable soiree, guests reluctantly departed with a few close friends remaining for a tete a tete with their hostess and her newly arrived guest, Mrs. Larsen.

Mrs. Isobel C. Clark spent the weekend in Philadelphia with her family. Miss Almida Bryant motored to Washington, D. C. to spend Easter with her sister, Mrs. Catherine Larkin who was hostess to her mother, Mrs. Estelle Lattimer of Abbeville, S. C., and her niece and nephew Barbara Anderson and Robert Anderson, Jr., of Greenville, S. C. The J. B. Coffields were hosts to Mrs. Coffield's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. D. G. Brandon of Baltimore, Maryland. Dr. Brandon is professor at Morgan College and Mrs. Brandon is a teacher in the public school system. The Brandon's daughter, Peggy, accompanied them.

Mrs. Ann Cooke, head of the Drama Department at Howard University and Mrs. Ruth Young, Art Instructor at Howard and wife of Dr. Moses Young of the same institution were weekend guests of Mrs. Julia Delany. Also guests in the Delany home were Mrs. E. Franklin Frazier and Mrs. Eunice Robbins both sisters of Mrs. Delany.

Ladies, have you seen the handsome quartet of new interns at St. Agnes Hospital? In an effort to improve its services to patients, St. Agnes has become affiliated with Meharry School in a program in which students from Meharry are used at the local hospital. The new foursome from Meharry include Dr. Robert McDowell of Morrisville, Tennessee, who did his undergraduate work at Morris Brown College; Dr. Homer Nash, Jr., of Atlanta, Georgia, undergraduate of Morehouse College; Dr. Douglas Ford of Detroit, Michigan, graduate of Wayne College; and Dr. Benjamin Covington of Hamlet, N. C., graduate of Livingston College in Salisbury, N. C.

These young men are scheduled to remain in Raleigh at St. Agnes until the first of May.

Mrs. Hattie Edmondson is beaming with happiness as she plans for a reception for her son William R. Jr., and his bride. The newlyweds will be in Raleigh during the first part of April. The new Mrs. Edmondson is a 1950 graduate of Howard University, a nutrition major, a Delta, a native of St. Louis, and mama-in-law says she's cute, she's pretty and she's sweet. The bridegroom is at present doing his resident work at Homer G. Phillips Hospital in St. Louis. He has already received a commission in the Air Force and will be on his way soon. Dr. Edmondson is a local boy, a product of Washington High School and Shaw University.

I have just received from Mrs. Elvora Kee a brief report on her trip as delegate to the National Convention of the National Association of College Women which met in Charleston, West Virginia, last Friday and Saturday. From all indications, this was a well planned, well carried out convention. A movie was made of all outstanding features; delegates were met by cameramen as they descended from the train. Over 250 persons attended the convention held on the campus of West Virginia State College.

Mrs. Kee was in the home of Mrs. Ross Howard while there. At the public meeting, featured speaker was Mrs. Olive Remington Goldman, Representative to the United Nations Commission on the Status of Women and Chief of Public Education, Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. She is reported as being exceptionally well informed and dynamic.

The International Youth Symposium which featured representatives from ten different countries was of great interest. Each participant spoke briefly on "Working Together for Peace." The Coordinator of the panel was from the Virgin Islands and a summary was made by a Scottish lass. Participants were from nearby colleges and schools.

Recipient of the $1000 fellowship this year was Mrs. Bennetta Bullock Washington, daughter of Dr. Bullock of Washington, D. C. This amount will help complete requirements for the Ph.D. degree.

At the banquet, featured speakers were Mrs. Inez Browner, former vice-president and newly elected president of the NACW and Miss Willie P. Russell, dean of women at West Virginia State College. Other Raleighites attending the convention were Miss Margaret Bugz, National Circulation Secretary, and Mrs. Jimmie Buzz Middleton, National Treasurer of the NACW.

One last item: Yours Truly and Spouse are observing our second wedding anniversary today (Tuesday). Off to class I must go now and later think of something special in the way of observance. SEE YOU NEXT WEEK. — R. B. W.

MAPLE TEMPLE CHURCH NEWS

BY JOSEPHINE TERRELL

Dear friends, I am happy to greet you again in the name of the Lord Jesus after such a glorious Easter season.

Our Sunday School lesson was very interesting. It dealt mostly with the resurrection of Christ and it was explained very well by students from the primary, intermediate, and Junior classes.

Music for the days service was furnished by the Junior Choir with Mrs. Newman at the organ. Although suffering with a terrible cold, our pastor preached a soul stirring sermon.

After the sermon, we were favored with a duet by Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Lee.

At 4 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Lucette Rucen, the Senior Usher Board gave a spiritual tea for the benefit of the Pastor's Popularity Contest. We all had a nice time. A short program was rendered with Mrs. Mary Weaver, mistress of ceremonies. The program consisted of songs and testimonials. We were served delicious Russian tea, candy, cookies, Easter eggs and little Bunnies arranged on colorful dishes. Mrs. Ruben and Mrs. Leach were the hostesses.

At 7 p. m. students of the Sunday School gave their annual Easter Pageant under the direction of Mrs. M. P. Booker and Mrs. L. Hayward. This was a delightful play and the children were well trained.

Following the program everybody enjoyed seeing a picture, "The Resurrection of Christ."

ABOUT TOWN

BY SARAH VIRGO

RALEIGH — How were your holidays? Real great I hope. I saw you around in your Easter finery. Was it the church, dance, movie or ball game? I can't seem to remember just where. Oh well let's see what happened "about town" while you were busy in the Easter parade.

First of course, Easter has always had its religious significance and all the Raleigh Churches gave special attention to that. The communion services held in some of these churches were very impressive as well as inspiring. All the services signified that "Christ is indeed risen."

Easter day was very beautiful much to everyone's joy. In the Easter parade, being quite cool and attractive were to name a few: The Misses Mary Yarborough, Julia Bryant, Barbara Whyte, Barbara Smith, Gloria Lester, Delores Williams, Joletha Doe. There were many more out and about and will not allow us to name all of them.

There were many visitors in Raleigh for the holidays, along with students home for the holidays from the many colleges.

Visiting Miss Sarah Sewell on Sunday was Mr. Charles Glenn, from Virginia. Also visiting from Virginia was Miss Evelyn Fields who was the guest of Mrs. Willis. Also in the city were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cameron of Fayetteville.

Home from colleges were: Samuel Goodson, Leon Lawson, Elizabeth Wallace, Rebecca Delaine, Bessie McNeil, James Wallace, Glenwood Jones, Sidney Roberts. It was good to see these friends.

CLUB ACTIVITIES
Mrs. Alma West organized the Cherry Club of children from 9-13 years of age. The purpose of the club is to teach the children to live happily in creating activities of their own.

The Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority will give Sigma Week with Mrs. Rhea DeSheld as guest speaker at their Vespers Services at the Shaw University Church on Sunday, April 1. Oh yes, there will be a chapter of the sorority organized at St. Augustine's College with in the next two weeks.

The Gertrude Richards Art Club will present "Mademoiselle's Fashion Show" at 7:30 p. m. at St. Augustine's College on Saturday, March 31.

The Raleigh Junior Community Club was entertained on Monday evening by Mrs. Rosella Wondack, club advisor.

DINNER GUESTS
Dr. and Mrs. Brandon of Morgan College, Baltimore, Md., were entertained at a Buffet Supper, Easter Sunday night at the home of Mrs. Gordon West. Mrs. Dorothy Rogers entertained Miss Mary Yarborough at dinner also on Sunday.

MOVIE PARTY
The Double Four, a club of teen age girls, enjoyed themselves at a movie party on Easter Monday. The members of the club are Celestine Rogers, Marguerite Mann, Juanita Thorpe, Joyce Gray, Phoebe Gibson, Daisy Jones, De Juanita Browning and Julia Bryant. The guest of the club for the evening was Ruth A. Carter.

BIG DANCE
At the Memorial Auditorium, March 26, Joe Higgins and his band "Honey drippers, featuring Candy Rivers, played at a big dance. The crowd thoroughly enjoyed the affair and the hall was definitely jumping.

GAME
Also on Monday Shaw University Baseball team ended its season by defeating the St. Augustine's College Falcons at Chavis Park. The game was well attended regardless of the number of students gone home for the holidays.

SCHOOL NEWS
During last week the Washington School celebrated Holy Week.

SOJOURNER TRUTH YWCA

The regular monthly meeting of the Public Relations Committee was held at the Y on Monday night, March 19th. The chairman and members discussed National Y Week and various suggestions were mentioned regarding publicity for that week, April 22-30, 1951. Mrs. Mildred James is chairman.

The Sojourner Truth "Y" House Committee met on Tuesday night. Policies and possibilities of new policies were discussed. The group toured the house to determine the immediate needs. Plans were made to fix up the lounge by National Y Week and to have the house ready for Open House. Members of the Committee have decided to give things from their own homes that the Y could use. Mrs. A. G. Logan is chairman of this group.

The B. and I. Club held its regular meeting at the "Y" on Tuesday night. Miss Blonnie Slade presided. A partial report of the Barbershop was given by Miss Marjorie Horton. A plan was sent to Mrs. Ethel Young, who is ill in St. Agnes Hospital. Mrs. Young is the mother of Miss Evelyn Young, who is our president. Two new members, Miss Louise Penny and Miss Mattie Brodie were presented at this meeting.

The Y Membership Drive is still making slow progress. The goal for 1,000 members has not been reached. Also, all of our friends to whom letters were sent have not been contacted by a worker. Please let us know by calling 2-3432 or mail us your check, remember the Y needs you very much this year.

Plan now, not only to join the Y, but plan to work in it, meet your friends, have fun and enjoy the Y.

Y-TEEN NEWS
Good Friday, March 23, marked the second of annual city-wide Y-Teen Easter Egg Hunt. Thirty-three girls from all parts of the city representing elementary schools — Crosby-Garfield, Oberlin, Lucille Hunter and Washington 8th grade were present.

The eggs were hid by Shirley McKnight and Yvonne O'Neal, members of the high school inter-club council. House games were played plus ping pong.

The egg finding the "black egg" was Martha Dunn of Lucille Hunter School. The egg with "Miss Y-Teen" on it was found by Mary Johns. She was crowned "Miss Y-Teen". The girl finding the "bleak egg" was Frances Carr. Each girl received a new gift for her achievement.

After the eggs were found and practically eaten the girls went over to Chavis Heights Recreation Center to play ball. Every one had lots of fun.
