

Pistol Whips Assailant

Argument Leads To Shooting

Days of the wild and wooly west came to Bloodworth Street Saturday afternoon when one man is said to have whipped out a pistol pulled the trigger some 4 or 5 times, hitting the target at least three times and then having the pistol taken away from him and beaten almost unto death by the man he shot.

HARRY HUDGINS

This is the information that the CAROLINIAN received about the shooting of Harry Lee Hudgins by Marshall Barnes. It was reported that Barnes, accompanied by two other men, whose names were not given, strolled into the 400 block of Bloodworth Street after having had a few drinks, not necessarily looking for trouble but making no attempt to avoid any.

The brother of Hudgins is said to have been on the scene and decided that he wanted to chastise Hudgins with a baseball bat. Hudgins is said to have relieved him of the bat and sent him on his way. This is said to have not pleased Barnes and his associates too well. One of them had a few words with Hudgins. Not being satisfied with Hudgins he is reported to have told Barnes to blast away at Hudgins. This he proceeded to do.

Hudgins did not like the fact that his body was being used as a target for 23 pistol bullets and proceeded to take the pistol away from Barnes and it was then that Hudgins went to work. Eye witnesses say that Hudgins "worked" Barnes "over" with such frenzy that they feared for his life. Hudgins used the pistol that he took from his assailant and when he had finished with him, he was minus some teeth, had holes in his head and had missed very few places about his head and face. It was not until police officers arrived on the scene was he prevailed.

MAN HELD ON MORALS CHARGE

WINDSOR — 31-year-old Johnny Watson has been held on a morals charge in connection with the assaulting of a nine-year-old girl and crime against nature. Bond was set at $10,000.

Watson allegedly lured the girl to go to the store for him and pulled her into a nearby barn when she returned. There the alleged assault took place.

A medical examination confirmed the molestation. The girl said she escaped through a hole in the barn. Watson was found hiding in a hut after being trailed by bloodhounds.

2 Of City's Oldest Citizens Die

Dr. Davis Perishes In Lake

HIGH POINT — The flags at all prisons of the state will be flying at half mast Thursday due to the death of one of the members of the commission who spent the last years of his life trying to make the prison system better, Dr. Maury B. Davis.

The 55-year old physician met his death either in an automobile he was driving or in the icy waters of City Lake about eight miles out from the airport road about 7:45 Monday morning.

The exact cause of his death is still being probed. County authorities have ruled it accidental, but there are others who say that the physician suffered a heart attack, which caused him to lose control of the car and that the car plunged thru the rail.

The heart theory is supported by the fact that he is said to have suffered an attack sometime ago and that his death was a recurrence of same. When the car was pulled from the water about 10:55 his body was not in the car. This gave rise to the fact that he sensed the attack and raised the window to try to get some relief.

MRS. FORT

Mrs. Lucy Fort, 96, a former resident of the Method Community passed to her reward Friday night, January 11, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Effie Fort Young on South Regson St. She was the widow of the late John Fort of Method. Both the late Mr. and Mrs. Fort were ardent church workers in the Oak City Baptist Church as long as their health permitted them to do so.

Mrs. Fort is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Effie Young, Mrs. Charlie Lowe and Mrs. Nellie Harris all of Raleigh. Two sons, John E. of Newport News, Va. and Herbert E. of Raleigh. Two granddaughters and four great-grand children, and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held at Oak City Baptist Church Monday at three o'clock. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery in Method.

Freedom Is Keynote Of Bishops' Meet

WILMINGTON — The winter meeting of the Board of Bishops, AME Zion Church ended here at St. Luke Church, Saturday, after one of the most demonstrable displays of action for freedom that any denominational group has ever taken part in.

The theme was "Building Freedom thru Christ." Bishop W. J. Walls lit the spark that set off an intensified crusade, in the opening sermon. He pointed to the fact that the founders of the denomination struck the first blow for freedom when they left the Methodist

Sisters Set For Hearing

LAURINBURG — The CAROLINIAN learned from reliable sources Tuesday night that the two Polston sisters, charged with a $30,000 robbery from the C. H. Morris Funeral Home and also charged with conspiracy between themselves to commit robbery will plead not guilty to both charges when they face Judge Thomas G. Neal in Recorders Court, Friday morning.

It is also speculated that Judge Neal will find probable cause and the defendants will be held for the action of the grand jury. The case will be prosecuted by Attorney Walter J. Cashwell, while Attorney Gilbert Medlin will represent the two sisters.

The CAROLINIAN reported last week that there were many twists in the case. Comes now the police department of Grand Rapids, Mich., by way of letter, according to newspaper articles, and says that Mrs. Anthony Hodgen, who was reported as having sent money to the accused women, denies having sent any money.

The matter becomes more involved in view of the fact that the let-

'Much-Wanted' Man Captured In Atlanta

WINSTON-SALEM — Rudolph Alexander, 33, was captured in Atlanta, Ga., recently by the FBI and held for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution from this city in 1962, where he was wanted for burglary.

Alexander was also wanted for questioning in connection with the rape of an aged white woman. The burglary charge against Alexander was filed May 31, 1962 when he allegedly had broken into the home of Earl Cooke here last March 31 and stolen a watch, a television set and approximately $25 from rooms in which persons were sleeping. Alexander had been released from prison on parole Oct. 31, 1961 where he had been serving a life sentence on previous burglary convictions.

Officers allegedly found some of the stolen goods in a place frequented by Alexander before filing the charges prior to his flight.

Charges have not yet been preferred in the alleged rape of an elderly woman on May 24, 1962.

STATE IN BRIEF

15,000 MIGRANTS TO IMPROVE MOREHEAD CITY—The North Carolina State Employment Security Commission has announced that some 15,000 migrants and out-of-state laborers will be required to harvest the 1963 crops. This despite the fact that thousands of native colored laborers and tenants have been made idle by advent of increased farm mechanization which has displaced them.

However, it is claimed that a total of 36,000 transient laborers, more than half of them will be

ESCAPES FROM BURNING HOUSE

WINSTON-SALEM — Five children, the eldest was eight years old, escaped from a burning house Monday afternoon. According to police, the children had been left alone in the house.

Grand Jury Frees Mrs. Mitchell; Attacks County Detention Home

The Wake County Grand Jury, reporting on 34 bills, presented to them to act upon, failed to find Mrs. Annie Belle Mitchell responsible for the death of her 6-year-old handicapped son.

The badly emaciated body of the six year old boy had been examined by the pathologist Lawin Kaasa at Wake Memorial hospital who said that lack of proper medical attention had helped hasten the child's death. It was also disclosed that the child was seriously handicapped physically from birth and that the usual methods of child-rearing could not apply in this particular case and that the mother probably did "the best she could" in caring for the six year old boy.

The jury did return 28 true bills out of the 34 which they considered. They found five not true and returned one for the lack of witness.

Its report to Judge Clawson Williams on the Wake County Home and the Juvenile Detention Home is said to have given the jurist some concern. He is reported as having requested the county commissioners to appear before the Grand Jury on January 21.

I was noted in the Grand Jury report to Judge Williams "that several trustees are being kept on the second floor who could not get out in case of fire." It is also reported that food is being served at the Detention Home in unheated trays being delivered to the inmates from the County Home kitchen and that some of the children are getting cold food.

Woman's Body Found, Suspects Rape-Murder

The body of Mrs. Lucille Williams of 1301 S. Person St. was found in an empty house at 403 Patterson Lane. She was reported missing since last Friday.

According to the police, the woman, whose body was nearly nude appeared to have been murdered. Dr. Laurin Kaasa, pathologist at Wake Memorial Hospital said that the woman died of a "terrible beating" and exposure. Death occurred Monday night or Tuesday morning, said Dr. Kaasa.

The dead woman was clad in her underwear and a sweater. Her shoes, slacks, coat and hat were found in another room of the RETURNS TO HIS COUNTRY — Elizabethville, Katanga: Natives and Europeans run up to shake hands of Katanga President Moise Tshombe as he returns to his capital here January 8th. Tshombe said January 9th he would bring peace to his war-torn country by "swift application" of United Nations Secretary General U Thant's plan to reunite the Congo "without further bloodshed and without useless destruction." Reference to bloodshed and destruction appeared to be on order to his forces to stop fighting UN troops and cease sabotage of Katangese property. (UPI PHOTO).
