Raleigh Officials Charged In

JOB DENIAL

CITY MANAGER TARGET OF CITIZENS ASSN.

BY STAFF WRITER
Several young Negro women who recently successfully passed the local Civil Service examination for police women and radio operators have been reportedly told by the Raleigh Chief of Police, Tom Davis, that it is not the policy of this city to employ Negroes for such positions.
The rather peculiar angle of this situation is the fact that these young women were given these particular examinations with the understanding that they would be assigned work in the categories covered by the examinations. They were allegedly informed by Mr. Davis however, that they would not be allowed positions for which they had qualified but he would consider them for jobs as school patrolwomen. Incidentally school patrol jobs are only open during the school term. Being part time work, the pay is relatively small.
A committee from the Raleigh Citizens Association headed by the Rev. Mr. George A. Fisher interviewed Mr. Carper, City Manager and was informed by Mr. Carper according to Rev. Fisher that he (Mr. Carper) felt the Negroes of Raleigh were getting now far more from the city government than they were putting in, and he, Mr. Carper, did not feel that Negroes were justified in their demands.
According to the committee's report, Mr. Carper is alleged to

MRS. C. B. JUDGE DIES IN BLAST

BY HENRY C. MITCHELL
GOLDSBORO — When workmen brought out the body of Mrs. Carrie Belle Judge, State Hospital employee, from the ruins of the Edwards Terminal building, which was the scene of an undetermined explosion here Monday, it brought the number of race persons killed or injured in the mysterious blast to three.
Mrs. Judge's body was found in the basement of the building late Tuesday afternoon. Searchers could not account for Mrs. Judge being in the basement, unless she fell through one of the gaping holes made by the explosion.
Another race woman, who was thought to have lost her life in the mishap, Miss Agnes Graham, was located also on Tuesday and found to be unharmed. She is believed to have been in the store to do some buying when the accident happened.
Thomas McKinzie, 708 Oliver Lane, janitor of the store, was blown from the building as he started in the building. He is in Wayne Memorial Hospital suffering with lacerations of the head and arms, and also suffering shock. Questioned as to the possible number of people in the store

N. C. TEACHERS CLOSE 73RD CONVENTION

The 73rd annual session of the North Carolina Teachers Association closed here Saturday with the adoption of $87,000,000 as the budget for the 54-55 physical year.
The three day meet, which brought more than 5000 persons to Raleigh, ended one of the most crowded activity schedules in its history. For instance, on Friday, every available meeting facility at Shaw, Washington and Logon High was used to capacity to take care of the many panels, discussion groups and addresses delivered in the interest of better education.
Perhaps the most enthused group was the future Teachers of America who listened to Dr. Margaret Lindsey, Columbia University. This group was getting its initial baptism in the problems that face a teacher from an expert in the field.
The most talked about speech was the one that Congressman Adam Clayton Powell delivered to the principals. He left no doubt in their minds, that he (Powell) knew that integration was here and admonished them to get ready for it. He expressed some concern over some people being ready to receive it and urged principals to prepare themselves to meet the onrush of a democratic move.
Lester Granger, Urban League head, told of the need of better preparation for an integrated situation. He felt that the Negro teacher would be able to meet the situation and would be an asset to a changing ideology.
The Hammock Beach project, an Association responsibility, located in Onslow County, got a grant of $7,000 from the budget

State Republicans Against Ike's Visit

EISENHOWER MAY NOT VISIT INS. MEETING

DURHAM — The Carolina Times, local weekly, will say in an editorial this week, that should President Eisenhower accept the invitation of the arrangement committee of the National Negro Insurance Association to speak at the annual session, in August, that it will be a miracle.
This information is the result of a letter sent Val J. Washington, assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee, by Alexander Barneck, publicity man for the State Republican group, headed by Dr. J. W. V. Cordice.
The letter set forth that state Republicans and many Democrats felt that the committee missed the ball in going to Washington. The ire of the Republicans was raised when it was discovered that there was not a working Republican or the group that extended the invitation. This is believed

NAACP ASKS END TO AMOS AND ANDY SKIT

NEW YORK — The British Broadcasting Corporation has been "earnestly and vigorously" urged to reconsider its purchase of the "Amos 'n' Andy" program for telecast to the people of England. The corporation is scheduled to start showing the film on April 21.
In a letter to the BBC dated April 7, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, branded the program "a gross caricature of the Negro which has done much harm here in the United States and, we fear, may do even more in England where there is not as much opportunity as in the United States for non-Negroes to know the truth about the Negro."
Anti-Negro forces in the United States, the NAACP executive pointed out, seek to perpetuate

Elks In Hot Fight

BY J. B. HARREN
ROCKY MOUNT — All the politics in the state are not confined solely to the big issue of whether or not it will be W. Kerr Scott or Alton Lennon in the U. S. Senate for the next six years. Certainly not the main issue where 15,000 Tar Heel members of Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World (I. B. P. O. E. W.) are concerned. These Elks (Bills and Daughters) are trying to make up their minds regarding whether to vote for incumbent Reverend Kemp P. Battle of Rocky Mount, who has served seven years as president of the Anglered Herd in Tarheelia, and is also Esteemed Grand Lecturing Knight of the national body of Elks; or to choose A. Martell Scott, former head of Elks and a successful businessman in his own right.

SCOTT BATTLES BATTLE FOR ELKS PRESIDENCY — Two years ago, when the N. C. Elks Association met at Goldsboro, A. Martell Scott, successful local businessman raised his head toward the presidency of Tar Heel Elks, but it was "cut off" by the strong machine of Rev. K. P. Battle, Rocky Mount minister who has headed the N. C. Elks for seven years. This year Scott is again challenging Battle's right to the state "throne" of Elksdom and is campaigning over the state with promises of a lively, "knock-down and drag-out affair" at Gastonia May 16-20 at the state meeting. Shown are Scott and Battle at the mortgage-burning ceremonies of the Goldsboro Pride of the East Lodge No. 261 during the winter, when a $11,000 mortgage was burned. "Friendly enemies" then, they are now at each other's political throats in the fight for the presidency of 15,000 Tar Heel Elks. Left to right (around table) Roland Best, Pride of East, treasurer; A. Martell Scott, P. A. R.; Alton J. Eub, exalted ruler and State president; K. P. Battle, holding the mortgage with Scott as Eub lights the match.
