Barnett "Apes" Wallace Says Gov't Transported Meredith

JACKSON, Miss. (ANP) — A Civil rights leader, commenting on Gov. Ross B. Barnett's charge that the Justice Department provided an automobile for the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in the Alabama case, the Justice Department admitted that an auto was made available for transporting Dr. King from Birmingham to Selma but stressed that the action was a violation of policy, and resulted in the dismissal of a Negro staff attorney who was responsible.

White Teens Burn Cafe; It Hired Negroes

JACKSON, Miss. (ANP) — Two white teen-agers set fire to a restaurant here last week, police said, because the operator hired Negroes as car hops and waitresses. A passerby notified flames at Romonoff's Drive In, and notified firemen. Damage was minor. Chief of Detectives M. B. Pierce said the two boys were arrested a few hours later and confessed. Pierce identified one of the youngsters as William Carl Henderson, 19. The other, age 16, was not identified. Pierce said the pair told Detective Sgts. Wesley Reeves and Joe Reester they slipped a note under the restaurant door explaining "You have Negro car hops and Negro waitresses and that is why we are burning you," then poured one-half gallon of gasoline onto a wall and set it afire. A passerby saw the pair flee in a truck and called firemen. After the blaze was extinguished and two empty motor oil cans were found nearby, Pierce said. Officers Tommy Schooley and Oliver McAlpine remembered they had noticed two youngsters buying gas and dumping it into oil cans an hour earlier.

Brimmer At Shaw: Adult Help Can Reduce School "Dropout" Toll

College students should look at the sort of industry where new opportunities are emerging and at a faster level than in the past. Dr. Andrew F. Brimmer advised Shaw University students in an address Friday, November 22. Speaking on "The Expanding Horizon of Job Opportunities," Dr. Brimmer gave a forecast of the world 10 to 12 years from now relative to opportunities for professional and non professional people. He stated that the total population in the U. S. will reach approximately 210 million by 1968 and about 226 million by 1975. Most of the population increase during the 1960's will be in the working age group compared to a more sizeable increase during the 1960's of those 14 years and younger. Therefore the labor force growth will be greater than ever before in this decade. A liberal arts education is important in addition to the pure sciences, with stress in participating in on the job training, he suggested. A better education will be more important than ever because of the increase in automation. College students, while getting a liberal arts education should also prepare for technical jobs. Dr. Nelson H. Harris, interim president of Shaw University presided. The speaker was introduced by W. J. Kennedy III.

Adult Help Can Reduce School "Dropout" Toll

Most of the million-plus, bewildered, unhappy boys who blight their futures by dropping out of school every year could be saved with some simple adult help, says Arthur Q. Maisel. In a December Reader's Digest article, "They Help Boys Want to be Educated," Maisel offers virtually a blueprint for other community groups and organizations, as he tells the heartening achievements of the Chicago Boys Clubs in turning youngsters back to their books and success. Last year the Chicago Boys Clubs persuaded 1,200 youths to stay in high school or return and get their diplomas. Many were inspired to go on to college careers. It was done with a program of first, spotting early the potential drop-outs among their 17,000 members, talking with them man-to-man and overcoming the barriers that were frustrating the boys. At the root of most dropouts, says Maisel, is lack of understanding, and adverse home and neighborhood conditions. In some Chicago areas, six out of ten youngsters never finish school. Local businessmen volunteer their help in persuading the boys to abandon patterns of unambitiousness and failure. Once the boys catch

Police Positive White Man Who Accused Negroes Set Self Afire

ATLANTA (ANP) — A 39-year-old man who reported that Negro youths attempted to burn him actually set his own clothing on fire unintentionally authorities said last week. Lt. K. G. Davis of the Atlanta fire department arson squad said investigation showed the victim, William Lanigan, had been drinking heavily before the incident the night of Nov. 11. Friends left him propped up at the rear of a building to sober up, Davis and detective M. H. Medert of the police homicide squad reported. A witness saw Lanigan with a cigarette in his mouth shortly before his clothing caught fire, said Davis. Two burned books of matches were found stuck together at the scene, indicating they had flared up together, Medert said. "The state crime laboratory found no indication of flammable fluids on what remained of his clothing," Medert said, "and the only conclusion was that he accidentally set himself on fire. Meanwhile, Lanigan remained in poor condition at Grady hospital."
