

SAVE MY LIFE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) months in a Kilby, Ala., prison hospital. He was sent to a Tuscaloosa prison camp, where he was treated very badly. He also stated that he was hit over the head by a guard, while at the camp.

George Grant, Alabama prison official, who was present for the hearing, is believed to have played a big part in the postponing of the case, when he said that if he returned to Alabama, he would be placed under heavier guard.

Thomas, serving a five-year sentence for larceny of a bicycle. The evidence pointed out that Thomas only received the bicycle, it having been brought to his shop after having been stolen. Judge Warner ordered the hearing continued until next week.

NAACP PAYS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) County Court of Common Pleas on Thursday before Judge Steve C. Griffith. An all-white jury was selected after Thomas Dupree, lone Negro to be called, was excused when he said he was an NAACP member.

The $10,000 settlement was announced by A. M. M. Weinberg, who represented Nash, after the prosecution finished presenting its case Friday morning.

"I am pleased," he said, "to announce that we have reached a settlement brought about by the good feelings which have existed between the races here in Sumter County."

Defendants in the suit were H. P. Sharper, president, and the directors of the local branch.

BABY PERISHES

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) room frame house on Smith Street, Sunday night.

Mrs. James and her three children were visiting the house when fire broke out in the house. She was able to rescue her six-year-old child and an eight-month-old infant, but was turned back by the smoke and intense heat when she tried to enter the blazing back room of the house for a third time.

HOME BURNED

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) same person.

The minister is pastor of AME churches in Summerton and Silvers, both in Clarendon County. The Summerton school district is the highplace of the now-famous Clarendon County case, one of the United States Supreme Court's decisions declaring public school segregation unconstitutional.

300-LB. COP

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) older Askey also treated for his wounds and later died.

Records show that Sessions shot and killed another man shortly after he joined the Askey force 10 1/2 years ago.

Racial Equality

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) the case, but Judge Hoffman ruled that no lease could be made to maintain segregation. It was this ruling that Virginia asked the Supreme Court to overturn.

Refusal of the high tribunal to overturn the ruling makes the desegregation order final.

STATE BRIEFS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) charges of breaking and entering and larceny and receiving.

FREE FAIR PASSES MAILED RALPHIGH—Officials of the North Carolina State Fair reported this week that they have mailed a total of 274,000 free tickets to school superintendents throughout the state for distribution through all schools. The State Fair has passed out tickets to children of the public schools for many years and this year, according to Dr. J. S. Dorton, manager, about 30,000 more than last year and sets an all-time record. Two special days, Oct. 16 for Wake County students and Oct. 18 for N. C. school children, have been set.

HELD FOR MURDER

YANCEYVILLE—Clayton Poole is being held without bond on a murder charge here this week. He is charged with the slaying of Charlie W. Finnick, 23, last Saturday night during a fight at a service station. Finnick, who lived near Yanceyville, was stabbed near the heart and died at a Burlington hospital. Poole was arrested at the hospital where he was treated for minor knife wounds.

STATE WORKERS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) The Rev. T. H. Brooks, superintendent, Oxford Ordnance, delivered the invocation and M. H. Crockett, principal, and host to the meet, welcomed the visitors. Mrs. Lucy James, home economics supervisor, presided over the second session. P. R. Brown, superintendent Morrison Training School, Lewin M. Hayes, head of the Goldsboro Youth Center and the Rev. Mr. Brooks addressed the meeting.

Dr. S. E. Duncan, supervisor, Negro high schools, presided over the third session. S. B. Simmons, Agricultural Education, M. H. Crockett, and R. W. Coley, chaplain, State Hospital, Goldsboro, were the principal speakers.

The highlight of the meeting was a luncheon honoring Dr. Walter J. Hughes, veteran physician who spent many years in health work for the state. Dr. J. W. Seabrook, retired president, Fayetteville State Teachers College, presided.

Dr. J. N. Mills, Durham, Van S. Allen, Bennett College, Mrs. Bessie B. Ramsey, Extension Service, Mrs. Georgia Barbee, State Health Department; Mrs. Jennie D. Taylor, former health employee, and S. B. Simmons, all paid tribute to the life and work of Dr. Hughes. Dr. Hughes graciously accepted the honors extended him.

Mrs. Ruth Lawrence Woodson, supervisor of elementary schools, presided over the fifth session, while Miss Edna D. Garrett and Mrs. Georgia Barbee addressed the meeting. The final session featured R. E. Jones, Mrs. Minnie M. Brown and W. C. Cooper.

ODDS & ENDS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) fense director for this area, was asked why Negroes were turned down when they answered the appeals for spotters. He said he would see if any arrangements could be made to have a special time allotted for them to watch for planes—a special time and a special area to watch.

Asking a hypothetical question, what would happen if Negroes refused to watch over this segregated area just at a time when enemy planes had been ordered to strike that area, or what would happen if there were a heavy concentration of enemy planes attacking the sections where the whites were on duty and Negroes were on duty at other sections?

There are many dangerous situations that could develop because of this stupid set up, each of which could allow their prejudices to endanger the lives of all the people, it would seem that this would be one time when the so-called men and women of good will would call a halt to the activities of these hate mongers before we are all blown to kingdom come.

The New School: Already a number of names have been suggested for the new school near completion in the Washington Terrace section here. As might be expected, all of the names have been proposed are names of Negroes, living and dead.

There is absolutely nothing wrong about naming this school after an illustrious Negro and that probably will be really no more other than that. It is very hard for Negroes to think in terms of Americanism when they are systematically denied the advantages of American citizenship for many long years. With patience and fortitude American Negroes have been turning the other cheek and with God at their side, they have shown white Americans what democracy and Christianity mean.

In the naming of this new school, race should be forgotten as such and a name selected that would typify the true spirit of democracy.

The Culprit: Apparently, Governor Hodges believes there is no viable front in North Carolina that the elimination of its Negroes would not cure.

Last year our governor was accusing the Negroes in North Carolina of being responsible for this state's low economic standing. Commenting on the fact that North Carolina ranked number 47 in the per capita income index, the governor said that very bad showings were caused by the large percentage of Negroes in this state.

Last week the governor was jumping on North Carolina's Negroes again. Speaking about the increasing number of persons on relief in this state the governor blamed that condition on Negro women having so many illegitimate children that have to be cared for by the relief and welfare agencies.

By this time the low esteem Governor Hodges has for Negroes should be apparent to all. However, one wonders if it has ever occurred to the good governor when he blames the Negro element for the conditions that clear thinking people here and elsewhere will blame the state of North Carolina for them.

When men and women are denied the opportunity to earn a decent living for themselves and their families, when the "white only" sign is posted in every industry for all jobs above the rank of janitor; when this state discharges even its low paid janitors and gives their jobs to prisoners when this state refuses to compel hotels, lodges, etc., to pay its Negro employees over 40c and hour, why can't even Gov. Hodges realize who the real culprit is? Or is it that Mr. Hodges would rather see all Negroes leave this state?

Why, Mr. Mayor? When asked to comment on the abandonment of the proposed housing project for Negroes south of Raleigh, Mayor Wheeler is quoted as saying that Negro housing is needed here, but that was the wrong place for it.

The Mayor is not quoted as giving any reasons for his statement. Maybe he did not give any because basically there isn't any. He has many Negro neighbors and not one of them has bitten him. In the Oberlin section of Raleigh, white people have built homes right beside Negro homes. There has been no conflict, and the Mayor knows that. He also knows there is no legal barrier that prevents one race from living in an area where another race is living.

Knowing all of these things, it would be rather hard for Mayor Wheeler to give any sound reason for his statement that the south Raleigh site was the "wrong" one for Negro homes. Knowing all these things, it is too bad that the Mayor was not brave enough to take a stand for the right.

DESEGREGATION

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) 600 National Guardsmen drove off a mob to insure their safe entry.

The ruling pointed out that the U. S. Supreme Court declared unconstitutional Tennessee's laws barring mingling of the races and continued.

"We know of no case in which the courts of this state may enforce the enforcement of a federal district court decree that is based on an expressed mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States."

MISS. GOVERNOR SEES 50 MORE YEARS OF HIM CROW JACKSON, Miss. "Mississippi will maintain total school segregation for at least 50 more years and the Supreme Court will be powerless to stop it."

This was the opinion voiced by Gov. J. E. Coleman last week to a group of 20 New England editors touring the state as guests of the State Sovereignty Commission, an agency formed to help ward off integration.

Under questioning by members of the visiting group, Coleman said he thought the integration controversy would become a "back number and a dead issue" after four or five years, and that segregation would then go on pretty much as it did before the Supreme Court's ruling.

Raleigh Debutantes Get Charm Tips From Experts

Along with a young lady's debut to society, all the aspects of correct dress, hair styling and charm in general must be considered in preparation for the 1956 Debutante Ball to be held at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium on November 23. The Alpha Theta Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, the Ball's sponsor, held its annual Charm Clinic for the debutantes at the Charlotte Heights Community Center. Approximately 50 of the 70 young ladies to be presented were on hand for the event.

In her remarks regarding the traditional ball gown for "the night", Mrs. Oreita Byrd of a local clothing store stressed the necessity for simplicity in choice of the gown. It was brought out that the young ladies should choose with care and be sure that they have the billowing skirts which make for beautiful carriage. To complement their attire for the Ball, Mrs. Byrd urged the debbs to choose their jewelry with care—always keeping in mind that there is no need for ornate jewelry which would take away from their appearances.

To complete the evening's discussion, Mrs. Eula M. Holden, a local cosmetologist, lectured to the young ladies on special care of the skin and hair in preparation for the Ball as well as later. To place this in a more functional state, Mrs. Holden gave a demonstration in hair styling and home facials. As a result of the initial demonstration many of the debbs present went up to her during the evening to secure tips on hair styles for themselves.

To round out an evening of enlightenment in the area of charm, the Social Committee of the Chapter held a "get acquainted" social hour following the lectures. Out-of-town debbs were present from Durham, Lenoir, Wayne, Sevier, Macon, and Augusta, Georgia.

Sorors Pannie V. Latham, Marjorie B. Debnam and Irene T. Lane were in charge of the social hour. Soror Susie V. Perry is chairman of the Vocational Guidance Committee and Soror Marguerite M. Adams is the Honorary Chairman of the 1956 Debutante Ball.

Mother Of CAROLINIAN Newsmen Dies In Sleep

Raleigh—Mrs. Almada Jones, 26 Camden St., mother of Charles R. Jones, who has charge of the city desk at the CAROLINIAN, along with other duties in circulation, died in her home, Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Jones was born in Johnston County, where she attended school. She moved to Raleigh, with her family some time ago. She has been in failing health for sometime, but her death came as a shock to her family and friends.

She leaves two children, Mrs. Lucy Gomez, Bronx, New York, and Charles, of the home. She is also survived by three brothers, William H., Ernest and James A., all of Raleigh, and one grand-daughter. Funeral arrangements were not complete but will be announced later. Burial will take place at the Johnston Piney Grove Baptist Church, near Smithfield.

WORLD SERIES

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Jackie Robinson, veteran Dodger infielder, kept the Bums' hopes alive in the sixth game on Tuesday, when his scorching line drive over the head of Enochs Slaughter drove in Junior Gilliam to score the winning tally in a dramatic ten-inning, 1-0 victory and tied the series at three games each.

Jackie already had to his credit a home run hit in the opening game.

Roy Campanella caught all seven innings for the Dodgers and also had a homer, in addition to his usually brilliant game at the plate.

Elston Howard, Yankee outfielder-catcher, seeing action in the final game for the first time during the series, opened the fourth inning with a homer over the right centerfield screen to help his team to its 9-0 victory.

Howard had been saved as a replacement, if necessary, for Catcher Yogi Berra, whose pair of consecutive two-run homers in the fifth and sixth innings highlighted the final game.

Stevenson Vick Vows Spoken

GREENSBORO — The marriage of Miss Culey Mae Vick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Vick of Jackson, N. C., to John Marshall Stevenson, son of Arthur L. Stevenson, Sr., of Little Rock, Arkansas, was solemnized in an impressive double-ring ceremony on August 25th at Temple Emanuel, Greensboro, North Carolina.

Rabbi Fred S. Rypins performed the rites and musical selections were rendered in the traditional Jewish manner by Cantor Bertram Allen with Mrs. Ethel Anderson, accompanist at the organ console.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor length wedding gown with a trail of chinchilla lace adorned with rhinestones and seed pearls. The two-tiered veil was crowned with seed pearls and rhinestones. She wore a single strand of pearls given her by the groom. The bride carried a white prayer book showered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Hattie V. Davis, sister of the bride, served as Matron of Honor and only attendant, wore an aqua ankle length gown with matching accessories. The flower girl was little Miss Mari Li Douglas, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Julius T. Douglas, who wore an ankle length white gown with matching accessories. The mother of the bride wore a dress of blue lace with taffeta and matching accessories, and a corsage of white orchid.

Sylvester P. Clarke, member of the A&T College faculty served as best man. Ushers were Dr. James (Shaky) Stuart, chairman of the business department at the college and Van S. Allen, biology instructor at Bennett College in Greensboro.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Howell, 341 Stewart Street. The home was beautifully decorated with white gladioli, fern, palms and lighted candles. The bride is a June graduate of the North Carolina College at Durham. The groom is a graduate of Arkansas A.M. and N. College, the University of Arkansas and

Princess Margaret Forgets Color Bar, Invites All To Garden Party

PORT LOUIS, Mauritius—(AP)—Princess Margaret forgot the color bar last week and invited persons of all races to her farewell garden party at the Governor's mansion.

P. B. Young, Jr. Heads GOP Information Unit

WASHINGTON — The Republican National Committee has "drained" one of the country's top journalists, P. Bernard Young, Jr., to serve with it during the Presidential election campaign as Director of Information for its Minorities Division. It was announced this week by Val J. Washington, chief of the division.

Two-time winner of the Wilkie Journalism Award, the veteran Norfolk Va., newspaperman is one of the most-traveled and experienced editors in the profession. Following his graduation in 1923 with honors from Ohio State University's school of journalism, where he was the first Negro managing editor of the college daily, The Ohio State Lantern, Young became a full-time member of the staff of the Journal Guide in Norfolk.

With that nationally known publication, he served successively as reporter, assistant managing editor, managing editor and associate editor, and in 1943, became its editor-in-chief, vice-president, and secretary. Currently on leave of absence to accept the National Republican post, he has set up office in Republican Headquarters here in the Cafritz Building, 1625 Eye St., N. W.

Accredited by the Navy and Army as a war correspondent, he went to Navy anti-submarine patrol bomber flight in the early days of World War II. He was a chance to serve as an Army correspondent to accept membership on a commission authorized by the White House to make a social, economic, and political survey in Europe during late 1944 and early 1945.

In Africa he visited Sierra Leone, Liberia, Gold Coast, Nigeria, French Equatorial Africa, and the Belgian Congo, covering over 30,000 miles by air to, from, and in Africa. While in Liberia at the invitation of President W. V. S. Tubman, he addressed a joint session of the Liberian Congress.

Accredited to the United Nations Organizing Conference in San Francisco in 1945, his coverage won him the first two Wilkie Journalism awards for objective reporting. The following year he won another Wilkie award for editorial writing. A third successive award went to the Journal Guide under his editorship, for public service.

Young covered the 1946 atomic bomb tests at Bikini Island as a correspondent accredited to Joint Task Force One, and in 1948 was one of three colored reporters traveling with President Truman during a Caribbean cruise to Puerto Rico.

Wake County Voters Must Register Anew

The Wake County Board of Elections, acting under authorization of the State Board of Elections, has called for a new registration of voters in all townships of Wake County except Raleigh Township.

Every person living in a township covered by this new registration must therefore register during the period beginning at 9 a. m. Saturday, Oct. 13, and ending on Saturday, Oct. 27 at sundown if he is to vote in the General Election on Tuesday, Nov. 6.

The new registration will bring the entire county under the modern loose-leaf registration system, which was established in Raleigh Township in 1952, and will be permanent.

This new registration applies to persons residing in the following townships: Barton's Creek, Buckhorn, Cary, Cedar Fork, Holly Springs, House Creek, Leesville, Little River, Mark's Creek, Meredith, Middle Creek, Neuse River, New Light, Panther Branch, St. Mary's, St. Matthew's, Swift Creek, Wake Forest, and White Oak.

Registrars will be at their polling places for the purpose of registration on Saturday, Oct. 13 from 9 a. m. to 5:42 p. m., on Saturday, Oct. 27 from 9 a. m. to 5:25 p. m. They will also register voters at their homes on other week days between Oct. 13 and Oct. 27.

Any person entitled to register who will not be in the county during the above period of registration may register at any time Mondays through Fridays before Oct. 13 at the office of the Board of Elections in the Wake County Court House.

You must register to vote if you live in any of the above listed townships even though your name appears on the old books, for all existing registrations have been cancelled.

Another project is to work with members of the membership committee, so that there will be a better representation in the P-T-A. During the regular session, committee meeting results were reported. The Health Committee has decided to equip each teacher's room with first-aid supplies. They also assumed the responsibility of the upkeep of the first-aid room.

The final business for the evening was to present a lovely bouquet of dahlias given by the membership committee to the class having the largest representation. Mrs. Dunbar, teacher of grade two, was the recipient.

P-T-A MEET HELD The Oberlin School P-T-A met on Thursday, Oct. 4, at 8 p. m. Prior to the regular session, a meeting of the Grandmothers was held in the office of the principal. Realizing the need for a period of relaxation during the day, the Grandmothers have decided to equip a lounge for the Oberlin teachers. This, of course, is the foremost project for the group.

Seated is Miss Iris O. Hairston of Walnut Grove, left to right standing are Miss Bessie Pierre of Ahsokie; Clarence Crutchfield of Roxboro and Mrs. Bernice Rainbow, librarian, who is demonstrating the use of the soundscraper recorder.

Shaw Freshmen Explore Library—As a part of the orientation program at Shaw University, new students recently made a tour of the University's library. The audio-visual aid seminar room shown here is a recent addition to the library.

Seated is Miss Iris O. Hairston of Walnut Grove, left to right standing are Miss Bessie Pierre of Ahsokie; Clarence Crutchfield of Roxboro and Mrs. Bernice Rainbow, librarian, who is demonstrating the use of the soundscraper recorder.

P. B. YOUNG, JR.

Mother Dead, M. D. Delivers Baby Safely

WELLSVILLE, Ala.—(AP)—Dr. William B. Dinkins proved last week his ability to perform medical miracles as he operated on a dead mother and delivered her child safely here.

The mother, Mrs. Azlie Wilson, had died of a stroke. Her body was rushed to the hospital that employed Dr. Dinkins, who had been her physician for a month prior to her death.

Knowing she was pregnant, the doctor performed the operation by Caesarian 30 seconds after her body arrived. The baby was two or three weeks premature but was in "excellent" condition. Dr. Dinkins said the infant was immediately placed in an incubator.

Dr. Dinkins said he realized the operation had to be performed immediately because an unborn child will die if not delivered within eight minutes after its mother dies.

Asheville Leader Visits Carolinian

Fred R. Woodford, who is well-known here, having married Mrs. Lillian P. Cannady, of E. Martin St., visited the Carolinian office Wednesday.

He toured the plant and said it was the most wonderful plant he had visited and was a credit to the owner and those associated with him. He complimented the staff and was high in his praise of the paper. He says he looks forward to receiving it every week and is kept abreast with what is happening in the state, through its columns.

He was in the city to attend a meeting of the Kanuga Lake Conference, which met to desegregate the lake. Negroes have been going to the lake on limited terms but Mr. Woodford had high hopes that these restrictions would be taken down and that all the facilities and full privileges would be open to all persons who wanted to visit the Buncombe County place.

Tobacco specialists report that extended dry weather in home-Piedmont and mountain countries has reduced prospective yields for both flue cured and burley crop.

days between Oct. 13 and 27. Voters who will be absent from the city during the entire registration period, may register at the Board of Elections Office in the Wake County Court House during business hours before Oct. 13.

ARSENITE VOTING Registered voters who know that they will be away from Raleigh on Nov. 6 may make application for absentee ballots at the County Board of Elections Office in the Wake County Court House, beginning Monday, Oct. 8. The final date should be made as early as possible because ballots must be furnished the voter after the application has been received and must be returned PROPERLY NOTARIZED in time to be delivered to the voter's precinct on the morning of election day.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

GILBEY'S GIN advertisement featuring a bottle of gin and pricing information: FIFTHS $3.25, PINTS $2.05. Includes the Gilbey's logo and text: GILBEY'S DISTILLED LONDON DRY GIN 100% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS. W & A. GILBEY, LTD., GINCIANNATI, ONIO.