Holiness Convention Draws 5,000

Threatens To Send Out NG Units

ATLANTA — Georgia Governor Ernest Vandiver this week angrily threatened to call out the National Guard if necessary to quell any future Klu Klux Klan attempts at staging rallies on state property.

Vandiver denounced the hooded order for a clash with state troopers Saturday night at nearby Stone Mountain.

"I will not in the future allow any demonstrations on state property whether by the NAACP or Klu Klux Klan," the governor said.

At a news conference, Vandiver said there were 700 to 800 Klansmen in a crowd that crushed Saturday with state troopers posted to keep the Klansmen off the state-owned mountain 18 miles northeast

No Voting Bias in Tarheelia

The bi-racial North Carolina Civil Rights Advisory Committee has released an addition to its 1961 report on voting and voter registration in the Tarheel state for the year 1960.

The nine-page Southern footnote to history, "Restrictions on Negro Voting," goes back to colonial days in the state and comes up with the following conclusions:

1. Registered voters in North Carolina remain overwhelmingly and disproportionately white.
2. Political activity increases since 1956 have been confined largely to whites.
3. State politics are loaded in favor of whites in the black belt.

The committee said "We agree that in respect to voting, the people of North Carolina, and in agreement that no citizen of our state shall be denied the right to register, vote and to have that vote counted on account of his race, religion or national origin."

The committee further stated that "where there has been discrimination in North Carolina against Negroes in respect to their right to register and vote, such denial of a basic right of citizenship does not have the approval either open or tacit, of the vast majority of the officials and citizens of the state."

The Civil Rights Commission made the observation in its latest documentation, which will be included in a bound volume of all the committee's reports in its three-year history to be published next month.

Members of the committee include: McNeil Smith, chairman; A. T. Spaulding, vice chairman; Margaret R. Vogt, secretary; Paul R. Ervin, assistant secretary; Hector

Meet To Last Till Sunday

The Southern District Bible Church School and Young People's Holy Ambition Convention are hosts this week to the General Bible Church School and Y. P. H. A. Convention of the United Holy Church of America, Inc., at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium, Monday, July 9, through Sunday, July 15, 1962.

The program includes a Fellowship Dinner at 7:30 p. m. on Monday night, thirty-one workshops and seminars each morning; Bible lectures and topic discussions each afternoon; and evangelist services each evening at 8:30 p. m.

The delegation is expected to total five thousand by the end of the session.

Fifty-one delegates arrived in Raleigh on Friday, July 6, from the Islands of Bermuda and Barbados. Other delegations include thirty-two from California, large numbers from New York, Mass., Connecticut, Pa., Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina, West Virginia, Georgia, South Carolina, Maryland, Wisconsin, Missouri and Washington, D. C.

Nine hundred attended the Fellowship Dinner. Clarence Young of

Bill Miller, 62, Fireman, Dies Suddenly In Marsden

A well-known Raleigh man who had worked at one job for more than 40 years, died suddenly last week shortly after completing a day's work in Marsden.

Funeral services for William "Bill" Miller, 62, 809 E. Hargett St., were held Tuesday at First Baptist Church with the Rev. C. W. Ward, pastor of First Baptist and Father Calloway of St. Ambrose Episcopal Church officiating.

Miller had worked for the Norfolk Southern Railway as a fireman for 46 years.

According to relatives, his death came suddenly, for he appeared to have been in good health.

A native of Windsor, Miller attended public schools there and started his work with the railroad company at the age of 17.

Cleric Held On Charge Of Assault

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — Rev. R. J. Cover of the Holiness church has a sting outside his house which reads "No trespassers, except the mail man."

The minister means just what the sign says according to Mack Frazier.

In court last week, Frazier, who once lived in Rev. Cover's neighborhood, testified that he had been visiting friends there and was walking to a bus stop when Rev. Cover emerged from his house.

Rev. Cover told him he was going to stop people from throwing rocks at his house, Frazier said, and then fired at him several times with a pistol.

One bullet caught him in the chest, Frazier said, as he walked to a hospital three blocks away, where he remained for three weeks.

Rev. Cover said he had been in church and was in bed, listening to gospel music on the radio, when he heard a noise suggesting that someone was trying to break in.

Rev. Cover said he opened the door and Frazier was outside. He contended that Frazier started cursing

Observations At NAACP Confab

BY ALEXANDER BARNES

Kelley Alexander, president of North Carolina State Conference led a representative delegation to the 53rd meet and they were quite active.

Attorney Floyd B. McKissick took part in the panel on how to go about integrating southern schools. The militant attorney was equal to the situation. He received an award for the leadership that he gave the Youth Group of the Durham Branch.

The new and idea to expand the Board was attacked from the floor by Dean Hill, Durham Business College. He and Rev. E. Franklin Jackson, Washington, D. C., who was presiding, over the conflict with the present constitution. Jackson finally won the argument by ruling him out of order.

The fifth region, composed of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi and Tennessee had the largest number of delegates and rightly so. If the southern delegates were not going to rally to Atlanta quit a few would have questioned the reason.

Just now there is a vacancy on the Board that should be filled. Father Gibson, Miami, who has been persecuted and prosecuted for the NAACP's sake is the logical candidate. However, Attorney McKissick is said to have the majority of the votes. The matter has to be sent to the chapters.

North Carolina delegates were included to go along with Denver for the 1963 meet, even though California was calling. To North Carolinians, California has become a step, while Denver seems to be a little distance.

WEATHER

The five day weather forecast for the Raleigh Area beginning Thursday, July 12, and continuing through Monday, July 16, is as follows:

Temperatures will average a little below normal with not much day to day changes. Not much rainfall expected throughout the period.

Local Man Mutilated By Train

A Raleigh man, about 35, who was said to live under a bridge on U. S. Highway 401 South, was "run to bits" by a train near the site of his "home" last week.

Killed was James Jordan, no known address. He was dubbed a modern Robinson Crusoe by police who said his method of living (in the open under the bridge) was somewhat primitive.

Police said the man apparently was asleep on the tracks when the South Railway train, believed to be the 10:30 p. m. from Selma, came by and ran over him, apparently dragging him several hundred feet.

The body was reportedly found by John Brown, 1223 Gasser Rd., around 8:30 a. m. Saturday. Brown was unable to be located for comment at Westtime.

Police said they found a pay stub from the Green Electric Co. in his shirt pocket which was dated July 2. They said he apparently was a day worker and held no steady job.

A friend of the dead man, Tim-muth Dourn, 518 Blount St., said he had seen Jordan earlier in the evening and that the two had been drinking. He said Jordan left him about 6 p. m. and headed toward the bridge.

Dourn said Jordan had been living under the bridge since Christmas. He added also that he believed Jordan had relatives in
