THE FEMININE FRONT
By Rosalie Williams

The Annual Newcomers' Tea and Open House sponsored by the Journer Truth YWCA attracted approximately 150 people last Sunday. Patrons got an opportunity to see the recently opened addition to the Y at the corner of East Cabarrus and Blount Streets and at the same time Raleighites who have come to this city within the past year were honored.

Both sections of the Y were attractively decorated for the occasion and lovely door prizes were given to lucky newcomers.

A formal program of welcome was presided over by Mrs. Mildred James, Chairman of the Public Relations Committee. Numbers on the program were the following: Opening Devotional Thought by Mrs. M. W. Williams, welcome to churches, Rev. Paul Johnson, welcome from ministers' wives by Mrs. J. A. Forbes and Mrs. M. W. Wil-

Cook and Mrs. Lillie Taylor made them.

Recognition for services also goes to sewing teachers, Mrs. Martha Mitchell, Mrs. Effie Young, Mrs. Rosa Tucker and Mrs. Tullia Turner.

Mrs. Effie Young, House Committee Chairman, was responsible for securing bed spreads from several Raleigh contributors, St. Augustine's College and other Raleigh institutions and individuals gave furniture dishes, banquet tables, etc.

Serving as hostesses and guides were Mrs. Bessie Chavis, Chairman of the Public Affairs Committee, and Mrs. Effie Young, along with several of the members of the Y-Teens Miss Vivian Irving secured gifts as doozies for newcomers from several Raleigh businesses.

Raleigh owes a debt of gratitude to the YW and its fine personnel for its many good services, and those women who volunteer their services deserve thanks also. This column hopes to do a special salute to the YW in the near future and at that time all of its many available community services will be listed.

The public show know now, however, that the Extension is available for banquets and other parties. It lends itself to attractive decorations for parties and at least 60 people can be comfortably served there at a banquet.

DELTA ENTERTAIN

It was a delightful and charming occasion for a group of Miss Jabberwock Queen contestants and some of their parents last Sunday when they were feted by the Raleigh Alumni Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority at Chapel Hill. It was Hospitality Hour for the girls from the Chapel Hill area who are now vying for the title of Miss Jabberwock to be staged in Raleigh Memorial Auditorium, February 17. At the party last Sunday a gay and appropriate centerpiece of red

Supreme Liberty, Dunbar Life Insurance Companies Merge

CHICAGO — (ANP)—The board of directors of Supreme Liberty Life Insurance Company, Chicago, and Dunbar Life Insurance Company, Cleveland, Ohio, have agreed to a merger of the two firms, the respective presidents, Earl E. Dickerson and D. C. Chandler have announced.

The merger will enable the firm, to keep pace with progress in the insurance field and at the same time provide increased benefits, the announcement stated. Prior to the merger, Supreme Life was the third largest company in the field, owned and operated by Negroes.

Both Dickerson and Chandler praised the merger. Dickerson, in congratulating board members of his firm, said that mergers provide the best means for Negro-owned firms to withstand competition from the "giants" (white firms) in the field. He said:

"You are to be congratulated, along with the board of Dunbar, for your immediate and unanimous approval of this forward step in the progress of the life insurance industry in the market in which we operate. The surging tide of integration in America in all walks of life, especially educational and employment opportunities, has brought the importance of the vast Negro market to the attention of the 'giants' in the insurance field. They (these large companies) are now attempting to 'skim off the cream'. If you please, from this important segment of the population.

"Our answer to this competition to our sister companies in the National Insurance Association is, mergers and more mergers, until we have achieved a 'giant' of our own, ready and able to take full advantage, and to compete in the entire market, not only Negro, but white as well. The board of directors of our great company should continue to explore the field for new opportunities similar to this one."

Chandler told Dunbar board members in Cleveland:

"This larger operation, of course, will necessitate retention of a majority, if not all, of the well-trained personnel presently employed by Dunbar Life, and will afford increased employment opportunities for sales and office personnel throughout the state. We are confident that because of the numerous advantages to be derived from merging with the third largest company owned and operated by Negroes, our shareholders will readily endorse the foresightedness of its board of directors and ratify their action in the next meeting of the shareholders."

Ratification of the board's action by stockholders of each company is expected at early meetings.
