

Airman Fatally Shot; Jealous Wife Held In Jail

Finds Lipstick On Hubby's Handkerchief, Shoots Him

TUSCON, Ariz. (AP) — Sgt. Donald Huddleston, a member of the Air Force stationed at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base here, died Wednesday from a bullet wound which police said was inflicted by his wife, Norma Jean, 21. According to the officers, Mrs. Huddleston approached them and asked for help saying she had shot her husband after she found lipstick on his handkerchief.

The policemen went to the Huddleston home where they found the 26-year-old airman bleeding from a .22 caliber bullet wound in the chest. The three daughters of the couple, Donn Jean, 5, Donetta, 4, and Donnetta, 3, were taken to juvenile headquarters while the hysterical widow was placed in jail.

Mrs. Huddleston in a statement said that she had found lipstick on her husband's handkerchief and shot at him after he gave evasive answers to her questions. She said she did not realize the shot had taken effect until later.

Huddleston was from St. Louis, Mo., the son of Fred Huddleston and used the address of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, 1102 Channing Avenue.

He was graduated from Vashon High School in 1950 and he and his wife were married in St. Louis in 1951.

Call Herb Jeffries In Confidential Libel Case

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Singer Herb Jeffries and band leader Charlie Barnett last week were added to the increasing list of Hollywood personalities subpoenaed to testify in the criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines, national scandal periodicals.

Jeffries was served with the subpoena by Detective Fred Otash on behalf of the defense, which is seeking to prove the truth of the scandal stories printed in the magazines.

There are reported 18 more subpoenas yet to be served on other Hollywood celebrities.

The prosecution is attempting to prove malice in the case, which, according to California laws, is sufficient for libel conviction.

In addition to Jeffries, such other Negro stars as Sammy Davis Jr., Dorothy Dandridge and heavyweight boxing champion Drayton Patterson have received rough sledding in the magazines.

Move With Crowd On Highways

"Don't be a highway maverick. The driver who stays safe in traffic is the one who moves with the crowd."

Wallace Hyde, who heads the Motor Vehicle Department's division of accident statistics and driver improvement, issued this safe driving advice to Tar Heel motorists this week.

Hyde is a graduate of the professional truck driver's school at State College and is well-acquainted with the hazards of over-the-road driving. He urged motorists to heed the vehicle agency's "share the road" program from now thru Labor Day.

"Professional drivers know it's smart to keep in step with traffic," Hyde said. "Traffic, in a sense, is pretty much like an engine. An engine can be ticking along fine. Then all of a sudden, one part gets out of kilter, and wham... the whole thing goes haywire. With traffic it's the same. If one car gets out of line and causes trouble, everything gets fouled up."

Hyde said he personally has two pet phrases—the bumper chaser and the fellow ahead who stops without warning.

"One gets you from the rear, the other from the front," he said. "Either way, though, you lose."

Lane hoppers also irk him.

"These fellows will take a chance on causing a fatal accident just to save a minute," he claimed. "And often they don't get ahead of traffic anyway. I've watched them many times ducking in and out of traffic like jack rabbits—and then I pass them a few miles down the road."

Hyde pointed out that with traffic as heavy as it is these days and with higher speed limits anticipated on some state highways, traffic must move smoothly to move safely. He said professional drivers are to move with the traffic flow, and that the longer they drive for a living the more thoroughly they are convinced that this is a sound practice.

"And apart from safety, it's a lot easier on the nerves to relax and go along with the crowd," he added.

Hyde said enforcement officials deserve a vote of thanks for the general stepping of traffic law enforcement throughout the country which has resulted from the national Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents program.

"It's good protection for all drivers, especially the ones who use the roads every day," he said. "It protects them against erratic drivers, and it also keeps all drivers on their toes."
