Last year's tourney held in Monroe attracted contestants from twenty-two cities and at this date pre-tourney surveys indicate additional VFW posts have made plans for local play with further participation in the state event. TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Frederick D. Patterson, last week announced that he has resigned as president of Tuskegee Institute as of June 1, 1953.

The noted educator will become director of the Phelps-Stokes Fund in New York, June 1, replacing Dr. Channing H. Tobias, who already is past the retirement age.

In resigning from Tuskegee, Dr. Patterson is concluding 25 years at the famed school. It of them as its president Booker T. Washington, founder, was the first president, serving 34 years, and Robert R. Moton was his successor, serving 18 years.

Dr. Washington died in office, and Dr. Moton served until he felt compelled to retire because of physical disability. Dr. Patterson, although he undoubtedly could have remained at Tuskegee for the rest of his working days, declared in his letter of resignation to the board of trustees that he "had given more than twice the average length of tenure for college administrators."

The Phelps-Stokes Fund was established in 1911 under the will of Miss Caroline Phelps Stokes for work in the field of Negro education both in the United States and in Africa. Dr. Patterson has been a member of its board for many years.

Basel O'Connor of New York, chairman of the Tuskegee board, in announcing Dr. Patterson's resignation said it was received "with extreme regret" and would be presented to the board at its next meeting on April 11.

Dr. Patterson in his statement declared: "It has been a joy and inspiration to work with the faculty and staff at Tuskegee. It is a source of growing satisfaction to note the mounting achievements of the student body and their increased willingness to measure up to the full responsibilities of citizenship. In going to the Phelps-Stokes Fund, however, I see a promise of usefulness in a broad program of service to educational institutions for Negro youth. During the next few years of transition, I can think of no service more important than that which may as-ist our institutions to make the most of their resources as they seek to meet fully the standards of higher education."

At Tuskegee, Dr. Patterson came to a school with a budget of less than a million dollars, but now has an annual budget exceeding $3,000,000. He established a school of veterinary medicine which is the only Negro-operated school of its kind in the world and one of only three such schools in the South.

In the field of low cost housing, Dr. Patterson and Tuskegee are pioneers. The federal government now regards Tuskegee as an important resource in that field.

As an educator, Dr. Patterson's outstanding achievement probably was the initiation and development of the United Negro College Fund which he has served as president for the past 10 years. Through the UNCF 32 private colleges banded together to raise funds to prevent deficits. Since 1945, the UNCF has raised more than $20,000,000.

INFLATION IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

If a suit worth 40 dollars costs you 50,
And a hat that once was five, now costs you ten,
Then it can be safely stated
That your dollar is inflated,
You'd be better off to curb your buying yen.

If your money's burning holes in every pocket,
And the things you want are now in short supply,
Stick it out a little longer,
Till your dollars are much stronger,
And will get you more of anything you buy.

If you're tempted to go out and "stockpile" tires,
Or use credit to buy items you don't need,
You would better serve the nation,
In its fight against inflation,
By just holding off so pressures can recede.

If you need a pound of coffee, don't buy twenty,
Try to get along without those extra shoes,
More than dollars will be wasted
If inflation isn't pasted,
We'll have nothing left, except our lives, to lose.

If we really want to save our nation's future,
Want the world to see the torch of freedom glow,
Pay defense bills now, not later,
Make production even greater,
And our flag will never bow to any foe!

Negro Farmers Urged To Meet Farm Challenge

ROXBORO — C. J. Ford, Negro County agent for the Agricultural Extension Service, has urged farmers in Person County and throughout the state to meet North Carolina's farming economic challenge by increasing their farm incomes $1,000 "just as soon as possible."

Ford, discussing farm problems in Person, said Negro farmers there and throughout the state may have to diversify their farming operations more to replace expected income loss caused by neotodes. Granville wilt, black shank and root knot in tobacco.

These four factors "are expected to lower tobacco production and also the quality" of tobacco, he said, "and greatly reduce income from this crop in the future."

The Negro county agent said Person farmers were recently given an opportunity to learn the advantages of animal production on the farm for the purpose of sale as a means of offsetting tobacco income losses. Some 110
