County In NC Seeks To Retain Raleigh Native As Supervisor Of Its School

The Brunswick County Wide P. T. A., of which Samuel Bettes is president and Edson Moore is secretary, in a meeting held last week at Johnson Chapel Church, Leland, passed a resolution favoring the retention of Mrs. Annie Alison Montgomery as supervisor of Negro schools of that county. It seems that Mrs. Montgomery will not be reappointed, with the School Board claiming that there are insufficient Negro teachers under her jurisdiction to justify her employment, although she has worked in Brunswick County under the present set-up for the past approximately six years.

The resolution points out her efficiency and cooperation with the students and parents of the county. Further, the resolution points out that other counties with less teachers and pupils than Brunswick are retaining their supervisors. In addition, the resolution says a petition has been circulated with endorsements from parents and teachers asking for the retention of Mrs. Montgomery, but the resolution lambasts the three supervising principals of the county for failure to add their names to the petition. Says the resolution in this regard: Whereas said petitions have been widely endorsed by all patrons and teachers contacted, save the three district principals, Alvin C. Caviness, Daniel E. Dick, and James F. Clemons; and Whereas, that in our humble

For Raping White Woman:

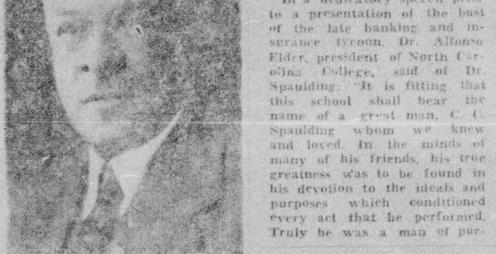

YOUTH GET ELECTRIC CHAIR

WASHINGTON (AP) - A federal judge last week sentenced a 20-year-old youth to the electric chair for the rape of a white woman. Judge Alexander Holtzoff ordered the sentence against Andrew R. Malloy to be carried out Nov. 11. The judge explained that it was mandatory to sentence Malloy to death under the jury's verdict. The jury found the defendant guilty with the death penalty. Malloy was convicted by a jury in the U. S. District of Columbia.

He was accused of having raped the 28-year-old married woman in April 1954, in the basement of a building where she lived. Malloy took the sentence calmly. Defense counsel announced they would appeal the conviction.

Name $1 Million School For Late Dr. Chas. C. Spaulding

DURHAM - One of Durham's newest and most modern schools has been named and dedicated to one of the city's ultra swanky Negro and white residential areas. Informed observers here predict it will be "a school for all the children of all the people."

THE LATE DR. C. C. SPAULDING

In a dedicatory speech prior to a presentation of the bust of the late banking and insurance tycoon, Dr. Alfonso Elder, president of North Carolina College, said of Dr. Spaulding: "It is fitting that this school shall bear the name of a great man, C. C. Spaulding whom we knew and loved. In the minds of many of his friends, his true greatness was to be found in his devotion to the ideals and purposes which conditioned every act that he performed. Truly he was a man of purpose. He wished for all people the best that he wished for himself and his friends. So intense were his hopes and dreams that they radiated from him as a light radiates into the darkness. Others thereby became inspired by contact with him to have a greater faith in themselves and their fellowmen."

Heart Attack Kills Pastor After Rites

TOLEDO, O. - (AP) - Live in constant preparation for death, it may come at any moment. Thus spoke Rev. Thomas Mitchell, in concluding the funeral sermon of Mrs. Fannie Jones. Then the clergyman turned the services over to Van T. Sherrill, funeral director, sat down, collapsed and died of a heart attack. Services for Mrs. Jones were being conducted in St. Paul's A-M-E-Z Church, where Rev. Mitchell was substituting for the church's pastor.

When he collapsed, Sherrill summoned the fire department-rescue squad. After he was given first aid, Rev. Mitchell was pronounced dead at Mercy Hospital. Born in Atlanta, Rev. Mitchell lived in New Madrid, Mo., before coming to Toledo 18 years ago. He was assistant pastor of the Original Church of God and formerly was pastor of First Baptist Church, Rosford.

judgment the failure of aforesaid District Principals to cooperate with their Committeemen and patrons is indicative of a balky and recalcitrant disposition ill-conducive to our conception of cooperation and fair-play. Now, therefore, be it resolved: 1. That they (the principals) immediately resign from the public school system of Brunswick County and any other positions they hold or aspire to that will bring them to such proximity to our children as to transmit their version of cooperation, democracy, and fair-play. 2. That we shall continue to work for the retention of Mrs. Annie Alison Montgomery. 3. That a copy of this resolution be sent to the three District Principals and to the Superintendent, and to each member of the Board of Education. 4. That a copy of this resolution be sent to the newspapers in this section of the State.
