MAAN Vs NAACP

GREENSBORO — The Mutual Association of American Negroes, Inc., recently organized here, plans a most daring program of six projects for raising the status of Negroes in this area. May be, in its long arm reach, it may touch the lives of non-whites on a nation-wide scale.

Probably the largest plan of the MAAN at present is a proposed private night school for Negroes. The curriculum will be designed to reduce illiteracy among Negroes through instruction in reading, writing, arithmetic, personal hygiene and good citizenship.

Samuel S. Thomas, founder and executive secretary of the organization, said the MAAN hopes to work out arrangement with A&T College to use certain facilities for the trade and domestic courses.

Among the other projects envisioned by the organization are: (1) A Christmas season campaign for $50,000 to build a swimming pool here for Negro children. (CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

Eastern NC Is Scene Of New Crimes

TARBORO — (SPECIAL) — Some think it was the intense heat of the weekend. Others shake their heads in doubt. But each year as the Tobacco Season starts in eastern North Carolina (July and August) violence also seems to flare with assorted crimes from cuttings to killings, largely attributable to the "extra money" coming into the hands of agricultural workers and tobacco employees.

KILLED OVER A QUARTER — At nearby Leggett's community, seven miles north of here, Sam Dancy, age 25, was the victim of a fatal shooting near mid-day Sunday while congregating with worshippers in two churches less than 300 yards away.
