Hampton Students Up In Arms

HAMPTON, Va. — Scores of Negro students Monday gave a petition to Mayor George Bentley calling for an end to racial discrimination in city offices and complaining of police brutality.

Bentley met with 67 Negro students of Hampton Institute in City Council chambers while several hundred Negroes paraded in front of City Hall in an anti-segregation demonstration.

Bentley assured the Negroes the city would tolerate no form of brutality.

"If your claims are true the facts can be brought out in court," he said. Nine Negroes face a hearing April 10 on anti-trespass charges resulting from a sit-in demonstration at a drug store Saturday.

The Negroes charged that police had threatened demonstrators Saturday and Sunday with police dogs and showed favoritism by fraternizing with "agitators" who heckled the demonstrators.

Hero Braves Neuse To Save White Girl

Tragedy can always bring men to their knees, but courage can of times ally some of it, or at least make it a little easier to bear. That is what happened Sunday when Carl Pierce rescued 12-year-old Ann Prince, from the swirling waters of the Neuse River.

The little white girl had gone there with a family to enjoy the day on the banks of the river fishing and the spring weather, that Sunday afforded.

Witnesses to the rescuing and a drowning related how Ann fell from a sand bar and in no time her body was swept 125 feet. Pierce described her as looking like a doll, floating down the river.

There were others who were reported as having seen the girl going down stream, but did not make

Local Firms Extend Welcome

Delegates to the 82nd session of the North Carolina State Teachers Association will find themselves in different surroundings from those with which they are accustomed to being a part.

Delegates Plan Boycott Picket Line Scheduled

The big story coming out of the meeting of the North Carolina Teachers Association could easily be the fact that members of the organization are being asked to boycott Sears and Roebuck, due to the fact that the management and the company have been mum on an incident reported to have created racial disturbance.

According to interested persons and Dr. Charles A. Lyons, Jr., whose six-year-old daughter was said to have been "yanked" out of a rest room at Sears Roebuck Company's Cameron Village store Feb. 14, no word of apology has come from the management of the store or from any representative of the company.

Dr. Lyons is said to have sent the following letter to the management and is reported to have not received any reply up to Tuesday of this week.

The Manager
Sears Roebuck and Company
Cameron Village
Raleigh, North Carolina
Dear Sir:

This letter is written to call attention to and to express my deep concern over a humiliating incident which occurred in your store yesterday, Thursday, Feb. 14, 1963.

Guard To Select Members By Army Standards Only

It is believed that when the last reading of the law passed by the general assembly this week, repealing an old law that barred Negroes from becoming members of the National Guard, that another one of the discriminating barriers will fall.

It is to be remembered that there has been much discussion on the matter and Negroes have pointed out that if they have been called upon to take up arms to fight for the country they should be permitted to enjoy some of the benefits derived from being a member of the National Guard.

Adjutant General C. T. Bowers told The CAROLINIAN Wednesday that as soon as the proper information was sent to his office he would draft a directive and send it to the Commander-in-Chief of all units with the proper instructions as to how the law should be implemented.

He also said that any person who, in the opinion of the Commander-in-Chief, would make a good member but that his application would go through the proper channel and would be given the attention due under the rules set out by the U. S. Army.

The examination is prepared by the Army and is said to contain an intelligence test like any average school test. According to General Bowers one does not have to have previous military experience to qualify.

The repealing of the old law is said to have met the approval of practically all of the law makers and there has been little or no adverse reaction on the part of the general public.

TO SPEAK HERE—L. E. Austin, Editor-Publisher, Carolina Times, Durham, will be the principal speaker at a CORE-sponsored program, which will be held at First United Methodist Church, 3:30 p.m. Sunday. The meeting is being held in the interest of the drive to collect clothing.

State Elks In Drive For Votes

GOLDSBORO — The first part of an extensive drive to register Negroes in the eastern counties of the state will get underway here when the N. C. State Association of the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks of the World open its 1963 session at First African Baptist Church, May 5.

The registration drive is being sponsored by the Civil Liberties Department, headed by Alexander Barnes, veteran newspaperman, of Durham. L. E. Austin, editor, Carolina Times, Durham, will open the drive as he addresses the Civil Liberties meeting at 8 p. m.

The editor is expected to tell the Elks that for 100 years the Negro has waited for first-class citizenship and his patience has been abused and in many instances confused with the promise that it will eventually make him a first-class citizen.

Dr. A. R. Mosley who headed the department for a number of years and now pastor of Mt. Gi-

Rocky Mount Church Plans Rededication

ROCKY MOUNT — The Rev. D. L. Blakey, pastor of St. John AME Zion Church, along with the officers and members, is ready to rejoice in the fact that "With God All Things Are Possible." The congregation is planning to move into a modernly equipped sanctuary on or about April 21.

The spirit of the people was exemplified Sunday when more than $2,400.00 was reported as having been raised to aid in the completion and the buying of furniture.

The building has been under construction for a number of years and there were those who despaired of it ever being completed. The Rev. Blakey was able to corral the membership and to get the aid of the North Carolina Mutual Life Inurance Company and the project will soon be completed.

The edifice is designed in Gothic style and adds a touch of dignity and reverence to the community. It is located on the corner of Atlantic Avenue and Goldsboro St. The building will be air conditioned. It has an imposing sanctuary which will be equipped with modern church furniture including an organ and a piano.

The basement will be used for educational purposes and as a fellowship hall. There will be many class rooms that will serve to expand the Christian education program.

ASK YOUR PASTOR

Will you please ask your pastor has he read or heard about how pastors of churches are actively participating in our all out effort for freedom and equality in all parts of this country?

Beginning in Montgomery, Ala., these ministers endorsed and minister led demonstrations have been and are being carried on in every section of the United States. And what is more important, they are getting results. Segregated transportation, segregated recreational facilities, segregated public eating places, segregated schools and even segregated churches have become integrated because of the impact of the sustained efforts of these
