EFLAND—W. Ed. Faucette who has been very sick at his daughter's home is improving fast and was carried to his son's home near Fairfield Church Sunday morning September 4th. John Faucette's wife has been very sick and was carried to a Durham hospital and she was returned to her home a few days ago much improved.

The High and public school near Charles E. Jordans farm was started the past week and many children are attending.

The High and Graded School at west Hillboro whose Principal is Prof. A. L. Stanback was started a few days ago and we learn that the school is crowded.

The West Efland Colored School has not been finished, but we hear that the school was opened in the old school building until the New Building has been finished.

Rev. Claude Faucette will soon have his new Store Building finished and we believe that he can make some money by keeping the goods that the people need and want. Lemonade will go fine this hot weather and is much more health-giving than some of the carbonated bottled beverages.

R. M. Erick has about finished his new home near his store south west of Efland and he carries many goods and beverages that his customers want and need.

Hurley Green and wife have stocked many goods that their customers need and we hear that they will no longer sell Beers.

John Avch Terrel and his son-in-law say that they will soon build a store near their home and stock up with suitable goods needed by his many neighbors.

John W. Harvey and his wife who have been on the sick are reported much better.

Major Faucette of Hillsboro, says that he will give an acre of land on his small farm near Fairfield Church if the people will build suitable church and Sunday school building on it.

Rev. Ross Turner and Reverend James C. Thompson and Reverend Claude Faucette have promised to preach for these colored families every Sunday if they can get up a suitable building. And a large Mercantile Firm covering the United States says that they are willing to build a suitable Hall of Church if the people will show their willingness to have a church and Hall.

The same Mercantile firm says they are willing to build a fifty-thousand dollar Church and Hall in West Efland near the Moray-green Public School if the folk will show a willingness to get ready for it by setting good roads, mail boxes, telephone lines and other improvements.

There are more than fifty families west of Efland that do not have any mail routes near their homes and have to walk a mile or more to Efland to get their mail. Postmaster Shaw of Mebane says they will extend Route 1 to Efland and north to Bill Dorsett's Store and west by Thomas Brown's and Jesse L. Poole's farm if they will bring in petitions showing their need for same.

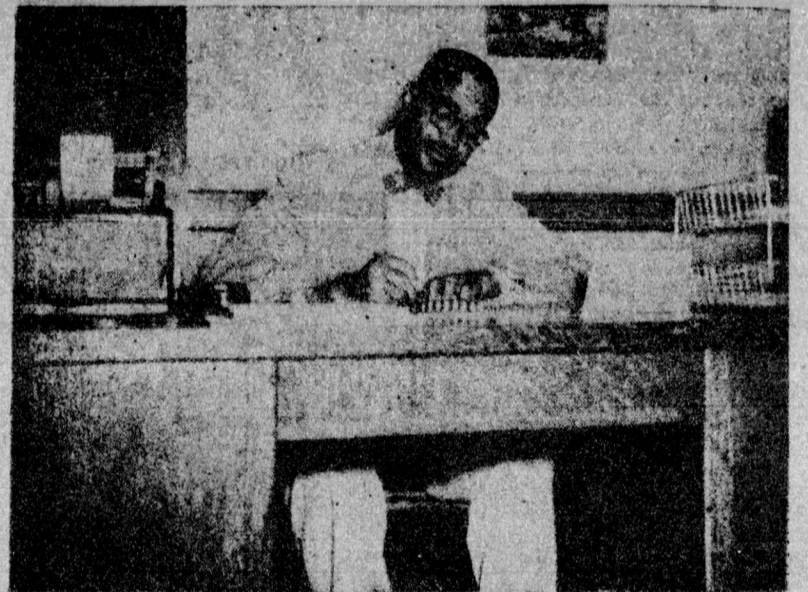

Years for a better State, Nation and World.

Fraternally,

Ayden Hi Class Handles Carolinian In Community

AYDEN—Through efforts of a class under the guidance and advisement of Mr. Peyton, THE CAROLINIAN is being circulated through the Ayden community.

The class sold fifty copies last week and hope to increase the circulation next week.

It is the desire of the CAROLINIAN staff to serve the community with news and events of the Ayden community.

Ayden High School Enrolls Over 600; Band Drills On; 24 Graduates Eye Colleges

AYDEN—According to Mr. J. W. Ormond, principal of the Ayden High School, over six hundred students enrolled last week as the first sessions of the new school term began.

The faculty personnel remains the same as last year at twenty-two.

Under the direction of Prof. Hazy Lawrence, the Ayden High Band began its routine of producing marching strains and school songs for the ensuing activities of the school year. There are thirty six members of the band this year.

Principal Ormond is proud of the fact that out of the thirty-six grads last year twenty-four are enrolling in institutions of higher learning this fall. Never before in the history of the school has this number of a graduating class planned to enroll in college.

Sometimes the number has been as high as fifty percent, but never this high percentage.

Fronnie Whitehurst, a member of last year's senior class will matriculate at North Carolina College in Durham this fall by virtue of a scholarship.

"PORGY" WEDS "BESS"—William Warfield famed concert baritone now starring in the current "Porgy and Bess" folk opera, was married in New York early in the week. He plays Porgy, and she plays Bess in what is rated by many critics as the most exciting of all productions of this Heywood-

Ershwin classic. The newlyweds will work during their "honeymoon" in "Porgy and Bess" over seas in Europe. The opera not only is serving as an entertainment to Europe, but it also is adding to the U. S. state department to demonstrate that Negroes in America can develop the highest artistic talents. — (ANP)

FARM TENANTS IN CELEBRATION

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C.—Some 125 tenant families with an aggregate of around 800 persons met on the annual farm set-together last week at Brasswell Farms Lake near Battleboro.

REP. PEARSALL IN CHARGE—In charge of the day-long program was former state legislator Thomas J. Pearsall, listed as manager of the M. C. Braswell Farms, Inc., long known as the leading tenant project in the four-county area of Edgecombe, Nash, Halifax and Wilson. Pearsall married the daughter of the late M. C. Braswell whose Battleboro mansion now stands unoccupied.

Mr. Pearsall has done much to lift the standard of the Braswell Farms as well as the living standards of its tenants, most of whom are colored. He has for several years encouraged, and in some instances made it mandatory that tenants carry out the directions of extension service workers through farm and home improvements and 4-H club work along with health programs.

MENEIL AND PARKER SPEAK—With 70 of the families receiving awards for better home and farm work from Pearsall, Edgecombe farm agent H. W. McNeill and home agent Mrs. Hazel Parker Scales gave addresses on 4-H work.

Leading the prize winners were: Mrs. Mattie Parker, long time canning champion, who this year earned 602 quarts of food stuff; Mrs. Marie Dickens, best sewing; Raymond Randolph and family, $50 for being adjudged the best all-around tenant family group.

Second prize in this class went to the Tom Bailey family and $15 to Arthur Reynolds family. Jimmy Phillips family $10 and a widow, Mrs. Rosa Douglas received $5. Gray Stillings received the "special" $5 award for being the best tobacco producer with an average of $1043 per acre.

James Har dwaer next with $915.24 average.
