HOLD HAITI'S DESTINY — Although the riots and bloodshed have subsided in the strife-torn republic of Haiti, there are no new political developments. The newly named provisional president, Daniel Eguale (left), is still trying to put together a cabinet, with halting success. General of the Army, Leon Contave, has the nation under strict martial law while government heads recover from public onslaughts. (Newspress Photo).

Mrs. Eva P. Wiley Retires After 19 Years As Teacher In Raleigh

Editor's Note:

After teaching in the Raleigh Public School System for 19 years and serving in the field for a total of 30 years one of this city's best-loved school "mamas" is retiring. Following is a short history of her life.

Mrs. Eva Pauline Brown Wiley was born in Kinston. She is the daughter of Mrs. Estelle Brown and the late Mr. Theodore A. Brown.

Mrs. Wiley is the oldest of seven children. She went to Kindergarten in a private home under Mrs. Sarah Riddick of Pamlico.

At the age of six her parents moved back to Kinston and she attended a parochial school under the Rev. Charles Pritchett, who was Rector of St. Andrew's Mission.

At the age of ten Mrs. Wiley entered a public school of Kinston. Completing the 7th grade she began attending a church school known as Kinston College. Completing two years of high school there, she began teaching in the rural schools of Jones, Green and Pitt Counties. At that time, there were only four months in school in most counties.

In the year of 1915 she became the wife of Mr. Union J. Wiley of Scotland Neck. They then lived in Greenville. One daughter was born to them. Mrs. Wiley remained at home for six years rearing her daughter. After this stint, again she began teaching in Pitt County again.

Soon the state of North Carolina required a change in higher certification. The family moved to Raleigh, where both the mother and daughter could have the advantages of higher education. She completed her academic work at St. Augustine's College and her freshman year of college here.

She then began teaching at Wake Co. at the same time while in service and studied at Shaw University.

She received her A.B. degree from Shaw University. She taught in the Raleigh Public School System for nineteen years.

Mrs. Wiley has been a Protestant Episcopalian since the age of twelve. For the past thirty years a member of St. Andrew's Episcopal church of this city. She is a member of the Women's Auxiliary and works with the Altar Committee. She is also a member of the Y.W.C.A. and a member of the Jeta Phi Lambda Sorority, Rho Chapter, Durham.

Interracial Fight Ends With 9 Whites, 6 Negroes In Jail

CHESTERTON, Ind. (ANP)—Nine white persons and six Negroes were arrested recently here in the aftermath of a fight that began when the two groups tossed beer bottles at each other during a picnic excursion.

The episode, according to seven state police officers who quelled the disturbance, involved six Negroes from Gary, Ind., and nine whites from Chicago who were picnicking in the Dunes State Park area here. Police said at least seven of the rioters involved were juveniles.

All 15 persons were held overnight in jail at Valparaiso, Ind., and three were treated for injuries at Porter Memorial Hospital.

A cleaner polish compounded especially for acrylic finishes on new model automobiles has just been introduced by Permatex Company, Inc., manufacturers of automotive, aviation, marine and industrial chemicals.

The new cleaner-polish was developed because plastic finishes cannot be treated with the same chemicals as the standard finishes. Acrylic Cleaner-Polish contains "leather touch" abrasives which "heal" tiny nicks and scratches. It contains no wax or oils to gum up the finish.

There is no need for waxing to preserve the high gloss of these finishes. They should simply be cleaned.

Permatex Acrylic Cleaner-Polish was developed after years of research for use on the acrylic glazing of aircraft canopies.
