Gilliam Hits First Home Run In Series

James "Junior" Gilliam, the classy second sacker who moved Jackie Robinson off second base this season, banged out a homer and a single in the first games of the World Series last Wednesday. Campanella hit a single, and Jackie Robinson went hitless in four times at bat. The Yanks won, 9-5. This is Gilliam's first series, but it is old stuff for Robinson and Campanella. Gilliam, the sensational Baltimore rookie, came up to Brooklyn from Montreal earlier in the season.

Korean Vet Shoots Self

FAYETTEVILLE (Special) — Joseph Davis, 24 year old recently discharged Korean veteran shot himself to death on Saturday, September 26, at his home, 721 Gillespie Street here. According to all reports, Davis had been despondent since his release from the armed forces early last spring. A relative living in Raleigh said that he lived with her for about two months and his actions were extremely unpredictable. She cited one morning in particular when Davis shut himself up in a closet for about four hours. The woman said that she was uptown shopping and returned to find young Davis unconscious in her closet. On the day of the suicide, only Davis and his sister, Mrs. Catherine Johnson were at home. Mrs. Johnson decided to take a nap and Davis said that he was going to do likewise. When he had been in his room only a short while, the woman heard a report from a shotgun. Upon entering his room, she found him dead. Davis who was a former student at North Carolina College, before being inducted into military (Continued on Page 8)

Martin Co. Death List Now Totals 5

BURLINGTON — Donald Isley, who died last Sunday night following a shooting fracas, received additional injury when the ambulance in which he was being carried to the hospital collided with another vehicle. When the ambulance collided with James S. Garrison, Route 2, Burlington, Isley's head was shoved through the window of the ambulance. The collision occurred about 1:18 Sunday morning. According to Burlington police officers, Johnnie Dupree and Bernard Everett, the head injury required six stitches. John F. Walker, a passenger in the ambulance, received a bruised right hip. Garrison told police officers that he was heading north on Apple Street and never saw the ambulance approaching from Richmond Avenue. He said he knew nothing from the time that he returned on Apple Street until he awakened in the hospital where he was treated for a severe laceration of the forehead.

Bulb Co. To Drop Race Issue Listing

BOSTON — in response to a protest by the New England Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Holland Bulb Gardens company has agreed to delete from its future catalogue a listing of a crocus bulb as "Niggerboy". A letter from the company whose headquarters are located in Limmen, Holland, also assured George E. Davis, president of the New England NAACP, that "we will gladly take this matter up with the official organizations in the bulb industry and see that the name is changed to another as soon as possible". The company explained that "no (Continued on Page 8)

"Wise Calmness" In W. Va. As School Decision Awaited

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — West Virginians await the United States Supreme Court decisions in the pending school segregation cases with "a wise calmness" according to Charles A. Williamson, president of the state board of education, as reported by staff writer Harry W. Ernst in The Charleston Gazette.

Kinston Musicians In VSC Orientation Period

PETERSBURG, Va. — Final events in the orientation of 400 freshmen at Virginia State College were held during the past weekend. With the completion of a full week's introduction to life on the College campus, the large class of newcomers began its work for the year 1953-54. Classes began Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. Freshmen began the near-final stage of preparation Saturday when registration was held during the morning afternoon. Sunday was a full day for the entering students beginning with Morning Worship services at 11 o'clock. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon a Faculty Tea in honor of the new students was held. The annual induction Service, an impressive candle-lighting exercise was held at 7:15 o'clock in the College Auditorium. The induction message was delivered by Dr. R. F. Daniel, President of the College. Following the talk by President Daniel, the candle-lighting exercise was held with the President of the College, Dean

Other leaders in the state, both Negro and white, are reported as anxious by the possibility of a change in the present pattern of segregated education. One unnamed educator expressed the opinion that "race relations are too good in this state for public officials to echo southern chants of bloodshed, or to sidestep an adverse court decision by switching from public to private schools."

Meanwhile the possibility of school segregation suits in West Virginia was indicated by Willard L. Brown, president of the Charleston branch of the NAACP and state legal advisor. Efforts to negotiate integration have been initiated by the Bluefield branch of the NAACP. James W. Robinson, state supervisor of Negro schools, is quoted as having said: "The Constitution has to be upheld and segregated schools infringe upon it." W. W. Trent, state superintendent of free schools, is quoted as having said that he did not anticipate "any great disturbance" in the event of abolition of segregation. "If the transfer of pupils is made gradually as building conditions permit." State institutions of higher learning, West Virginia University and Marshall College, have voluntarily admitted Negro graduate and professional students. Two private colleges, West Virginia Wesleyan and Bethany College, have likewise opened their doors to Negroes.

WILLIAMSTON, N. C. — A train crash claimed the lives of a young brother and sister at a crossing near here last Friday night.

Dead after their speeding auto crashed into an Atlantic Coast Line Train were William Rogers, 19, and his sister, Miss Marie Rogers, 22. Investigating officers said Miss Rogers was decapitated and thrown from the car. Her brother's body was finally taken from the machine after more than an hour's work. In addition to being badly mangled, the youth also sustained a crushed chest. Frank Williams, 9, believed to be the only witness, was quoted as saying the car was traveling too fast and there wasn't time to stop the train. The death of the two young people raised to five the total number of casualties in Martin County during the year. Bob Crocker of Rocky Mount was identified as the engineer of the train. The engineer's name was given as E. B. Simmons.
