In the wake of my reporting last week that there is such a dearth of social club news during these summer months because of the suspension of meetings by a majority of groups, there comes the news of a lovely party given by Mrs. Thelma Keck for the Capital Bridge Club.

The dinner Mrs. Williams party was held last Saturday at Mrs. Keck's home on Pettigrew Street, and a pretty party it was with ladies lovely in their cool pastel cotton and linen frocks. Guests enjoyed a menu featuring broiled chicken, potato salad, congealed fruit, lettuce and tomato, strawberry shortcake andiced tea.

Prizes awarded to high scorers at bridge were pretty pieces of jewelry and silver. There was also a jewelry gift for the person who was lucky enough to draw a certain number — the date of the month.

Let's see, who were those winners? The lucky number was drawn by Mrs. Nan Watts. Club members receiving prizes for high scores were Mrs. Catherine Winters and Mrs. N. E. Lockhart, non-club members were Mrs. E. Hamlin and Mrs. M. Capehart.

Club members present were Mesdames Sarah Brower, Mayme Flagg, Nan Inboden, Chloe Laws, C. B. Ligon, N. E. Lockhart, S. Love, Mildred Taylor, Flo Turner, Nan Watts, and Catherine Winters. Non-members there were Mesdamess Mattie Atkins, M. Capaha, M. Yarbrough, Mary Curtis, E. Hamlin, G. Harris, Ethel Lytle, D. Otey, and Catherine Turner.

AN EDITORIAL

By the way, did you read the editorial in a local daily last Friday? I refer specifically to the article setting forth the Golden Vertical Plan to solve the integration problem. That was the most timely piece of irony I remember reading in a long, long time.

Just in case you missed it, the plan in essence is this: The races in North Carolina and other parts South, says the author Golden, get along beautifully in every situation except one, that is when they sit down together in public. They have the most intimate relations in

"Help us this day, O Lord, to remember that Thou hast a pattern for our lives. Help us from day to day, patiently and faithfully, to build our lives according to Thy pattern."

CHURCHES

Wilson Temple Methodist Church — Sunday morning worship: The powerful and spiritual sermon was delivered by Rev. L. W. Coltrain of N. Y. City, from the Book of St. Luke, 19th Chapter, 1st through 8th verses, "And Jesus entered and passed through Jerico."

St. Paul A. M. E. Church: The morning message was brought by the pastor, the Reverend L. S. Penn, whose text was taken from St. John, 10-27, "My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me." Theme: "Whose voice do you hear." Music was rendered by the Chorists.

At 6 p.m. the league, led by Mrs. A. G. Logan for the older group, and Mrs. Bertha Smith for the younger group, had a very interesting study, followed by refreshments served by the "United Daughters Board of the church. Mrs. Maryland Simmons is president of the board.

We were favored at the evening service by having the Rev. W. D. Carson, his choir, and congregation of the Rush Memorial A. M. E. Zion Church as our guests, sponsored by Usher Board No. 3. His text was from St. Luke 8-39. Theme, "Witnessing for Christ." We were really uplifted by his message.

First Congregational Christian Church — Sunday morning worship: Church school at 9:30 with a large number attending. Morning worship began at 11 o'clock. A very beautiful sermon was delivered by the guest minister, Rev. Leotha Debnam, from the 95th Psalm, "O come let us sing unto the Lord. Let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation."

Martin St. Baptist Church—Sunday morning worship: Church school at 9:30 with a very large attendance. Church service at 11 o'clock with a sermon from the Book of St. John, 14th Chapter, 1st verse, "Let not your heart be troubled." 1st Peter, 2nd Chapter, 6th and 7th verses, "Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture behold I lay in Zion a chief cornerstone—elect precious." Music was by the Senior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Hayes, organist, Mrs. Lucy Campbell. It was a stand-up positions and there's not any trouble. The solution of the school integration problem therefore is this: Let someone come up with desks without seats for the school rooms. Johnny isn't learning to read sitting down anyway so that might solve educational as well as integration problems!
