CIDE THWARTED-Shivering from cold, pajamas and slippers-clad Air Force Sgt. William Cody 33, of Craig Air Force Base, Alabama, is assisted from the rail of the Golden Gate Bridge last week after he spent four hours on a narrow beam outside the railing, threatening to jump to his death. After talking to medical and military police officers from Letterman General Hospital, where he had been undergoing psychiatric treatment, he finally permitted riggers to slip over the railing and assist him to safety. Cody told psychiarists he was despondent because his wife had left him some time ago. (UPI TELEPHO-

ASHEVILLE - After pleading approval, received automatic life

The written pleas, signed by the defendants and their attorneys, were entered after testestimony began on Thursday . It had taken three days to select a jury.

In passing sentence, Superior Court Judge J. B. Craven observed that "North Carolina is too enightened in this year, 1958, to put to death a boy of 17 years of age, a bo, of 14 years of age . . The jurist noted that "much has been said' about the age of the defendants, and the fact that they were indicted and tried under a capital charge which unless the jury recommended mercy of their pleas had been approved by the court, could have sent them to the gas chamber.
