

N. C. BAPTIST HEAD-QUARTERS DEDICATED HERE
Above are scenes from the dedication last Wednesday of the recently constructed Baptist headquarters building. The ceremonies were held at Shaw University in the morning and in the basement of the new structure in the afternoon. Baptists from all sections of the state converged on Raleigh for this momentous occasion. On the left is seen a portion of the huge crowd that attended the dedication. This picture was taken in the basement of the headquarters. Center, Dr. O. S. Bullock, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, and a staunch supporter of the Baptist movement in North Carolina, is shown handing the deeds and documents to the new headquarters to Dr. P. A. Bishop, Rich Square, president of the General Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. In the center, seated, is the Rev. Thomas Kilgore, pastor of the Friendship Baptist Church, New York City, who delivered the main address. The new building is shown on the right. It is constructed after the very latest designs in modern lighting and equipment

GAMMA KAPPA SIGMA'S
Participants in the 51st Founders' Day program of Rocky Mount's Gamma Kappa Sigma Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority held at Mt. Zion Baptist Church January 17th. Speaker for the occasion was Miss Dorothy I. Height, (second from left) International YWCA worker who spent several months in India, being one of thirteen women on a world-tour sponsored by high teacher and chapter proxy, and (on right) Mrs. Alma Harlow, Philadelphia, Pa., Personnel Chairman, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. Miss Height is wearing a costume of India.

YWCA. Shown with Miss Height are: Miss Mae D. Holmes, director, State Training School for Girls, Kinston, vice-president of the local Gamma Kappa Sigma; Mrs. Edythe E. Tweedy, BTW

Scribblings
BY DWIGHT HILLIS WILSON

HOME WORK

Since I have given the origin and meaning of heckling, I will now commemorate how the home variety works.

MR. WILSON

As she put it down near me, she yawned.

QUESTIONS

It is nice to learn that the Raleigh Citizens' Association has written a letter to the Raleigh

Judges Differ On Sentence

BY ALEXANDER BARNES

CARTHAGE — North Carolina's justice ran into another snag here this week when J. Vance Rowe, Moore County Recorder's Court judge, ruled that Henry Robinson, recent defendant, in a bizarre note-writing assault case, should be returned to court by capias and serve a sentence given him in a previous case.

F. Sewall, stormy political figure of the Eisenhower Administration, said to have related that the suspended sentence should not hold against Robinson. Rowe has already announced his disfavor to Judge Armstrong's opinion, and though Judge Armstrong's court is a higher court has said that Armstrong could not supersede his court.

Legal battle line are drawing tighter. The capias was issued Monday, due to the fact that Robinson did not appear in court. Solicitor W. Lamont Brown said that he had expected to see Robinson in court, due to the fact that he had the capias served on him, immediately after he was released, on the note-throwing charge, last week. Lamont, however, told the Recorder that Judge Armstrong did not want the sentence to carry through on Robinson. Robinson's father signed a $200 bond for his appearance on Monday. There was mixed opinion as to ed sentence there were many who felt that the long arm of the law had stretched too far, but now comes a new chapter.

Robinson is being called back to court for the alleged violation of a sentence imposed on him on August 15, 1951. The sentence was imposed on conviction of assault with a dangerous weapon, in Recorder's Court, and suspended on conditions of good behavior for two years. Recorder Rowe holds that since the note throwing sentence was handed out on August 15, 1953 that the probationary time was not up and therefore he should serve the 1951 sentence.

Veteran court experts forecast a legal battle. This is based on the fact that Judge Armstrong is said to have related that the suspended sentence should not hold against Robinson. Rowe has already announced his disfavor to Judge Armstrong's opinion, and though Judge Armstrong's court is a higher court has said that Armstrong could not supersede his court.

SAMARITAN FREED

ROXBORO — A "Good Samaritan" whose car was involved in the fatal highway death of Ben Peed on December 21, was acquitted of a charge of manslaughter in Person County Court this week. No probable cause was found against Leolar Thompson of Route 2, Roxboro, who was attempting to help a Navy Lieutenant, whose car was stuck in the mud on the shoulder of the highway. Peed's car struck Thompson's truck as he was turning around to use his truck to push the officer out of the mud.

One Dead, One Wounded One Jailed, In Love Row

PAYETTEVILLE — A young housewife was fatally wounded with a .22 calibre rifle Sunday near her home in the Washington Park area here following an argument with a neighbor, according to police reports.

The victim, Mrs. Annie Moore was pronounced dead on arrival at a local hospital. She had been wounded in the right chest.

Arrested in connection with the on a charge of murder. Police said killing was Ella Mae Carmichael the Moore woman was advancing on Ella Mae with a knife when she pulled the trigger.

The dead woman's husband, Henry Moore had been cut about the back, sides and arms minutes before the fatal shooting.

A triangular situation enters the picture as reports have it that Mrs. Moore did the cutting after accusing Moore of having an affair with the Carmichael woman, the sheriff's office reported.

SENTENCED IN MANSLAUGHTER

GOLDSBORO — Jack Thompson New Hope Township Negro, received an eight to 12 years prison sentence in Wayne Superior Court Thursday after pleading guilty to manslaughter in the shotgun slaying of James Rowe, New Hope Township resident, last September 17. The shooting, which took place

N. C. News In Brief

SCHOOL SITE APPROVED
ROXBORO — A site for the new Negro elementary school in the Wooddale-Bethel Hill-Lee Jeffers area of the county has been approved by school and county officials. The groups agreed on a plot of land on Highway 49, about eight miles north of Roxboro. Contracts for the new structure are expected to be let in early summer. The school will cost around $225,000 and will be paid for from Person County's share of the school bond money.

Note "Assault" Stirs State

THE CAROLINIAN

10c North Carolina's Leading Weekly... 10c

VOLUME THIRTEEN Week Ending Saturday, January 30, 1954 — Raleigh, N. C. NUMBER 7

Dr. Benjamin Says:

"MEN ARE EQUAL"

Raleigh Omegas Blast Segregation

MIXED AUDIENCE HEARS EDUCATOR

BY J. B. HARREN
Speaking before a capacity interracial audience of approximately one thousand people at the 15th annual Institute of Religion, sponsored by the United Church on Hillsboro Street, Monday night, Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga., told his audience to "Travel by Faith and not by Fear" in the area of human relations, and to "Work with might and main to eradicate every form of segregation from our land by the removal of all laws and customs requiring race segregation."

INTERNATIONAL CHURCHMAN

The holder of a Master's and a Doctor's degree from the University of Chicago, and six honorary doctorates from renowned schools, Dr. Mays has seen service extensively with the World Council of Churches, having been a delegate from that body to Amsterdam, Holland in 1949 following which he served on the Council's Central Committee for four years. Mays has also written, or co-authored several books and has writings in fifty magazines.

"RESPONSIBILITIES OF FREEDOM"

Speaking from the subject: "Responsibilities of Freedom in Human Relations", the quiet, unassuming Mays, a native of South Carolina who owes introduced by Dr. Harold L. Trig, president of St. Augustine's College, here stressed the "Equality of all men before God and the law" and "inalienable right to the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness" upon which our government and our church is

STATE'S TOP COTTON GROWER

— Robert Kilgo, front row, left, is shown as he looked over the citation awarded him for being North Carolina's best cotton farmer in 1953. Kilgo, who hails from Union County, was given a $800 check as first prize winner in the state. He produced an average of 1,135 pounds of lint per acre on five acres of land. Others pictured here are the runners-up in the annual

LOCAL FRAT RIGHTS BIAS

An anti-segregation resolution was recently adopted by the members of the Eta Phi Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity here. By this resolution the Raleigh Graduate Chapter of a national Negro fraternity of college men denounced segregation, as practiced in "many of our states," as being "inconsistent with the principles of their fraternity, world opinion, the aims of many forward-looking organizations, colored as well as white," and as being inconsistent with the principles of Christianity. By its anti-segregation resolution the Raleigh Graduate Chapter resolved to work for the total integration of Negroes in American life.

Newspaper Executive Buried In Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill. — Persons from all walks of life went in to see the last of what remained of affable Charles P. Browning here Monday, while his body rested at the Metropolitan Funeral Home, just before the last rights were held. Charlie Browning died like he lived, rushing to get a job done. He was the victim of one of the

(Continued on page 8)

40 Churches End Meet

BY J. B. HARREN

ROCKY MOUNT — The mid-winter session of the Cape Fear Presbytery comprising forty odd churches met with the Faith Presbyterian Church here January 21. Rev. W. D. Burgess is pastor of Faith Church and Mrs. Nora E. Bailey is ruling elder and founder of the church which is now in the process of erecting a building, having used a small residential structure for worship for several years. Because of this, the Faith church accepted the preferred use of the Mt. Pisgah Presbyterian church for the one-day session, following which Elder Bailey and her friends served dinner to the fifty ministers and elders in the community center.

Carolinian In New Role

The management of the CAROLINIAN, in its effort to serve the firms and businesses that use space in the paper, and to give every home in Wake County a preview of the many interesting features found therein, is producing a SHOPPERS GUIDE which will be distributed to every home in the county.

This publication is a regular size newspaper which will serve a long felt need. It will feature personal items of the several communities, with special emphasis on school and church news and happenings. The content of the GUIDE will be a round the county coverage of items of interest.

The main purpose of the GUIDE is to call attention to the many values offered by the advertisers. The CAROLINIAN is proud to stand behind all of the advertising found therein and assures everyone that the advertiser is pleased to have them visit the stores and