Hampton's J. Saunders Redding Made Trustee Of ACL Committee

HAMPTON, VA. (SPECIAL) — J. Saunders Redding, professor of English at Hampton University, has been named as a trustee of the American Civil Liberties Union's ACL Committee. Redding was elected to the post at a meeting of the committee held in Hampton on Monday.

Redding is a member of the Hampton University faculty since 1943. He also served as visiting professor of English at Brown University (Prov., R. I.) during the summer of 1956.

SAUNDERS REDDING gained prominence after winning the 1954 North Carolina Mayflower Society Award with the non-fictional study of the South, "No Day of Triumph." Earlier, he had written "To Make A Post, Black's Hat" and "Stagger and Alone," which have been published in February, 1956, received highly favorable reception.

"They Came in Chains," part of Lippincott's "People of America Series," published in July, 1952, tells the tale of generations from slavery and disfranchisement toward the gradually evolving status of American citizen. First Class, and examines the roots of the conflict that shaped the civil war.

The author's most recent book, "An American in India," is a result of an invitation by the U. S. State Department to fill a foreign assignment in India.

Others on the 5-member board are Dean Louis M. Haeber of the School of General Studies, Columbia University; Professor Milton R. Konvitz of New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations, Cornell University; Arthur Murphy of New York; and Professor William J. Warner of New York University's Graduate School of Arts and Sciences.

Springtime Pic

Welcome is the first breath of spring! Here's the season with a Springtime Pic. This luscious dessert is a combination of rhubarb and strawberries that's complemented by a tender flaky crust. It's so easy to belong to the class of "best cook in town." Just take a package of your favorite pie crust mix, add the amount of water given in the package directions and presto — pie crust that is a credit to any cook!

Treat the family to Springtime Pic in the living room or on the porch and it's festive — a perfect tonic for weary winter days.

Makes 8 servings

Filling:
1/2 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
2 cups fresh rhubarb, cut in 1-inch pieces
One 1-lb. package frozen strawberries, drained

Pie Crust:
One 10-oz. package pie crust mix
4 to 5 tablespoons cold water

For the filling, mix sugar and cornstarch together. Add 1/4 to 1/2 cup cold water. For the pie crust, empty pie crust mix into bowl. Sprinkle 4 to 5 tablespoons cold water over mix; stir with fork. Form into ball. Divide dough in half. Roll one half to form a circle about 10 inches in diameter. Fit loosely in 8-inch pie plate. Trim edges with scissors. Roll other half of dough to form 9-inch circle. Cut several designs with cookie cutter. Place over filling. Fold edge under; seal and flute. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 30 to 35 minutes.

Funeral services were held Friday at 3:30 p. m. from the First Baptist Church here for 12 year old David Carney, Jr., who drowned Monday morning when a minnow catching excursion turned into a swimming party in a deep sand pit near here.

James Nixon, 13, of Apt. 22 D Carver Court, stated that he, the victim and three other youths went to the excavation to catch minnows for a fishing party and while catching the minnows decided to go swimming. They frolicked for several minutes and then David called for help. James said he swam to David's assistance. "But he hit me and I couldn't get close to him so I went for help."

He addressed to Clarence Harrison, white, at Harrison's home, some 300 yards away. Harrison said he ran to the deep pond and dived several times in a vain attempt to rescue the youth. He said he gave up when it became apparent that the boy could not be revived if he were to find him.

In the party of boys was James, 10 year old brother of the victim. It was he who told his parents of the tragedy.

Search efforts were started at about 9:15 by three local firemen in a boat that was hauled to the pond. Carney was found shortly before 10 A. M. less than 90 minutes after he went under at 8:30 A. M.

The condition of Kenneth Bection, a faculty member at Savannah School, was reported "fair" at Lenoir Memorial Hospital where he was confined with injuries resulting from a high speed accident near Grifton early the previous Saturday.

Bection, 26, and formerly of Goldsboro was injured when his 1956 automobile plunged out of control on NC 11, a mile south of Grifton and overturned an estimated four times. He suffered severe head injuries, plus multiple cuts and lacerations. The automobile was a total loss and even its spare tire was punctured. Bection's speed was estimated at about 100 miles an hour.

A recent article by Dr. Paul F. Whitaker stated that Lenoir County is preparing to enter the Red Cross Blood program this summer. Under the supervision of physicians and nurses, a blood mobile from the Tide Water Regional Blood Center in Norfolk, Va., will make visits at specified intervals to collect blood from those who wish to give it.

Under this program, Dr. Whitaker stated, blood will be given to people needing it through the Blood Bank and will therefore make it unnecessary for people in the community to be asked to donate blood at a time of emergency.

The Red Cross and those interested in it wish to make an earnest plea to the people of Lenoir County to cooperate with this program. Those who give blood, with complete safety and a minimum inconvenience to themselves, have the inner satisfaction of participating in a life saving program.

Beach Beauties — A Breeze To Make

THIS DEMURE silky-wool blouse is a charming contrast to the sophisticated, smartly tailored Jamaica-length shorts. Patterns come in sizes 12 to 20 and both are a breeze to make. A new longer length 9-skirt pattern, Magic-Tan T-shirt, is used for the shorts to assure smooth fit. It makes them easier to slip into and caught fabric is never a problem since it releases it like magic. Zipper packages carry simple instructions on how to apply quickly and correctly. Both are Simplicity patterns—The Blue No. 2009, the Short No. 1606.

Say NC Out Of Step In Failure To Clear Checks

RALEIGH — North Carolina is out of step with other progressive states in the failure of many Tar Heel banks to clear checks at face value, and the public is unnecessarily suffering because of it, a par banking spokesman said here today. He further stated that "par banking would be detrimental in their duty if they did not use every effort to eliminate this costly and unjustified expense for their customers."

President A. D. Shackelford of the National Bank of Wilson is heading a recently-chartered group which is seeking to eliminate by law the practice in which some banks charge the recipient of a check a fee for paying his checks when it is presented through the mails. Shackelford's group is the Association for Payment of Checks at Face Value. It was formed last month by "par" banks which charge no such clearance fee but clear checks at full value as well as by manufacturers, distributors, retailers and others.

"There are approximately 13,500 banks operating 21,200 banking offices throughout the 48 states," Shackelford said. "Ninety per cent of them levy no fee for clearing checks presented for payment through the mails. However, in North Carolina the story is quite different because we have a disproportionate number of 'non-par' banks which refuse to clear these checks at full value."

"North Carolina has a total of 558 banks and branches but only 58 per cent of them clear checks at face value, compared with the national percentage of 90. Our state is even out of step with her southern neighbors because the percentage of banks which pay in full for checks presented through the mails is 99.6 in Virginia, 99.4 in West Virginia and 66.6 per cent in South Carolina," Shackelford continued.

Jackie Robinson Says He Believes Ike Will Speak Against Terrorism

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Jackie Robinson, former baseball star, stated Sunday that he has great faith in President Eisenhower and believes that he will soon condemn the violence and terrorism directed against Negroes in the South.

He praised Vice President Nixon, and Sherman Adams, the President's assistant, for recently condemning racial prejudice. He said he believed the President would soon take a similar stand because he did not see how he could remain silent. Failing to speak out against southern violence is in some ways endorsing these actions, emphasized the baseball great.

The statement was made at an NAACP rally held at the Metropolitan Baptist church before a capacity crowd of approximately 800. Jackie is honorary chairman of the 1957 "freedom fund" campaign which expects to raise a million dollars in the fight for freedom. Washington chapter hopes to raise $50,000 of that amount.

While Robinson said he had met the President and felt confident that he would take a stand in endorsing the struggle of the Southern Negro in his fight to freedom, two other speakers blasted the President for remaining silent so long.

Franklin H. Williams, West Coast Secretary-Counsel for the NAACP, said he, too, was thrilled with Vice President and Gov. Adams' statements, but he asked: "Where in Heaven's name is the voice of the President of the United States?"

Mrs. Ruby Hurley, NAACP director of the Southeastern region, said Negroes have every right to believe that Washington has forgotten us when we think of the White House. We are very much aware that Congress doesn't think much of us.

Robinson was severe in his criticism of Manning Johnson the former Communist who "viciously and unjustly attacked men like the

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

Be still, and know that I am God... (Psalm 46, 10)

Often, when we feel that we have "lost touch" with Our Heavenly Father, it may be that we have been talking to Him too much—telling Him what we want—beseeching His mercy and His love, when all we have to do to receive is to be silent, and listen.
