Blast Ike For Stand On Rights

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The Montgomery Chapter of White Citizens Council wrote President Eisenhower last week accusing him of "slavishly" serving as an "errand boy" for the U. S. Supreme Court.

The letter was prompted by Alabama officials who defied the Eisenhower administration's desegregation of Civil Rights Commission by refusing to turn over registration records. The President called the action "reprehensible."

The Council letter said: "This week certain Alabama of-

Confesses Murders Of 2 Sisters

STATESVILLE — A 35-year-old Negro who admitted running down two Negro women in their bedroom Friday night surrendered weekly to sheriff's deputies shortly before noon Saturday at his father's home.

Heddl County Sheriff Charlie Campbell said Lewis Chambers, 31, of Statesville, confessed to the double slaying but claimed self-defense "because they came at me with butcher knives." The victims were identified as Miss Leatrice Gaskin, 16 and her sister, Miss Susie May Gilliam, 23.

The sheriff said the shooting occurred in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Chambers where the sisters shared a bedroom. Mrs. Chambers is

Bus Case In Tenn. Must Be Heard

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court ruled Monday that the courts must hear the lawsuit of a Negro who challenged the validity of a Tennessee law requiring segregated seating on street cars and buses.

In a short, unsigned opinion, the court overruled a three-judge lower court panel, which dismissed the suit of the Negro, O. Z. Evers. The panel ruled that he boarded a Memphis bus solely for the purpose of instituting a lawsuit.

The lower court also held that Evers, a postal clerk and former Chicago policeman, did not represent Negro bus riders in Memphis because he was not a frequent traveler and thus had no real legal right to challenge the law.

But the Supreme Court said the

Klan Wants To Build Near School

ATLANTA — The Ku Klux Klan wants to build a $500,000 headquarters next to a white elementary school here and an alternative zoning board, which must rule on the plan, expects to hear protests.

A Lakewood Junior Chamber of Commerce Committee has drafted a protest citing the history of lawlessness and terrorism of previous organizations bearing the Klan name.

James M. Hale, committee chairman, said the Jaycees were calling on other civic organizations to help them fight the proposal when it goes before a zoning committee next Monday.

Criminal Court Judge Homer Weimar overruled the new trial request and set bond at $2,500. The case will go to the State Supreme Court, probably in the March term.

Kasper claimed that two jurors were "prejudiced" against him and he also charged that the summation given by the state was "inflammatory."

"Kingfish" Dead

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Harry "Tim" Moore, 70, who portrayed "Kingfish" on the Amos 'n Andy television series, died at a local hospital last Saturday, penniless and forsaken reportedly by all but his 43-year-old wife.

His great wealth of natural humor had dwindled away as had his body. Once weighing 245 pounds, Moore was a mere 85 pounds when he died. He was a victim of pulmonary tuberculosis and was hospitalized in October.

Mrs. Vivian Moore, his wife, was at his bedside when death came.

Dr. King Sees Moderate Approach As Acceptable

ATLANTA — The Rev. Martin Luther King says a moderate approach to integration would be acceptable to a majority of Negroes in the South if it means ultimate achieving first-class citizenship.

Dr. King an integration leader, told a mass integrationist meeting last night that so-called "moderate" integration plans would be a "deadly device" unless they are sincere. He said these must not be administered so as merely to preserve status quo of segregation.

"America has a deadline to meet, and if it doesn't solve its problems now it may be too late," he told a southern Christian leadership conference meeting. He is president of the organization.

He traced the history of the Negro in America through what he called three basic periods: beginning with slavery. He said the May 1954 Supreme Court decision on school segregation marked the end of the "separate but equal" period, and the beginning of a new period for the Negro in America.

Gov. Says Slayer Of White Man, Daughter Will Be Safe

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Gov. Leroy Collins has promised that the state will fully protect the rights of Negro Frank Peterson, charged with the murder of a white sharecropper and his two-year-old daughter.

Collins said, however, that Peterson will not be hampered or favored because of his race.

In answer to a request by an NAACP official asking permission to interview the Negro before his trial in Bouffay, Collins said Peterson will be permitted to see and talk with counsel and friends assisting in his defense.

"But whom he sees and where and when will depend upon his own desires and the normal rules and procedures governing conferences of this sort and not upon what any special interest organization leader may desire," Collins said.

The request was made by NAAACP Field Secretary Robert W. Saunders, Tampa, who said something other than a court assigned lawyer was needed to guarantee the defendant a completely unbiased trial.

Peterson, an ex-convict who fled to New York following the crime, confessed to the slaying and attacks on the sharecropper's wife and other two children.

He is being held in jail at Pensacola for safe keeping.

Ex-GI Poses As Crown Prince In Gastonia, Cops Arrest Him

GASTONIA — A young patient who stopped at the Gaston Memorial Hospital Saturday morning identified himself as Crown Prince Kawama of Ubangi-Shari, a colony in French Equatorial Africa.

He explained that he was on his way to Atlanta for a speaking engagement and wanted treatment for a kidney ailment. He was traveling by bus from a similar engagement in Winston-Salem because airline flights were grounded by snow, he said. His six-month retinue had preceded him to Georgia to prepare a royal welcome.

This same story has allegedly been told to hospital staffs in Calpepper and Danville, Va., recently in Winston-Salem, a few days ago in High Point Wednesday. But the staff at Gastonia had not heard it before. They treated him.

The story was checked and it turned out that the man's real name is Edward Lee Wood, 28, a Black Kawama Lapola Adenote. He was identified as an ex-GI from Philadelphia by an FBI report.

Wood has a lengthy police record.

New School Committee Organized

RICHMOND, Va. — Some 125 Richmond residents, fearing a future clash between a pending desegregation suit against the city and state anti-integration laws, have organized into the Richmond Area Committee to Preserve Public Schools.

The group, which held its organizational meeting Monday night, is affiliated with a statewide organization dedicated to keeping public schools open and adopted the same statement of purpose pledged by the state group.
