FREEDMAN'S HOSPITAL ARTHRITIC CLINIC TO TRAIN PHYSICIANS

Dr. James A. Watson, head of the new arthritis clinic at Freedman's Hospital, examines the knee joint of an arthritic patient. The clinic, closely integrated with Howard University, is the first of its kind to be set up in a Negro-operated hospital in conjunction with a medical school. The Washington chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation assisted in the establishment of the clinic as a part of the Foundation's nation-wide program to expand facilities for the training of physicians and the treatment of patients in this crippling disease Clinics have been set up at Georgetown and George Washington medical schools in the nation's Capital.

Dictaphone Plant Worker Is Host To Holland's Prime Minister

Willem Drees, Holland's Prime I his family live, the Bridgeport Minister is an unusual sort of politician. He insists he didn't come to ask anyone for anything, or to tell anyone how to do anything For years he has been trying to improve working and living conditions for the workers of his native country. He came here to learn how American industry operates and how American workers work and

He began his long political career as a shorthand reporter for the Amsterdam Municipal Council, Holland's Parliament. Because of his early shorthand experience, he was keenly interested in the most modern electronic dictating ma chine, the portable Time-Master; therefore, the first plant he visited in this country was that of Dicta-phone Corporation, leader in the dictating machine field.
