RALEIGH — We opened our school term with a great deal of interest. The boys and girls were glad to return to their various parts of learning.

We are pleased to have three new teachers. They are: Mrs. H. G. Fleming fourth grade; Mr. W. H. Horton fifth grade; and Mr. E. D. Smith, industrial arts teacher.

The first grades presented an assembly program of songs and games. Maxine Wirth was mistress of ceremony. Everyone enjoyed their exercise. The second grade pupils have studied a unit on the Circus. They have made animals, a nervous equal wavyon, balloons, candy riddles, race tracks and circus clown.

The third grade has a grocery store. This store is needed for business.

The fourth grade gave an assembly program with a skit entitled INDIAN CHILDREN OF NORTH CAROLINIAN. The pupils taking part were: Carolyn Brown, Miley Peppers, Charles Bass, Lenora Yarborough, Ulysses Dunn and Ulysses Seawell.

The sixth grade class has become quite interested in flower arrangement. They scoured every home and community around their school and came back with beautiful faded blossoms and pods that have been carefully arranged in beautiful bouquets. One very beautiful bouquet contains castor beans, cane seeds, okra pod, magnolia pods, cotton buds, and reed grass.

Negro Banks Have Done Big Business During Era

CHICAGO (ANP) — Negro banks in 1951 had the highest asset volume in their history.

The combined assets of some 14 banking institutions owned and operated by Negroes exceeded $35,000,000 ($35 million), according to the eighth annual report of Banking Institutions Owned and Operated by Negroes issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The rate of increase during 1951 of $3,000,000, 9.5 per cent, surpassed all annual increases of bank assets since World War II. Although U. S. government obligations totaling $11,000,000 have gradually declined since 1946, corresponding increase has been noted in obligations of states, political sub-divisions, corporate stocks, bonds and notes. These securities, amounting to $14,000,000 at the end of 1951, comprise 40 per cent of all bank resources.

During the year, loans and discounts rose to a peak level of $12,000,000, some 39 per cent of total bank assets. This expanded loan volume is directly attributable to the financial demands of industry and commerce in furtherance of the production program of defense mobilization.

Cash and balance with other banks were $6,000,000, exceeding the previous year's sum by more than $1,000,000, 22.35 per cent.

Similar characteristics exist between the comparative growths of deposits and assets. The 1951 deposit total of $32,000,000, including the year's increase of $2,891,337, some 9.51 per cent over 1950, exceeds all previous deposit records. Capital accounts of $2,874,445 include capital stock of $1,497,410, surplus $921,271, undivided profits and reserves, $455,764.

Total current operating earnings: That like a masquerade must end with dawn. The music removed, the music still. And with it, you and love have gone. Just as a sunflower turns towards the sun. Youth turns to youth and this was meant to be. The rhyme of life goes on without a pause. And rivers onward flow towards the sea.
