85c Hourly Minimum Wage Was Effective January 1st.

Wages of an estimated 35,000 of North Carolina's lowest paid workers will be increased on January 1, 1968, when 85 cents an hour becomes the legal minimum in North Carolina, State Labor Commissioner Frank Crane said last week.

The 10-cent hike in the State's Minimum Wage Law was enacted by the 1963 General Assembly. As originally passed by the 1959 General Assembly, the law required a 75-cent hourly minimum. The 75-cent rate has been in effect for the last four years: 1960-1963.

Commissioner Crane said the

Yes, We All Talk

BY MARCUS H. BOULWARE

LECTURE-FORUM
For the proper decorum in a lecture-forum we wish to mention some of the rules. A lecture-forum is a form of discussion in which a lecturer gives a talk on some topic under the guidance of a moderator. Following the lecture there is a discussion period during which the members of the audience ask the speaker questions and often the listeners state opinions.

Once, when I was teaching at a certain college, the late Walter White, then executive secretary of the NAACP, gave a lecture on the topic "Can America Survive Racial Prejudice?" He spoke for 45 minutes, and then the presiding officer received questions from the audience. The discussion period was indeed stimulating, and the moderator had to close this period when there were no less than twenty people desiring to ask questions.

During a forum period, the members of the audience should rise and address the moderator, and then state their questions. If the audience is large, the questioner should give his name first and next state his question. READER: For my free discussion pamphlet, send two stamps, and a self-addressed, long business envelope to Dr. Marcus H. ## With Trailways: Win Fair Job Pact

NEW YORK—Safeway Trailways, the unit of National Trailways operating between New York and Washington, will hire nine drivers, six ticket agents, six mechanics and five information girls from minority racial groups by next spring in New York City.

This specific first step is spelled-out in an agreement negotiated between Norman Hill, Allan Hoffman and Velma Hill of CORE and Marvin Walsh, executive vice-president of the company. At the same time the company agreed to take similar steps at the terminals outside of New York City.

To implement this provision, CORE Program Director Norman Hill called upon CORE groups in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington "to investigate the employment pattern in all categories at the Trailways terminal in your city and to follow through with local Trailways management."

Another provision of the agreement is for immediate upgrading and promotion for present minority group employees in New York Terminal.

BENNETT TUTORS AWARDED GRANTS

GREENSBORO—Two members of the Bennett College faculty have been awarded modest research grants by the committee on faculty research of the Piedmont University Center, of Winston-Salem, it was announced this week. Dr. F. L. Grandison, professor of psychology, was awarded $250 to assist in his study of "The Level of Manifest Anxiety and Its Relationship to Student Performance." Mrs. Isabelle Deskins, associate professor of English and business education, was granted $75 for a study of "The Role of the Executive in Selected North Carolina Cities."

Twenty projects were approved. Under the program, the center provides one-half of each grant, with the participating colleges providing the other half.

statute applies to establishments employing four or more workers in any pay period. The Attorney General has ruled that only non-exempt workers may be counted in establishing coverage.

Crane pointed out that the law, as further amended by the 1960 General Assembly, specifies that a "husband, wife, son, daughter or parent of the employer shall not be enumerated in determining the number of persons employed."
