Predict Civil Rights Passage Before Easter

WASHINGTON — Republican congressional leaders predicted Tuesday that Congress will approve civil rights legislation before Easter despite solid opposition from the strong Southern bloc.

They made the forecast to reporters following their weekly legislative huddle with President Eisenhower who is seeking approval of a four-point civil rights program.

However, Southerners trying to head off such legislation charged today that the President's plan could lead to federal tyranny.

State Attorney General J. Lindsay Almond Jr. of Virginia accused the administration of preaching "one course of action and basic philosophy" on States' rights while practicing the opposite.

He and Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.) appeared before a House Judiciary subcommittee which ended hearings on the program Tuesday.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. said it would take the House only about two days to pass the legislation once it gets to the floor.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said that he expected the Senate Judiciary Committee to complete action around March 5. He said that he hoped for Senate passage before the Easter recess.

Thurmond told the subcommittee he opposed the legislation and did not want to see "tyranny" foisted on the American people under the guise of civil rights.

Officers said that bloodhounds from nearby Wilson Mills Prison Camp were put on the trail of Edwards but lost it shortly afterwards.

Garden Time

This is a good time to set strawberry plants in eastern Carolina. In the mountains, I would wait until the last of March or the first of April.

Mansey, Abritton and Dixieland tains. Superintention is a good ever-bearing variety for the mountains but is not recommended for other sections of the state.

Apply two quarts of 8-8-8 fertilizer per 100 feet of row two weeks before planting. Space plants twelve inches in rows, three and one half feet apart.

Your pruning chores should be completed but it is not too late to prune tree fruits and grapes. The grapes will bleed some but don't worry about it.

Cotton Farmers Hit; Abolish A Regional Office

LITTLE ROCK (ANP) — The $200,000 slash which U. S. Secretary took in price support on various governmentally supported farm products struck cotton farmers a hard blow.

Such a cut reaches down to the little Negro cotton farmer as well as the tenant and sharecropper. It is felt it will be especially hurtful because the regional office of the Commodity Stabilization Service which was maintained here under the leadership of James Perry Davis has been abolished.

For more than a decade Fieldman Davis served the department from the heart of the South here. He ferreted out the cheating of sharecroppers by held progressive planters in settling disputes but most important his office served as a center of information for Negro and small farmers in this section.

Hugh Brewer who directs the service in Washington does not feel the office is necessary. The work will be transferred to the regular department and a white man will carry on the work.

Calypso-Jazz Program To Play Carnegie Hall

NEW YORK (ANP) — Said old Carnegie Hall, the scene of many long-hair events is being worked overtime these days—and not by high brow concerts. It's jazz and calypso.

Over in Brooklyn at the big Academy of Music (where the diva Marlon Anderson sings annually) next week, the adroit Voodoo and Calypso presenting Maubeth the Great along with a couple of bands. Then for the following week, there is a "Folk Fest and Calypso Carnival" with the inevitable steel band—this one from Trinidad.

Behind all this, there's much agitation. Material is getting scarce. The present crop of Calypso singers—some of whom never saw the West Indies not even on a school map—have just about given out.

And the promoters are reluctant to pay real prices to bona fide performers who are steering clear of the current fast moving fad. They point out many shortcomings in the set-up with the promoters seeking to make a fast buck out of a new appeal to jaded music lovers.

The truth of the matter is simple—real Calypso experts are whom come to America in 1930 to make records for a top company and has a number of them to prove it—are laughing up their sleeves at the frantic antics of the Johnny come lately.

One such old timer is "numbers" one close to 2,000 Calypso singers, the majority of which have not been heard by the present public.

Tempers Flare At Civil Rights Hearings In Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (ANP) — The Senate Committee on Constitutional Rights agreed in executive session Monday to shut off hearings on civil rights legislation on March 5. This decision was reached by a 4-2 vote, with Senators Sam Ervin and Olin Johnston of the Carolinas, opposing.

This move was taken in order to speed up action on civil rights legislation.

The Senate hearings got off to a stormy beginning last Thursday, just as the House was completing its second stint of testimony. First of all it met with what amounts to a filibuster spearheaded by Senator Ervin of North Carolina. Second it was prohibited from sitting while the Senate is in session, as the result of a vote by Senator J. Lee Rankin of Louisiana.

The delaying method used by Senator Ervin necessitated the appearance of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell before the committee for three consecutive days. Brownell is author and supervisor of the Administration's bill now under consideration by the subcommittee.

Tempers finally flared up on the third day of grilling with Ervin, like a prosecuting attorney, dragging the Attorney General through the "fourth degree."

acting as a mediator, tried to soothe the troubled waters but found himself wading deeper into the stream when he declined to hear testimony by three colored witnesses who had come all the way to Washington from the southland to tell their story.

The witnesses, Gus Courts, Atty. Austin T. Walden and the Rev. William Holmes Borders from Mississippi and George respectively had sat through the hearings for three days when they were finally called before the committee.

These witnesses were asked to take oath, being the first among the several to be required to do so. Then they were informed that it was too late in the day to be heard.

Brownell in his testimony outlined methods used in various southern states to prohibit Negroes from voting. He gave a specific example of an incident which took place in Ouachita Parish in Louisiana where more than 3,000 Negro registrants were challenged.

Registration is scheduled for 9:30 A. M. and the exhibits will be ready at 10:00 o'clock. There will be exhibits from 19 counties comprising the Western District of the N. C. Extension Service. Each county will have a minimum of 1 bushel of potatoes and not more than 3 bushels. These lots have been judged prize winners in each county.

The judging will be done by C. A. Gurley, Market Specialist, Department of Agriculture. The Danish system of judging will be used. The first prize will be designated by a blue ribbon. The second and third prizes will carry a white ribbon. The winners will receive awards and citations.

The event will open with a prayer by the Rev. J. F. Sawyer, 4-B Club Leader, Dodie Burt, 4-H Club County Council president, will chair the meeting. 4-H Club singing and club music will get the audience into the spirit of the occasion.

Prof. S. B. T. Easterling will welcome the participants and the audience to the school. J. W. Jeffries, Extension head, will tell the purpose. He is expected to say that the show is being held to encourage the production of the quality of sweet potatoes. He will also tell how this can be done. There will be furnished by the Glee Club of Mineral Springs High School.

One of the highlights of the event will be the demonstration of sweet potatoes, by H. M. Covington, Horticulture Specialist, State College. Another unique aspect of the show will be a judging team consisting of three boys from each county and one alternate. This is another phase of teaching the boys the methods of producing better potatoes. The team that displays the best judgment will receive a prize.
