Beauticians Re-elect All Previous Officers

BY J. B. HARREN

ROCKY MOUNT—The 15th annual convention of the N. C. Beauticians and Cosmetologists closed here last week after four days packed full of social and business meetings by re-electing without a dissenting voice all of the old officers who are headed by state president Mrs. White F. Harrison, a native Ohioan transplanted to the Old North State.

NO POLITICS

Perhaps other organizations could take a leaf from the Beauticians' book when it comes to political maneuvering or not maneuvering. The ladies seemed satisfied with their officers and voted only as a formality. Key officials are: Mrs. Willie F. Hennessey, President; Mrs. Millie Richards, Wilmington, 1st Vice President; Mrs. Roxanna W. Pitts, Winston-Salem, 2nd Vice President; Mrs. Willie Smith, Greensboro, Financial Secretary; Mrs. Vivian Massey, Winston-Salem, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Marjorie Minor, Durham, Corresponding Secretary and Mrs. Louise Benwick, Statesville, Treasurer.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Reverend O. M. James of Tarboro has been critically ill for quite some time, with no material change noted in his condition.

The Reverend and Mrs. Mrs. Henry Eliza Knight, Harrison are moving back to Jersey City.

The Family Roundtable

NEW YORK, (GLOBAL)—

Dear Miss Balk: How can one tell a parent she is setting a bad example for her child? Nettie is a dear friend, but it is hard to help her much. She complains loud and long does not really stop to consider about her child never tells the truth. What is what happened last week? We got on the bus and the driver asked her to pay for the child. She tried to convince him the child was under age, which created a little scene. Finally, the child spoke up shrilly from half way down the aisle: "But mother, I just had my birthday party last week. Mom?" The mother's face became crimson and she quietly paid the fare and crept to her seat. P.S. We got off two blocks too soon.

Do you think this mother has learned a lesson? I wonder.

Sally — Alabama

Dear Sally: Your letter was interesting and thought-provoking. There are many parents who expect their

We will be and will remain strong only so long as we recognize Satan's devices for what they are. But too often there are habits and indulgences which we cling to stubbornly because they please us — when we know they are harmful, weakening, and unrighteous.

Lest Satan should get an advantage of us, for we are not ignorant of his devices.—(II Corinthians 2,11.)

We will be and will remain

Hampton In Music Week Celebration

HAMPTON, Va.—Music Week was launched at Hampton Institute on May 2 when the Hampton Institute Choir appeared in concert in Ogden Hall. Under the direction of Dr. Henry N. Switten, the choir sang during the first half of the program such selections as "Exaltab' Ye Domine" by Palestrina; "O Thou in Whose Presence" by Lewis Cain; "Early One Morning," an English Folk Song arranged by J. A. Fitzgerald; and "To Her I Shall Be Faithful" by Arnold Schoenberg. The second half of the program included old favorites such as: "Alles, was Odem hat Louis den Herrn" by Bach; "Ailella" by Thompson; "There is a Balm in Gilead" and "Ain't That Good News" arranged by W. L. Dawson.

The Music Week activities continued on May 3 with a rental by the Music Department Faculty assisted by the college Choir. The faculty members participating were: James S. Barnes, Howard Brucker and Henry N. Switten, pianists; John Hutton, Jr., organist; George F. Roach, clarinetist. In addition to selections by R. Vaughan-Williams, Bach, Debussy, Chopin and others, there were original compositions by Dominick Argento and Howard Brucker.

A concert by the Hampton Institute Band on May 5 continued the Music Week events. The Band program included "Song of Jupiter" by Handel; "Anderson Symphony No. 2 First Movement" by Borodin-Leiden and "Concertino" by von Weber-Davis among other well-loved compositions. The program also included "Listen to the Drummers Play" and "Manitou Heights" by Christiansen.

Save America Revivals Planned Across Nation

NEW YORK—(AP)—This city was selected as the key center for a nationwide chain of evangelistic mass meetings at a conference last week in Hotel Theresa. Dr. J. W. Golden of Nashville, chairman, said that huge revivals will be held by interdenominational alliances in about 20 major cities.

The conference was in connection with the Interdenominational Evangelistic Crusade for the Salvation of America. It is the 1954 project of the National Fraternal Council of churches, which represents 14 major Negro denominations with more than 7,000,000 members. Bishop Edward A. Love, Methodist of Baltimore, is president.

Dr. Golden reported that alliances throughout the country are joining in the movement. He announced that he will name the Great New York and Boston YWCA branch.

September has been tentatively set as the month of the dramatic spiritual demonstrations.

THIS I BELIEVE—Dr. George Edmund Haynes, a fighter in the field of race relations for more than 20 years, recently told his creed of living to Edward R. Morrow on CBS radio's "This I Believe." Dr. Haynes, co-founder and executive director of the National Urban League, has headed the race relations program of the Federal Council of Churches for 25 years. (Presser Photo).

Share Wisdom

NEW YORK, (GLOBAL)—

To value possessions is a human custom. To value higher service to others is a divine principle and intention. To live to brighten another's pathway, to warn another's pathway, to warn another's heart to share another's burden means triumphant living for the giver and the recipient.

What has the world to offer as a substitute for good will? We have heard the rate way of waste and greed. It has resulted inhumanity. The way of love has never been tried in a few individuals. The love way is bound to bring better homes, better living conditions, finer experiences for all. The greatest enemy of human exploitation and the savages of war will appear in the crosses of the things of "Good Will Toward All." Impunity we have placed too high a valuation on human and too meager an estimation on awakened and illumined human personalities.
