ABOUT TOWN

BY SARAH VIRGO

RALEIGH — Hi there! here we are again with some chatter about town, hope you aren't too busy to give us a listen. Okay let's go! I imagine the most important recent event was the Commencement Exercises of the Wachter High School held Saturday, May 31, in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

The address to the graduating class was delivered by Professor W. T. Gibbs, dean, School of Education, A. and T. College, at Greensboro. Principal C. H. McLendon presided at the exercises and announced the honors and awards. The Rev. G. A. Fisher, pronounced the invocation and the benediction was by Rev. P. H. Johnson.

The diplomas were awarded by Mayor James E. Briggs, who was introduced by Supt. Jesse O. Sanderson of Raleigh City Schools.

Wilbert A. Wilder, Jr., president of the graduating class, gave the salutatory address. Music was furnished by the concert band and the Choral Society.

Scholarships were awarded by the following colleges: Shaw University, St. Augustine's College, Hampton Institute, Bennett College, A. and T. College, Knoxville College, Livingstone College.

Prizes were also given by many sororities and fraternities. And there were many special prizes awarded to the seniors.

Well, graduation parties seem to have the day off. On Saturday afternoon, Miss Nurry Ann Turner gave a luncheon for a few friends and classmates at her home.

Present were: Messrs. Marvin Anderson, William Nichols, Otha Cox, Maurice Blalock, Howell Jones, Isaac Winfield, Everett Ricks, Misses Julia Bryant, Josephine Hunter, Sandra Peace, DeJanna Browning, Celestine Rogers, Pherris Gibson.

The delicious and quite decorative and tasty menu consisted of tuna fish salad, stuffed celery, pickles, deviled eggs, hot rolls, ice tea, potato chips ice cream and diamond shaped cakes.

As souvenirs each guest received a monogrammed napkin and miniature 'caps' and 'diplomas.'

On Thursday night after Senior Class Night Miss Celestine Rogers had an informal get-together for a few friends at her home.

Seen present were DeBerry, Jones, Pherris Gibson, Everett Wesley Copeland, Alphonsa Ricks, Margaret Mann, Alphonsa Anderson, Juanita Thorpe and Julia Bryant. Fun was everywhere that night!

There were several scholarships and prizes given out to deserving students of St. Augustine's College during Commencement exercises on Monday, May 26.

Because of the long list it would be impossible to list them all so here goes the Freshman winners. Let's give them a little publicity for having made the grade their first year in college.

The Church Service League of the Diocese of Massachusetts contributes a scholarship of $25 to be donated toward the expenses of a deserving student. Award 1952, James Lockhart.
