BOOZE CRACKDOWN NETS 30

Twin City Site Of Mass Arrests

Special To CAROLINIAN
WINSTON-SALEM—At least 30 local Negro residents were arrested in eight hours on whiskey charges here last Sunday morning as ABC undercover agents clinched a 10-week assignment aimed at keeping the Twin City's first year of alcoholic control under control.

Following a 15-minute "briefing" at the City Hall during the early morning hours, ABC officers, city police and undercover men of both races spread through the town like an all-seeping blanket, netting 40 arrests in the eight-hour period—20 of which were Negroes.

Arrested and booked at the local jail on divers charges of violation of prohibition laws were:
Joe M. Caesar, operator of a service station at Twenty-fifth and Cherry Streets.
Miss Isabel Howard, 424 Glenn Avenue.

Co. Henry and Marrow Smith, 320 West Eleventh Street.
Miss Evelyn Childs, 410 West Park Avenue.
Dorsey Norwood, 1222 North Main Street.
James Gray, 112 West Tenth St.

Estranged Hubby Held In Holiday Death of Woman

FAYETTEVILLE — Mrs. Katie Harris Washington was found by police lying on the living room floor in the home of Mrs. Beulah Hill after she had been shot in the neck, left shoulder, and right thigh and killed about 7:00 Sunday evening.

Wilbert L. Washington, estranged husband, who allegedly murdered Mrs. Washington in the home of a friend, surrendered to officers about 6:00 Monday morning, confessed the shooting and has been charged with murder.

Ground Broken For $1 Million Project

HIGH POINT (CNN) — Ground-breaking ceremonies were held here Wednesday for a new million-dollar Negro housing village being built in Muntersi Park.

According to developers about 100 homes are to be constructed on the site and will range in price from $700 to $8500.

Sale of the projected homes was scheduled to begin at the time of the ground-breaking.

ON HEALTH COMMISSION—Dr. Charles S. Johnson, president of Fisk University is a member of the 15-man commission recently organized by President Truman to study national health needs and modes of their attainment. Chairman of the all-important commission is Dr. Paul G. Magnuson, former medical director of the Veterans Administration.

READERS SWAMP OFFICE WITH INQUIRES AS CAROLINIAN MISSES FIRST ISSUE IN 11 YEAR SPAN

For the first time in its eleven-year history, the CAROLINIAN last week failed to publish an issue, much to the consternation of readers throughout the nation.

Reason for last week's non-publication was the desire of the management to give the staff a well-earned holiday vacation. In the last-minute rush to publish the Christmas issue, however, failure to make public note of the holiday vacation plan was overlooked.

Inquiries as to the why-fores of last week's failure to publish were received as far north as Connecticut; south as Florida and west as Arizona, indicating that "North Carolina's Leading Weekly" is sorely missed, even though it is for only one week in eleven years.

MAN ON WAY TO FUNERAL DIES

MORGANTON (CNN)—A well-known Burke County farmer died enroute to the funeral of his only brother here Sunday.

John Henry Summers, 51, was stricken with a fatal heart attack about 1:30 p. m. as he rode along with other persons on the way to funeral services to be held for his brother at 2 p. m.

A resident of Glen Alpine nearby, Summers and the party he was in were enroute to the church, site of the funeral, when the seizure took place.

Plans for his funeral were incomplete at CAROLINIAN pres-

Student Released As Greensboro Respects Edict

GREENSBORO—Greensboro law enforcement officers last week respected a United States Supreme Court ruling and released a Negro student who had been jailed for refusing to sit in the rear of an interstate bus.

Robert Shannon, 20, of Washington, was released from city jail following an order from E. D. Kuykendahl, municipal county court prosecutor.

Shannon had been arrested at about 9:30 a. m. December 26 at Union Bus Station when he refused to move from his seat near the front of a Greyhound bus from Winston-Salem. He was released at 2 p. m.

The State-In Brief....

BY CAROLINIAN NEWS NETWORK

Safe, Sane New Year Weekend

RALEIGH — A safe and sane pre-New Years weekend was spent by the state's Negro citizens, a survey by the Carolinian News Network reveals.

In two cases of tragedy recorded, Leonard Bobo of Lexington lost his life Saturday in an argument over a gambling debt at a Lexington cafe. Held in investigation of the slaying is Edgar Bohanan. James Earl Williams, 20, of Kingston, died Saturday of a shotgun wound the Lenoir County coroner said it was self-inflicted.

A Little Too Affectionate

NEW BERN — Richard Parker, local resident, is in a great deal of trouble here now because a young lady resident insists that Parker was far too affectionate during time the two spent together on Christmas Eve.

In fact, Miss Irene Dove has charged Parker with criminally assaulting her during his period of affection.

He will face preliminary hearing on a rape charge Friday.

Small Child Is Scalded

DURHAM — A two-year-old child, still celebrating Christmas here last Sunday night playfully upset a kettle of water heating on a stove in the room in which he was playing and was taken to a local hospital badly scalded.

Investigators say that tiny Leon Foster, son of Mrs. Beulah Foster of Pettigrew Street scalded about fifty per cent of his body when he upset the boiling water. Hospital attaches say his condition is fair.

A Young "Sugar Daddy"

DURHAM — Most males wait until the rare in their forties and have a heavy bank-roll before becoming "Sugar Daddies".

Not so with 17-year-old Willie Council here, however. According to local police, Council made his debut as a "Sugar Daddy" last week when he squandered upon and gave to "some girls" about $500.

Council's kind-heartedness is not what disturbs local officials, however. They have given Negro Detectives Frank McCrea and C. L. Cox the job of hunting down the girls to whom Council gave the money.

He stole it from Mrs. Mary Weldon, his foster mother, they say.

Institute Given $1500

SEDALIA — Palmer Memorial Institute here was the recipient of gifts totaling $1500 here Tuesday as the institution held its annual Roll Call Day.

For the past 15 years, students and alumni of Palmer have presented the school gifts through the annual event.

Tuesday's celebration marked the first time since its inception that Palmer's president, Dr. Charlotte Hawkins Brown has missed the event. She was making the principal address at the Emancipation Proclamation observance held at Mt. Zion Baptist Church.

Emancipation Services Held

DURHAM — Services held at 11 a. m. Tuesday at the Saint Joseph AME Church celebrating the 55th anniversary of the Emancipation.

Protests Mount As Nation Mourns Victim Of Blast

WHERE DEATH STALKED
FLORIDA NIGHT—Pictured are interior and exterior views of what was once the modest 6-room home of Harry T. Moore, 46-year-old Florida civil rights leader following a Christmas night bombing in which the former executive secretary of the Florida State branch NAACP was killed and his wife seriously injured. In top photo (X) indicates spot where bomb was placed under house. In lower photo the ramshackled scene is the bedroom in which Mr. and Mrs. Moore were sleeping when the blast occurred. (X) marks the location of the bed from which the two were thrown by the blast. Mrs. Moore is recovering from injuries in a hospital near Miami, Fla. where the tragedy occurred. Funeral services for Mr. Moore were held Tuesday.

Youth Christian Movement Seeks Race Members

WINSTON-SALEM (Special) — The local division of a nation-wide youth church movement is seeking integration of both races, it was learned here this week.

The officers and members of the local United Christian Movement has asked that Negro youth become part of their group.

The Movement, part of a nation "Call to Christian Action" for young people was recently formed here, and, in keeping with the desires of its membership this week issued a call for integration.

MEET SLATED
Groundwork for the integration got underway Monday when the Winston-Salem Ministers' Alliance, representing the city's Negro ministers met with local representatives of the Movement.

Following enforcement of the integration plans, the alliance submitted the names of several local Negro youth who are to compose a central committee along with students from the local white schools.

PRECEDENT-MAKING
The action of the movement is considered precedent-making in light of the recent "passing of the buck" which has taken place in the area's leading adult Christian circles.

Throughout 1951, efforts to integrate church groups of the leading Protestant denominations met with failure when delegates to various meetings voted to "table" all actions which would tend to cause segregation out of the Church.

Former Slave Dies At 104 Years of Age

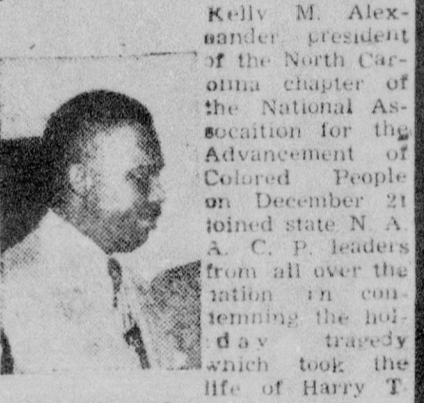

MARTINSVILLE, Va.—Mrs. Patie Hairston, former slave and one of Southside Virginia's oldest residents, died at the home of her son, Frank Hairston, here Sunday. She was 104.

Enjoying good health until recently, Mrs. Hairston is survived by 130 descendants—13 children, 107 grandchildren and 70 great-grandchildren.

STATE NAACP HEAD ISSUES DENUNCIATION

Alexander Joins In Protest; Rewards
Now Total $10,000

By CAROLINIAN News Network
RALEIGH — Protests from throughout the nation continued to pile up this week as an indignant America looks in askance toward Miami, Florida, site of the Christmas night bombing of the home of a Negro leader which resulted in one death and injury to another person.

Mr. Alexander
Moore, Florida NAACP coordinator, and seriously injured Mrs. Moore.

Mr. Alexander, speaking for the huge membership of North Carolina NAACP units served warning that "The Christmas night bombing of the home of Harry T. Moore will not in any way relinquish the work of the NAACP throughout the South."

Mr. Alexander further noted "NAACP leaders and state organizations in the south will not be intimidated by acts of violence which are weakening our democratic way of life and making mockery of the Bill of Rights, the Constitution of the United States and the United Nations Charter of Human Rights."

In issuing his denunciation of the tragedy which claimed the life of the young civil rights warrior, completely wrecked his modest six-room home and injured his wife, Mr. Alexander joins thousands of other leaders.

OTHERS PROTESTING
Among other groups and persons who have already denounced the bombing cowardly, un-American and otherwise are: Walter White, executive secretary of the National NAACP who visited the
