SALISBURY CI IS NOTED FOR SAFETY

LUDWIGSBURG, GERMANY — Cpl. Thomas G. Tabor of Route 6, Salisbury, N. C., was a finalist in a contest to select the "Driver of the Month" at Ludwigsburg, where he is stationed.

Tabor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Tabor, is a truck driver in the 62nd Transportation Heavy Truck Company.

A graduate of Clement High School in Cleveland, he attended North Carolina A. and T. College at Greensboro before entering the Army in September 1950.

The Department of Agriculture recommends use of new soil conditioners only on an experimental basis.

The use of radioactive DDT is furnishing clues to more effective ways of killing mosquitoes.

The average loan rate for the 1952 - crop of blue - cured tobacco is 50.6 cents per pound.

Strawberry Transplanting Should Take Place Soon

The past month of earth-loosening rains has given strawberry growers an opportunity to reset plants, according to H. R. Niswonger, in charge of horticulture extension for N. C. State College.

Last spring, according to Niswonger, over 300,000 strawberry plants were set by 4-11 members, however drought and hot weather caused a number of sections of plants in rows to die. Still there was a surplus of new plants in sections of the rows not killed. Plants from these areas now can be transplanted to the vacant spaces, Niswonger points out.

He advises farmers to select well-rooted runner plants, with four or five leaves for resetting and to keep the berries clean at harvest time.

Roanoke-Chowan Junior Livestock Show Slated To Be Held September 12

GREENSBORO, N. C. — The Second Annual Roanoke - Chowan Junior Livestock Show will be held at Bentall Stockyards at Rich Square on Wednesday, September 17 according to an announcement released early this week by R. E. Jones, State agent of the A. and T. College Extension Service. The affair, sponsored each year by the Northampton County Farm Bureau in cooperation with the various banking institutions and some 12 business institutions of that county will bring together youthful farm boys represented in 4-H Clubs, New Farmers of America and New Homemakers of America organizations in the county.

The sponsors of the show expect at least 50 outstanding 4-H boys of 14 to 20 years of age and their parents and the announcement reveals that programs are now available from county agents and Vocational Agriculture teachers in any of the counties in the area.

The program will begin with a general educational program at the W. S. Creech High School at 8:00 p.m. on September 16. Guest speakers for the program will be L. L. Ray, Director of the Agricultural Foundation at N. C. State College, Raleigh; H. L. Wynn, Extension Specialist, A. and T. College, Greensboro. This part of the program will be held at the W. S. Creech High School at 8:00 p.m. on September 16. Guest speakers for the program will be L. L. Ray, Director of the Agricultural Foundation at N. C. State College, Raleigh; H. L. Wynn, Extension Specialist, A. and T. College, Greensboro. This part of the program will be held at the W. S. Creech High School at 8:00 p.m. on September 16.

WILMINGTON CI IS PROMOTED

Parents of Airman Charles A. Smith, Mrs. Mary P. Smith, Route 2, received word today that her Air Force son, assigned to the 10th Radio Squadron, Mobile, U. S. A. F. Security Service, has been promoted to Airman First Class.

Smith was assigned to the U. S. A. F. Security Service in August, 1950. He enlisted in the Air Force here in August 1950. He was first sent to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas for basic training.

He later attended an Air Force Service School at Keesler AFB, Miss. and was then assigned to Brooks AFB, also in San Antonio. Smith was active on the high school's football and basketball teams prior to his enlisting in the Air Force.

ELKS RETURN FROM ATLANTIC CITY

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C. — North Carolina's contingent of Elks and Daughter Elks (IBPOE of World) returned last weekend from the recent convention held in "America's Playground" — Atlantic City with varying tales of pleasure, parties and high prices for lodging and food. Some of the "returnees" appeared on the verge of exhaustion from trying to keep pace with the hectic week of convention activities, which some of the delegates left even before adjournment. But, all in all, they say they had a grand time despite the strain of the party. One lady Elks was heard to say that she was "never so broke" in her life and she didn't want to go back to Atlantic City for another convention, again in her opinion — "They would us!" Some of those returning to this area were: Roy J. H. Melhane and son, Tarboro; Mrs. Vivian C. Moore, Farmville; Mrs. R. Brown, Washington, N. C.; Mrs. F. L. Pugh, Tarboro; Mrs. Nora Bailey and Mrs. Sadie Hobbs of this city.

TOBACCO UNIONS WIN

It is reported that the recent labor vote taken of workers in the W. L. Lea Tobacco factory here resulted in a victory for the AFL Tobacco Workers Union by a vote of 450 to 30. This came after a passionate appeal by vice president Benjamin of the AFL Union. Joe Handlet spent his vacation visiting his daughter Mrs. Helen Bratcher and hubby, Fred, in Washington, D. C. Rev. J. W. Barnette was called to Pineville last week to attend the funeral of an uncle there.

1800 PAY TRIBUTE TO MRS. FOSTER

Approximately one thousand people were in and around the Little Hope Baptist Church here August 27th where final rites were said for Mrs. Katie Foster, wife of Rev. Torrence V. Foster, Sr., pastor Little Hope, St. Stephens, East Chapel and Legetts Churches.

WIGGINS SAYS EULOGY

Among numerous floral tributes and sorrowing friends, Reverend Willie Wiggins, dean of Neuse River Baptist Assn., said the eulogy with quietness and dignity. Surviving, besides the husband, are several children and grandchildren. One son, T. V. Foster, Jr., is a teacher in the local school system. Interment was in the local cemetery.

MRS. JONES INTERRED

Funeral rites and burial were held recently for Mrs. Elhara Jones, formerly of Washington, D. C., at Pittsboro, N. C., her native home — where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Freeman Jones, of Dee Cee, Mr. Jones had been in declining health for several years while residing at the home of her in-laws — Rev. and Mrs. John

RETURN FROM VACATION

Miss Maggie Jones has returned from an extended trip into New England where she visited her brother, Samuel Jones in Boston. R. B. Smith, former Edgecombe county teacher, now at the faculty of State Teachers College Fayetteville, was here meeting his old friends while enroute home from vacation. Smith is critic teacher at Newbold Training School at the college. His address is 527 North Street.

BRICK SCHOOL REUNION OBSERVED

Approximately one hundred graduates, former students and teachers of the old Joseph E. Brick Junior College and high school gathered for the third annual reunion August 29th-31st. With "Building for the Future on the Bricks Spirit" as their theme, the group answered the call of their national president, P. J. Chesson of Norfolk, and enjoyed a weekend of "recounting happy memories" dating back to pre-war world war one days for many of the early fifties — the closing of the school — for others.

CHESSON AND SPAULDING SPEAK

Highlights of the meet were the president's address at the Saturday reunion dinner and the annual sermon by the Reverend Andrew M. Spaulding of Rocky Mount and Fayetteville. Impressive were the memorial services held for fallen Brickies of the past year. Those honored were: Charles Jones, Washington, D. C.; Charles Leonard, Kingston; C. Forney and Mrs. Evelyn A. Phillips, Brickies; James Burnette and Miss Gertrude Leigh, New York and Mrs. Corinna E. Rodgers, Raleigh. National Alumni officers are listed as follows: E. J. Chesson, president, Norfolk; John E. Williams, vice president, New York; Mrs. Kathryn S. Paylor, recording secretary, Greensboro; Ernest P. Broome, financial secretary, Florence, S. C.; Mrs. Zenobia R. Simpson, registrar, Norfolk; Geo. Miles, treasurer, Dee Cee and Mrs. Mable Savase Rhodes, organizer, Hampton, Va. Club prexies are: New York, Edward M. Demery, Philadelphia; Leewood Hall, Washington; Mrs. Olo S. Smith, Virginia; Mrs. Mabel S. Rhodes, Raleigh; James Colwell and Greenville, N. C. Mrs. Flora P. Joyner, Hampton, Va. Club prexies are:

COASTAL PLAIN SCHOOLS BEGIN YEAR

One hundred and forty - seven Edgecombe county colored teachers gathered in the Conetoe high and elementary school August 25th and heard Superintendent E. D. Johnson, firmly, but good-naturedly "call the annual" for the new year and confirm assignments of jobs.

No significant changes were noted in the "line-up". There were six or more new faces introduced, high school principals are S. A. Gilliam at Pinetops; C. M. C. A. Way, Phillips and J. E. Batts, Conetoe; Sylvester Brown, Mrs. Annie W. Johnson and F. B. Weaver are principals of the main elementary units. Mrs. Margarette P. Wimberly has been added to the supervisory staff to assist Mrs. Mary P. Boddie with this week. Mr. Johnson said, "It's a new day for school work in Edgecombe county" and urged the teachers to "rely heavily upon the supervisors" for guidance. Conetoe was formerly a white school building.

DAVENPORT AND ROSE TALK TO PITT PIDDGOGS

On the 29th Greenville, N. C. (Pitt county) teachers met in the C. M. Eppes high school where principal W. H. Davenport and Supt. Junius H. Rose addressed them. Mr. Rose told the fifty city teachers "there is a great need for skilled craftsmen in Eastern North Carolina as this area changes swiftly from a strictly agricultural section to an industrial community." Rose said halfway tradesmen would not do. He urged skill and accuracy in all work. Rose said, "there is an economic readjustment coming to our area and throughout the country." In this,

MAKE CHILDREN DO RIGHT

Mr. Rose scored those who would "hurry" the child by letting him "have his way" and refuse to make him do the things they knew to be right and best for the child's future. Said he, "It isn't wrong to make children do right." He added, "we have hint the personalities of the children of America for 25 years by letting them go to hell." Rose said, "It is wrong to whip children for failing to get a lesson" as he was by the old schoolmasters. He said by the teachers' personality should be of such compelling force until those under her would do their work through love, rather than from fear of punishment. He urged a self-analysis to determine what one could accomplish without the power of authority or punishment.

HOLMES AND WITHERSPOON NEW MARTIN PRINCIPALS

WILLIAMSTON, Martin county seat, is having as principal, William A. Holmes, former principal of the outstanding Eastman high school near Enfield (Halifax county), who is succeeding retired principal E. J. Hayes. Holmes is known to have done an excellent job during more than 15 years at Eastman School, Halifax teachers, students and authorities were reluctant to let him go.

W. C. WITHERSPOON, son of a prominent "Zion" minister, Rev. W. F. Witherspoon, Yorkers, N. Y. — has succeeded Prof. W. C. Chance, Sr., at the Chance high school at Parmele where he has taught, both before and after World War two in which he (Witherspoon) served. He is a J. C. Smith grand of 1922. Claiming no particular place as home, Witherspoon has studied at University of Michigan and NYU and taught in Pennsylvania, N. C. and Industrial Home School in Dee Cee before coming to Martin county. He is married to the former Miss Lillian Jarman of Kinston and they have a daughter, Patricia.

MUSIC IN THE AIR

Clarence Wilson of Ohio, president of the National Negro Musicians Association, congratulates two Detroit winners of the Association's annual talent scholarship awards. Some 300 voice, dance and instrumental students from all over the country accompanied NNMA representatives from every state to their annual convention, held this year in New York City one week before the Legionaires and the Elks convened in the East. (Newspress Photo).

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Baker at 613 Devereaux Street, Mr. Baker is a sephomore at A. and T. College, Greensboro.

Despite the summer drought, 1952's total crop output is expected to be the third largest in the nation's history.
