Jury Frees Man Held For Murder

All-White Panel Visits Scene Of Gastonia Crime

GASTONIA — An all-white jury found William Jess Reid innocent of the murder-robbery of a Belmont storekeeper August 14th.

The all-male jury returned the verdict at 12:30 a. m., Saturday after receiving the case at 8:30 p. m. Friday. The decision was handed in shortly after the jury requested and received permission to visit the murder scene.

Storekeeper C. P. Armstrong was found beaten and shot in the rear of his store in Belmont August 14th. Officers charged Reid with the crime.

Financial Status Of Shaw Told

Dr. Nelson Herbert Harris, Sr., interim president of Shaw University for the past 18 months, revealed last Friday that the institution is facing a financial emergency.

Shaw owes $190,000 in current indebtedness, Dr. Harris stated. This was viewed as being caused by going "in the red" a few thousand dollars each year for the past ten or twelve years.

Chartered in 1865, Shaw University is one of the oldest institutions of its calibre in the South. It will observe the 90th anniversary of its founding on Friday, Nov. 15, with special memorial services conducted at the grave of Dr. Henry Martin Tupper, Shaw's greatest benefactor and founder.

Presently enrolling 600 students, Shaw has trained some of the nation's most illustrious citizens, many of whom are now in top positions in this country and abroad.

One emergency measure, Dr. Harris stated, has been to appeal to alumni and officers, inquiring about the possibility of their making a gift to the school of the balance due them.

Reportedly about 50 per cent of the merchants have replied favorably.

Termining the situation as "grave" and an "emergency," Dr. Harris said that he informed the student body of the financial plight during a recent chapel session.

"If we can get out of debt," he said, "I think we can stay out of debt."

The annual operating budget of Shaw averages about $650,000, with about half of this amount coming from the students' fees. Students who live on campus pay about $900 each during the school year.

Also contributing to Shaw's income are: The American Baptist Convention, the United Negro College Fund, alumni, the North Carolina Baptist Convention and Negro Baptist churches around the state.

The last contribution from the UNCF amounted to $44,000, while Shaw alumni gave the university a total of $51,000 and is expected to give $100,000 during the Founder's Day observance, this year.

OVIA LEE HINTON ... to trial Nov. 21

Cop Says Local Man Hurt Him

Ovia Lee Hinton, 27, of K-3 Washington Terrace, was arrested by Raleigh police officers last Friday night on multiple charges, following a wreck on Oakwood Avenue.

Hinton, who stands about 5 feet tall and weighs about 125, was accused of assaulting an officer and resisting arrest on a charge of hit-and-run driving. He will face Raleigh City Court Judge Prelowe Winborne on

93 BOOTLEGGERS ON TRIAL HERE

Fines And Sentences Are Levied

Nearly 100 persons will come before City Court Judge Prelowe Winborne before the week is over, it was reported Tuesday as trials began for the 93 persons arrested late in October on liquor law violations by Wake County ABC officers in Raleigh and the county.

All of the defendants are Negroes, because the white undercover agents were available, said an official of the ABC Board when interviewed by a CAROLINIAN newsman shortly after the mass arrests.

The regular docket for the day was cleared, except those resulting from wide-spread liquor crack-downs.

Over 500 Attend Boy Scout Fete

RALEIGH — Over 500 Scout leaders and parents braved the rain last Wednesday night to attend the Wake Division Annual Recognition Dinner at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium. The Rev. J. Oscar McCloud, Wake chairman, presided.

Mayor James W. Reid saluted the unit leaders present. Dr. Nelson H. Harris, interim president, Shaw University, conducted a special memorial to the late Rev. J. W. Jones, who was an outstanding Scout leader.

Dr. Charles A. Lyons and E. L. Raiford presented Training and Round-up Awards. The 1964 officers were:

Achievement Of County's 4-H'ers Noted

More than 200 Wake County 4-H members and Community 4-H Leaders were in attendance at the Annual County-wide 4-H Achievement Day Program held at Shaw University, Raleigh, recently. The program was presided over by Cathel Scott of the Friendship 4-H Club. The group was welcomed by Dr. N. H. Harris, interim president.

Seventy-three 4-H boys and girls received citations and awards for having done outstanding project work during the 1963 club year.

The main address was given by Harold H. Webb, Science Education Consultant, N. C. Department of Public Instruction. Mr. Webb reminded his

"NO APPLE FOR TEACHER TODAY" — Her apple for the teacher clutched behind her back, this little girl watches in bewilderment as civil rights pickets block her entrance to the Franklin Elementary School in Chester, Pa., last week. More than 250 demonstrators, both white and colored, turned back students as they attempted to enter the all-Negro School, which is unsafe, according to the pickets. (UPI PHOTO).

Jackie Robinson New President Of Nation's 10 Million Churchmen

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (ANP) — Jackie Robinson, business executive and former baseball star, last week was unanimously elected to a three-year term as president of United Church Men, a nationwide agency of the National Council of Churches at the UCM annual board meeting at University Center here.

Robinson succeeds William M. Fox, of Connellsville, Pa., as president of the UCM, which serves an estimated 10 million Protestant and Orthodox laymen. His term begins Jan. 1, 1964.

It was the second high church honor accorded Robinson this year. A layman in the United Church of Christ, Jackie earlier this year was awarded that denomination's "Churchmanship Award" for his untiring efforts on behalf of racial justice.

Now vice-president in charge of personnel of the Chock Full O'Nuts restaurant chain with headquarters in New York City, Robinson in 1962 became the first Negro to be elected to baseball's coveted Hall of Fame. He was elected the first year he became eligible for the honor.

Robinson is believed to be the first Negro to head the UCM. However, winning "first" is not new to him. He was also the

Will Decide Action At Thurs. Meet

ALTHOUGH it was not definitely decided at a meeting of the Raleigh Citizens Association last Thursday night, it is believed that the body will fully support the Bond Issue, involving $14,000,000, when the members again convene at the new Chavis Heights Recreation Center Thursday night at this week.

Reginald Robinson of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee of Atlanta Ga., reported that an all-out effort in voter registration is now underway in Raleigh.

J. J. Sansom, chairman of the political action committee, explained to the audience the soundness of endorsing the issue as it is expected to have a long-range effect that will directly affect the Negro.

City Councilman John W. Winters spoke in favor of the issue and proceeded to answer questions asked by many. He said if the election results are favorable, a 50 per cent levy will be imposed on local and county citizens amounting to a slight increase of property evaluations.

PATROL LADY STRICKEN HERE

Mrs. Sarah M. Smith of 508 S. Swain Street, who has been a school patrol lady here for a number of years, became dizzy and fainted at her post early Wednesday morning and was rushed to Wake Memorial Hospital.

Officials at the hospital described Mrs. Smith's condition as "fair," shortly after she was admitted. Her physician, Dr. Ernest Paige, was not available for comment, but it was reliably reported that he has ordered several tests made to determine the cause of Mrs. Smith's condition.

She was taken to the hospital by ambulance after being discovered by Lt. Cecil Price of the Raleigh Police Dept.'s traffic division.

She directed traffic during school hours at the corner of S. East and E. Lenoir Streets.

ATTORNEY PAUL ZUBER ... seeks Presidency

P. Zuber Entering Primary

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Attorney Paul Zuber, 37, declared here Sunday night that he will enter the New Hampshire Presidential primary as an independent candidate and begin his campaigning next month.

If Zuber carries through his plans, he will become the first announced Negro for the Presidency of the United States in American history. Several years ago, however, a Negro man sought the Vice-Presidency. Zuber stated that he wants to provide a forum for the expressions of Negroes' views.

When the attorney received word that Alabama Governor George C. Wallace, an avowed segregationist, has also announced that he plans to enter the primary as an independent candidate, he said, "I would gladly welcome debate with Governor Wallace."

A graduate of Brown University and a Republican, Zuber said he decided to enter the primary on his return from Chicago last week.

"While in Chicago, I saw indications of a serious racial explosion erupting in this country, unless the young Negro is convinced that his just demands are being considered by both major political parties," Mr. Zuber stated.

Declaring that he was not being backed by the new Negro Civil Rights party, Freedom Now, the lawyer stated: "I am entering the president race as an independent

JOHN SIMPSON SPIVEY ... veteran educator buried

J. Spivey, Educator, Eulogized

FAYETTEVILLE — Funeral services for John Simpson Spivey, an educator in Cumberland and Harnett Counties for the past 33 years, were conducted here Saturday at 3 p. m. at the First Baptist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Chaney R. Edwards, officiating. The deceased was an active member of First Baptist.

A native of Youngsville in Wake County, Mr. Spivey succumbed at his home here Thursday morning.

He received his education in Franklin County and was graduated from the Franklin Christian College. Continuing his education, Spivey obtained an A. B. degree at Shaw University, Raleigh; the M. A. degree at the University of Michigan; and did further study at Columbia University, New York City.

He began his school career in 1930 as principal of the Shawtown High School, Lillington. For several years, he also served as supervisor of Harnett County Negro

CHURCH AND STATE TOGETHERNESS—There might be some trouble in some church circles about the separation of church and state, but there seems to be no difference here as Bishop R. L. Jones, 2nd Episcopal District, A.M.E. Zion Church, greets N. C. Governor Terry Sanford, just before the Tar Heel governor addressed an assembly of the Central North Carolina Conference, held in Durham recently.
