

LOVER'S DEVOTION REVEALED

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Caught Miss Truemiller Polston kneeling at the safe and that she was in the process of turning the combination, when he seized her. The only other evidence that tended to connect the defendants to the money was the fact that there was a deposit made in a local bank, purportedly for the sisters, in denominations of 100, 50 and 20 dollar bills. Both Mr. Morris and his wife testified that the money stolen from the safe was in like denominations.

There has never been any evidence, according to information received by The CAROLINIAN, to show that Miss Pinky Polston was ever seen in, or near, the safe. The defense seems content to leave the burden of proof on the state and will seek to break down any and all evidence that might be presented as circumstantial or might tend to be of an evolutionary character.

It is believed that should the state attempt to show that the two women had no place to get the kind of money they spent and dwell on the contention that the money had come from the safe, the defense is believed to be in position to show the jury that Miss Truemiller Polston carried on a love affair with one Milton Bane, junk dealer, now deceased.

The discovery of the court-described "pretty little box", containing money and valuables, left at the Polston home, by Bane shortly before his death, revealed to show that Miss Pinky Polston was ever seen in, or near, the safe.

The box contained bank statements and showed that Bane had on deposit, at the Scottish Bank, Nov., 1939, almost $9,000. No information is said to have been forthcoming as to how much money Bane had when he died and it has never been found. There are those who think that due to the relationship that existed between Miss Truemiller Polston and the junk dealer, that he might have given her large sums of money, at different times.

It is expected that the trial will bring out the fact that Bane was a constant visitor to the Polston home and ate many of his meals there. Miss Polston told the CAROLINIAN at a press conference, called by her lawyer, that their friendship extended over a period of years and that the couple made many trips to adjoining towns, seeking social pleasures and enjoying the company of each other.

It has also developed that the two sisters began seeking better living quarters over two years ago. It is alleged that they offered one Dorsey (white) $10,000 cash for a house in another section of the town, in a semi-white neighborhood, more than two years ago.

It is also rumored, in real estate circles, that Bane had offered to pay for any lot that the Polston sisters might purchase, in order to build the "dream home" they desired.

Bane is said to have not guarded his money too closely. The story is told that a cache of $5,000 was found in an old combine. The money was discovered after rats began to drag it out. Authorities reckoned that the money belonged to Bane and sought him out. He later said that a sum of money had been stolen from him, by unknown persons. The authorities returned the money to him.

It is believed by many, who know him, that he hid the money in the combine and even lost it from himself.

STANLEY FORCEFUL

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

for all citizens a timely and much needed statement, and he quoted from what he considered a new kind of Emancipation Proclamation which "will set the South (North Carolina) free to grow and build, set us free from the drag of poor people, poor schools, from the drag of demagoguery."

Stanley urged NCC students to seek new opportunities presented by the Space Age and to help raise the levels of aspirations and accomplishments of Negroes throughout America. He cited a recent statement by Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges that nearly a million non-whites were unemployed last year; that the rate of unemployment for non-whites was more than twice that for white workers.

"Too many Negro men and women are confined to jobs which produce little for themselves or for those who employ them—to jobs which in other parts of the country have been eliminated by machines," he continued from Hodges' speech.

"As college students who are the future leaders, you have a moral responsibility to be concerned with full employment and realistic training program for the unskilled. Indeed you have a personal responsibility as well as a moral responsibility because your very security is bound up with the security of others, both as American and as a Negro."

is intimately bound up with the security of others, both as American and as a Negro."

ODDS & ENDS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Christ said he came to show us the way to the more abundant life, the full life, the free life. He told us to have faith in God and in Him, the Son of God. He told his disciples on one occasion that if they had even the faith of a mustard seed that because of that faith they could move mountains. When He spoke to his disciples He was speaking to you and to me. He is hearing it said that it is hard, some say it is impossible to love those who mistreat and misuse us. No Christian can say that. No one who believes in Christ, the innocent incarnate One, died upon Calvary's cross, will ever say that it is impossible to love one's enemies. No one can say that he loves God and says that he does not love all of God's creation and tell the truth.

Having faith, hope and love has never meant nor will it ever mean to condone, approve or appreciate evil. It does not mean that directed and guided by God, we will not wage holy war upon evil and evil doers. As the instrument and the reflection of God, it is our divine privilege to combat evil wherever it shows its ugly head. However, our fight is without malice, without thought of revenge and what is more, we cannot retaliate evil with or by evil.

In this warfare, it is so heartening to know that we have the weapons of God, to know that we are fighting on His side. We can rest our case upon that knowledge, upon the supreme knowledge that through faith, hope and love we will be free, we will be free because God says we will be free. LET'S GET SOME MORE VOTERS. John Winters has not as yet announced his candidacy for a second term on the City Council. It is our hope and belief however that he will run again. He has now had almost 2 years to learn his way, around, another 2 years should see him experienced and well capable of making a much greater contribution to the city of Raleigh.

We have a fair nest-egg of voters, 6,344 to be exact. We can never put a candidate on the Council with 6,334 votes. Winters received several thousand votes from white people when he ran 2 years ago. We hope that the white voters of Raleigh, having experimented with the idea of a Negro council member, are sufficiently pleased to cast an even larger number of votes this year for a Negro candidate. However, what they will really do, we have no way of knowing nor are we going to attempt a prediction.

If we are convinced and it would seem that after profiting in many ways from having a member of our group on the council; we would better ourselves and insure a Negro candidate's election by adding a couple of thousand more names to the voting list.

Even at this late date that can be done. It will be done if we are sufficiently interested in the causes we SAY we believe in.

The registration books are open Mondays through Fridays from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. All you have to do is get a group of your friends, relatives or acquaintances, present yourselves to the clerk at the election board office on the second floor of the Wake County Court House and you will be duly registered and eligible to vote in the April primary which will run in the 14 candidates. However, you only have a few days left to decide whether you want to be a doer or that you are willing to let others continue to do for you.

A NICE THOUGHT FOR EVERY DAY

"I do not know how far My fragile lamp may cast its beam
How brightly over life's restless waves
Its fitful rays may gleam
But, lest I see my weary mariner
Lost on the sea, I'll keep it bright
I'll keep it trimmed and filled
And burning bravely through the night."
—Maurine Hathaway

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

ceived from the accident, which happened at New Bern Avenue and Hill Street.

PRELATE RESENTS POLICY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Jones and their daughter, Millie. Others went along with the bishop. He went to the cashier and told her that he wanted to buy three tickets. She is alleged to have told him that she could not sell him a ticket. He said to have inquired why and she told him that it was the policy of the theatre to not sell tickets to Negroes.

It was then that the bishop brought his Christian prowess upon the woman. He asked her if this kind of practice was Christian and democratic. She is alleged to have told him that she did not think so but due to the fact that she was hired to do a job, she had to follow orders. She is also said to have told him that she was a Christian and a firm believer in the tenets of the Christian religion.

He then asked to see the manager. The manager came and seeing that he was a Negro, wearing clerical garb, not only told the cashier to not sell him a ticket, but if he continued to stay there to call the police. The bishop left with his wife and daughter.

Rev. L. A. Lawson then approached the cashier and was told that if he persisted in demanding to be admitted that the police would be called. He admonished the cashier and left. The police did arrive, but the minister had rejoined the protesting party, which was standing a distance from the theatre.

Bishop Jones then suggested that the group march on the theatre. They marched in front of the place for approximately one hour. The incident has created a stir in the city. Mayor J. A. Barbriz called Bishop Jones the next morning and expressed his regret about the incident.

PRESS TO OBSERVE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

It is the one opportunity to that the general public has to get inside of a newspaper office and actually learn what a newspaper means to a struggling minority.

School officials are asked to have certain of their classes visit the plants of the local newspaper and get first hand knowledge of how a newspaper is put together. Call the office of your local newspaper and let the publisher know when the class will visit and how many is in the class.

RESENTS JUDGE'S DECISION

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

on the person of some of the female witnesses who testified for Pettie. The judge is said to have felt that the two women were defying his order and ordered them locked up. There is said to have been quite a brawl and three deputies had to be pressed into action, to subdue the two women.

They were placed in jail and remained there until Thursday morning, when the judge suspended sentence, on the condition that they not interfere with the court's order.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

in the area of interracial understanding.

"I suspect that true progress in human relations comes about more through day-by-day activities and planning than by a sweeping generalization concerning a whole college and its supporting constituencies."

"We were glad to hear Dr. Mead stimulate our students and faculty in any way she saw fit," Dr. Hutcheon said, "but we wish she had approached the whole matter more scientifically."

Dr. Mead also said before leaving Duke University Tuesday afternoon, "Methodism used to be concerned with the dispossessed, and I would not like to think that it has become concerned with the possessor."

TWO WORKERS HIRED

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Clarence Pritchard, Mrs. Smith has been employed as a cashier at a salary of $232 a month. She will be trained in the second floor office of the finance department and will be assigned to the drive-in window where water bills and parking tickets may be paid by motorists directly from their cars. Assignment of Mrs. Smith to the drive-in window is basic procedure for all new employees of the department.

Mrs. Smith is said to have made a score "above average" on the aptitude test given all prospective employees. She attended Shaw University for three years and later was awarded a certificate from the old Payne Business and Secretarial School.

Second Negro Fireman
Fire Chief Keeter announced the hiring of a second Negro fireman recently. He is Welton Jones, 28, of 821 Ellington St. and was assigned to station No. 1 on Dawson Street for training.

Jones is a graduate of Washington High School and attended Shaw University for two years. Before going to work for the city he was employed at Pine State Creamery.

EDITOR SOUGHT

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

every attempt to avoid any trouble. He is said to have gone to the sheriff and complained that he was fearful of his life and asked that he be given protection. It is reported that the sheriff told him that he could not give him any protection until he had been unduly molested.

ed to have been the governor's executive administrator.

Austin alleges that he was told that all of the protection necessary would be available. The publisher further asserts that he admonished the sheriff of Caswell County that trouble was brewing and that he should alert his officers. He further says that he called the Department of Justice and was told that he could feel assured that peace and order would prevail.

S&W BIAS SHOWERED

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

that the Negroes were trespassing. "One of my assistants made that a statement without my authority," Mr. Linneberger said.

When pressed regarding the policy of the restaurant, the manager said that he did tell the ministers that the restaurant is a private enterprise and that he has the right to refuse service to any one.

DURHAM BOYCOTT

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Roebuck and Walgreen Drug, due to the fact they are part of a national chain.

The protestors vow that they will carry on this "Selective Buying Protest" until Negroes are given employment, according to their ability.

PEACE MAKER FACES MURDER

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

He was charged with breaking and entering June, 1934. He was in trouble with the law, on the same charge, January, 1935. In February, 1935, he was sent to a Training School. He has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon, since that time.

He is known to use aliases. He operates as Mickey Jones, Milton Jones and as William Milton Hunter. He faces a first degree murder charge and is scheduled to go on trial during the March 18 term.

ALUMNI FIGHT

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

fect of the present name and the benefits which may accrue" from a change.

The telegram was signed by all officers of the alumni group. Forsyth Rep. Dan L. Drummond said action on the name bill will be held off until the alumni are thoroughly briefed.

Apex News

BY MRS. LOUISE COLVIN
APEX — The Gospel Chorus was in charge of the devotion at First Baptist 11:00 A. M. worship service. The pastor, Rev. W. T. Bigelow, read the scripture from the 106 division of Psalms, 4-20 verses. His text was taken from the 16 verse of that scripture.

Subject: "Taking Thine sinner and his father and his mother and his wife." The message was a powerful one and well delivered as usual. Visitors worshipping with us were Mr. and Mrs. Douglass Hughes and daughter and Mrs. White.

all of Greens. MRS. COLVIN boro, the parents and sisters and brother-in-law of Mrs. W. T. Bigelow, and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Chavis. The pastor, members and officers are grateful to Mr. and Mrs. N. M. McMillan for the lovely sofa donated to the ladies lounge.

Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. Rev. Bigelow and the Gospel Chorus rendered service at Kyles Temple in Durham. The occasion was the 7th anniversary of the Stewardship Board. Rev. Bigelow's message there was also powerful and fitting for the occasion. His text was taken from the 6th chapter of Galatians, 9th verse. Subject: "Words of Encouragement." After the service members of the Stewardship Board served dinner. The hospitality shown was wonderful.

Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. Rev. Cotton and members of St. Paul C.M.E. Church held a ground breaking service at First Baptist. Sunday afternoon at 3:00, the Junior Choir of St. Mary A.M.E. sponsored a program. First Baptist

St. Paul C.M.E. Church held a ground breaking service at First Baptist. Sunday afternoon at 3:00, the Junior Choir of St. Mary A.M.E. sponsored a program. First Baptist

Herndon Elected Chairman Of Band Boosters Club

APEX — Mr. Garland W. Herndon, outstanding citizen and lifelong resident of Apex was recently elected chairman of the Apex Consolidated Band Boosters Club. The Apex Band is one of the youngest and considered one of the best in the county. They have participated in several major performances and created overwhelming enthusiasm among the citizens of Apex.

GARLAND W. HERNDON

Mr. Herndon will have the responsibility of seeing that the Apex Band continues to be among the best and will head a committee of parents and teachers. He is well-known throughout Wake County and the State and belongs to a number of civic, religious and fraternal organizations. He has been a deacon in the White Oak Baptist Church for a number of years where he is also teacher of the Adult Bible Class. He has a magnificent singing voice and is leader of the choir. He is a staunch school and community leader and has been area scout leader for a number of years. He believes in a good educational program and has worked diligently for the improvement of the school and community.

The first chairman of the Apex Consolidated Band Boosters Club is married to the former Miss Bertha Scott of Apex who is a teacher in the Horton High School in Hertsboro. They are the parents of three children — two daughters, Ers-at Male Chorus along with several other groups rendered the Music, Sunday night at 7:30 the Friends of the Library sponsored an education program: Negroes Past and Present, at Christian Chapel Church. The program was composed of Juniors, representing seven churches in and near this community. They delivered their speeches and essays just fine. The program was interesting and informative. The committee who worked with them was and is very proud of them. We know the parents of these children are more than proud of them. They can acquire any information they wish to from the library. Most of the material used came out of the library. It's your library, use it and urge your children to borrow the books. If we are to keep in the know we must read.

Raleigh Treated To Fashion Show

BY LILLIAN ROGERS
Raleigh fashion connoisseurs were treated to a show Sunday afternoon, entitled "Reflections in Fashion A Mirror." The show was presented under the auspices of Mrs. Emma Jane Muse, local dress shop owner, and was held at the Home Eckers Hotel. Long before the appointed time for the show to begin, almost every seat was taken by the guests.

The young matrons who modeled for the occasion filled from the T shape to the high fashion of glittering evening wear, in a performance that was as near professional as could be. The participating models were Mesdames Cecil Flagg, Dorothy Curtis, Charles Lyons and J. Oscar McCloud.

One of the outstanding styles shown was the cape suit which will be a leading number by Fall. The tunc dréas has made its comeback; it was shown in navy piped in red accompanied by a tregon of rough red straw.

The skimmer lines were shown in laminated pastels, sleeveless dress with matching coat, small perfor buttons and cuffed sleeves. California casuals received warm applause as well as mohair and jersey combinations. Checks and lines, also the colors hot pink and at Male Chorus along with several other groups rendered the Music, Sunday night at 7:30 the Friends of the Library sponsored an education program: Negroes Past and Present, at Christian Chapel Church. The program was composed of Juniors, representing seven churches in and near this community. They delivered their speeches and essays just fine. The program was interesting and informative. The committee who worked with them was and is very proud of them. We know the parents of these children are more than proud of them. They can acquire any information they wish to from the library. Most of the material used came out of the library. It's your library, use it and urge your children to borrow the books. If we are to keep in the know we must read.

MRS. EMMA JANE MUSE Fashion Show Sponsor

ONLY TWO MORE WEEKS

McLeod Watson & Lanier's Advance Selection Plan

Raleigh fashion connoisseurs were treated to a show Sunday afternoon, entitled "Reflections in Fashion A Mirror." The show was presented under the auspices of Mrs. Emma Jane Muse, local dress shop owner, and was held at the

THICK FAT	Lb.	15c	Blue Plate Salad	Qt.	39c
BACK	Lb.	25c	DRESSING	Qt.	39c
SLICED PORK	Lb.	25c	LUZIANNE R T	Lb.	55c
LIVER	Lb.	25c	COFFEE	Lb.	55c
RIB STEW	Lb.	29c	PURE	Lb.	48c
BEEF	Lb.	29c	LARD	3 Lb. Pkg.	48c
STREAK 'O LEAN	Lb.	25c	CROWN GRAPE	Jelly	2 Lb. Jar
MEAT	Lb.	25c	JELLY	2 Lb. Jar	47c
Armour's Crescent	Lb.	29c	LADY TABOR	2 for	49c
BACON	Lb.	29c	PEACHES	No. 2 1/2 Can	49c
PURE PORK	Lb.	29c	Per or Carnation	MILK	29c
SAUSAGE	Lb.	29c	Talk Can	2 for	29c
FRESH SPARE	Lb.	99c	HOUSE'S GOOD	TISSUE	10 Rolls
RIB	3 Lbs.	99c	CORN MEAL	5 Lbs.	39c
Fresh Ground	3 Lbs.	1.09	Facial Quality Toilet	TISSUE	10 Rolls
BEEF	3 Lbs.	1.09	BLUE PLATE	PEANUT BUTTER	2 Lbs.
GOOD	3 Lbs.	1.09	RIB BEEF	STEAK	Lb.
WEINERS	3 Lbs.	1.09
Crown Strawberry	18 Oz. Glass	39c
PRESERVES

Open Friday Night Until 8 P. M.
HORTON'S CASH STORE
1415-17 SO. SAUNDERS ST. RALEIGH, N. C.

JACQUIN'S VODKA

2 PINT

Detailed from select print, 30 PROOF • Glass, Jacquin & Co., Inc., Phila., Pa.

THE CAROLINIAN
"Covering the Carolinas"
Published by The Carolina Publishing Company
515 E. Market
Raleigh, N. C.
(Entered as Second Class Matter April 6, 1940 at the Post Office in Raleigh, North Carolina under the Act of March, 1879.)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
Six Months $2.75
Sales Tax .48
TOTAL $3.23
One Year $5.50
Sales Tax .88
TOTAL $6.38

Payable in Advance. Address all communications and make all checks and money orders payable to THE CAROLINIAN.
Annualized Publishers, Inc. 310 Madison Avenue, New York 17, N. Y., National Advertising Representative and member of the Associated Negro Press and the United Press International Photo Service.
The Publisher is not responsible for the return of unsolicited news, pictures or advertisements unless necessary postage accompanies the copy.
Opinions expressed by columnists in this newspaper do not necessarily represent the policy of this paper.

avocado combined with a vivid red will be plentiful.

A goodly number of hats shown featured the bulbous crown, some resembling a fish bowl, others with helmet effect and still others with the stinky brim borrowed from the male chapeau. Rough woven straw characterized many of the styles as well as the ever-feminine flounce was the bulbous crown worn with a scarf.

Evening dresses were short, bare shouldered, trimmed with little beads, or barring one shoulder with the other side coiling around the neck like a scarf.

Hats shown were by Ann Frank, Philadelphia milliner, who was sitting along with Mrs. Hattie Blackwell.

According to latest statistics, Madagascar has 5,637,601 inhabitants, of which 5,536,243 are Malagasy and 212,358 are foreigners. (ANP)

It's a buyer's market now

You choose from complete stocks

You get first choice from fresh, just-arrived, full ranges of H&M's 1963 summer tropicals. You choose from more for a more personal preference.

You beat the heat, avoid the crowds

You're ready for the first warm day. No zero hour shopping. No hot wait for alterations. We'll hold your suit for May 15th delivery. (or when you specify)

You're billed later...

Selections will be billed May 25—Due 1/3 June 10, July 10 and August 10. Also available 6 months budget account—Due in six monthly installments plus small service charge on unpaid balance.

McLEOD WATSON LANIER
311 Fayetteville St.