TEXAS SOUTHERN TO ACCEPT BIDS ON $1,500,000 BUILDING

Bids will be accepted September 15 for the $1,500,000 dormitory-unit to be built on the campus of Texas Southern University, Houston, Texas. It was announced this week. The university plans to have the new building ready for use by September, 1953.

Contributions to help defray cost of the project came from the following interested persons:

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. McTishan, $250,000; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clayton, $25,000; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dupree, $10,000; and D. B. Cannata, $2,500.

It's back to school for "Joe" college and "Mae" coed as Labor Day, the traditional holiday which heralds the end of the summer vacation, becomes history. Here is a roundup of registration dates at several colleges and universities throughout the country.

Texas Southern university is preparing for the opening of its eighth year as a state institution and its 26th year as an educational institution of higher learning September 8.

Faculty and employees began orientation Sept. 2 and will continue for a week; post session began Sept. 2, and extends through Oct. 11; freshmen will register Sept. 8, and all other students Sept. 11.

Classes begin Sept. 15. The post session is organized mainly to serve the teachers who were called back to open school in mid-July on the split session arrangement.

KNOXVILLE OPENING

A week of activities for freshmen beginning on Sept. 9 will begin the 7th academic year at Knoxville college, Knoxville, Tenn. Freshmen will register on Friday, Sept. 12, and other students on Monday, Sept. 15. Classes will officially begin Tuesday, Sept. 16.

Returning faculty members and students will find workmen well along in the construction of the college's new $90,000 Fine Arts Building to house the college's music, art, and dramatics departments. The structure should be available for instructional purposes by the beginning of the second semester, according to plans.

Students returned to Morgan State college next month probably will have difficulty in recognizing the 85-year-old institution. Morgan is undergoing a face-lifting. Workmen last week began a $200,000 renovation job aimed at giving the college a "new look."

Many familiar landmarks have been altered or completely done away with.

SHAW ADDS 8

Eight new persons have been added to the faculty of Shaw University for the 1952-53 school year, according to an announcement from the institution last week. The new members are:

Dr. Malcolm D. Williams, professor of Elementary Education and Psychology; Dr. Marguerite Adams, university counselor; S. Stanley Morris, associate professor of Economics; Charles T. Stancil, assistant professor of Physical Education; Miss Ophelia E. Morris, instructor in English; John H. Brown Jr., dean of men; Mrs. Harveligh White, instructor of Home Economics, and Henry Blackmon, instructor in Voice and Music Education.

NEW COLOR SCHEME

There will be 8,000 more colored children in D. C. public schools this fall than white, according to school officials. This is an increase over last year which saw Negro pupils excel white by 4,634. The new colored enrollment is expected to be 54,928 as compared to 46,784 for white pupils, Dr. Howard H. Corning, superintendent of schools, said.

Educator, representing a score of states and 21 professional fields, concluded a conference in Atlanta by advising the South to make better use of professional talent in its minority groups, particularly Negroes. Evidence was found that "the South is not adequately utilizing the talents of its minority groups, particularly the Negro, in the profession."

The group then submitted recommendations to the Southern Regional Education Board to utilize the dormant talent.

Despite an over-all shortage of the health nurses, there are more nurses in the country today than there were five years ago, the 15th annual count of Nurses in Public Health showed.

With more than 25,000 nurses now engaged in public health work, there are 4,000 more than in 1947.

However, an additional 12,000 to 15,000 are needed to meet the current shortage, according to estimates.

Another gain indicated by the 1952 count is that more than 35 per cent of all nurses employed by states and local agencies for public health work have completed an approved program of study in public health nursing. In 1942, less than 28 per cent had preparation to that extent.

A breakdown of states having more than 1,000 persons working as public health nurses showed New York led with 1,614. Others were:

California, 2,206; Pennsylvania, 1,832; New Jersey, 1,497; Massachusetts, 1,325; Ohio, 1,192; and Illinois, 1,182.

Freezing Applesauce Now Makes Tasty Dishes Then

Right now the delicious North Carolina apples are being harvested up in the western part of the State. Henderson County, has just paid tribute to its summer crop by putting on a big apple festival. If you happen to be looking for some good summer apples, insist on home grown ones. They are principally cooking apples and can be made into juicy pies and wonderful applesauce.

Most people don't particularly like to peel apples, so if you can't make applesauce, why not try this economical time-saving method? All you have to do is core and cut up the apples, and then put them into a juicer or food mill, and then with every little effort on your part, the same is ready all but the sweetening and flavoring. You'll probably want to add the sugar and spices according to your own pet recipe.

And why not make enough applesauce so that you can freeze some to have this winter? State College Extension Frooze Food Specialist Nita Ott, recommends that when freezing applesauce, you add one tablespoon of an ascorbic acid solution to one pint of sauce. You make the solution by adding one teaspoon of ascorbic acid to one half cup of water.

Place the applesauce in frozen food containers that is good for other fruits and vegetables, making certain to leave one-half inch headspace.

And if you have any extra space in your freezer you may want to make up an apple pie or two and freeze them. If unexpected company drops in, you can pop a frozen pie into the oven and come up with a tempting dessert.
