

Yes, We All Talk

BY MARCUS H. BOULWARE

Disorders of Articulation
QUESTION: What are the speech sounds that children miss mostly?

ANSWER: Generally, the writer of this column found during his work as a speech correctionist with the public schools of Charlotte, that children made the following errors in uttering these sounds: S, Z, SH, CH, TH, L, and R.

There was a tendency for them to confuse the TH sound with the F sound, as in saying the word TEEF for TEEF. Almost without exception this was true in every case.

The many errors that they made grew out of the following practices:

- (a) Substituting one sound for another, for example, "thither" for "slither"
- (b) Omitting a sound; for example "govment" for "government".

(c) Distorting a sound; for example, the SH or ZH being made with air escaping off the sides of the tongue instead of being directed forward and outward.

(d) Adding a sound; for example, "Ftish" for "fish" or "stall" for "salt".
It should be noted that the speech correctionist or parent should keep in mind that children acquire some sounds earlier than others. Some sounds that the child may not have acquired before the age of six are: S, Z, V, TH (voiced), SH, ZH, and L.

Evangelist Backs Integration Idea

WASHINGTON (ANP) — Billy Graham, noted white evangelist, told a TV audience last week that he believes the church in the South "should lead the way" toward bettering racial relationships, and that "ministers should take a very firm stand in teaching their people along these lines."

In an interview on the NBC-TV program, "Youth Wants To Know," Graham said:

"I don't think the achievement of racial integration is going to be done overnight, even in the church."
Graham stated that he tries his own evangelistic crusades to "set an example," and cited his recent integrated meetings in New Orleans, Nashville, Richmond, and Oklahoma City. There was "no problem at all," he said.

A. E. WHILY-TELL, a French-born Negro who rose from a bank clerk position to head the world's celebrated theatre, the Folies Bergere in Paris, was honored recently on his 51st anniversary with the theatre. He was director-general of the Folies from 1934 to 1935, when ill health forced him to give up the post. In order to keep him in an advisory post, the theatre's management created the job of "Department of Publicity and Propaganda" and made him its director. He still holds this position today. ## TV Hate Sale At Democrat Meet Nixed

ATLANTA, Ga. (ANP) — Negro leaders here are taking active steps to block a plan by Southern Democrats to "sell segregation" via television during the Democratic National convention which will open in Chicago Aug. 13.

The call has gone out among Southern Democratic leaders to take advantage of the extensive free television coverage of the convention to tell the country why the South opposes school integration and other civil rights measures.

The plan, authored by Roy V. Harris of Augusta, a principal party figure in the state, envisions each Southern state offering a favorite son for nomination as the Democratic presidential candidate.

The speaker proposing a nominee is allowed 20 minutes to address the convention body — and the television camera.

Harris suggests that each nominating speaker take up most of the time in discussion of the "South's position" in the integration picture — and then close by offering the name of the candidate the individual state is supporting.

Raleigh Woman Creates Interest In Night Classes At Shaw Univ.

RALEIGH — Miss Bessie B. McNeill, 1305 Holman Street, may become the "founder" of a night school at Shaw University as a result of her inquiries regarding the establishing of classes for adults at night at the Baptist Institution.

The young lady, secretary of a local painting company, wrote Dr. W. R. Strassner, Shaw's president, recently.

Following is a letter received by Miss McNeill last Saturday: Miss Bessie B. McNeill, Sturdivant Painting Company, Post Office Box 1762, Raleigh, North Carolina. Dear Miss McNeill:

Following through on your recent suggestion that we organize a night class for adult persons at Shaw University during the ensuing school year, I am pleased to inform you that we have given serious consideration to the matter. We shall be pleased to offer a course of study to such a group provided we can secure a large enough number of students who would be interested. There should certainly be no less than fifteen persons who would agree to take the course and attend the class periods regularly. The overall charges for each student would be $35.00.

We would be pleased to have you serve as a special representative in the development of this project and send to us the names and addresses of those persons whom you think would be interested.

With kindest regards, I am Sincerely yours, William R. Strassner, President.

This offer is being made to anyone with a high school diploma or with a partial college education. Its purpose is to benefit the young men and women that want to continue studying, but must work during the day. If there are some fifteen or more persons interested in obtaining courses of study toward a degree, please contact: Miss Bessie B. McNeill, 1305 Holman Street, Raleigh, North Carolina. Telephone: TE 3-5679, nights and weekends; TE 4-5957, days.
